"MONEY OR YOUR LIFE"

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By Stanley

ED WURGLER, WHO DELIVERS HIS WASHINGS FOR HIS WIFE, WAS SEEN GOING DOWN MAIN STREET JUST A FEW FEET AHEAD OF MRS. WURGLER AND SOME LOOSE HARDWARES.

CANADA SHOWED DEEP SORROW

J. H. Peare Says English Flags at Half Mast Everywhere He Went.

That Canada felt deeply the death of President Harding is explained by J. H. Peare, who has just returned from the international convention of Knights of Columbus at Montreal, Canada.

Mr. Peare returned home on the Canadian Pacific railroad and met many tourists who were taking advantage of the northern route. He was impressed with remarkable scenery on that railroad and also with the engineering feats marking its construction.

While not particularly interested in the way Montreal handles her liquor Mr. Peare observed that the provincial government handles its sale. He said in one station five windows were working hard to accommodate the long line of people buying liquors from the government.

Our Government Best. But there is no comparison with Canada and Uncle Sam's country," said Mr. Peare. "Even the native Canadians will admit this fact. They point to the fact that in 1776 the two countries were on a par. The United States adopted its own form of government and Canada remained with the king of England.

In the Oregon party who attended the K. C. convention were J. H. Peare of La Grande, J. P. Hanley and Frank Loneragan of Portland, W. P. O'Brien of Astoria, J. E. Franzosa of Eugene. When the convention adjourned, Mr. O'Brien took his departure for a visit to relatives in Old Ireland.

While in the east Mr. Peare called on factories dealing in his line of merchandise and today stated that he had secured a number of factory connections which would give his town relationship with the man who makes his goods than he had ever had before.

POPULAR TIRE MAKER IS HERE

Alfred A. Aya, Manager of the C. T. C. Tire Company, Visits Territory.

"I have had my lesson," said Alfred A. Aya, manager of the Columbia Tire company of Portland as he unfolded his long legs stepping onto Eastern Oregon soil at La Grande.

"Yes, I have had my lesson on Oregon," he continued. "For I was raised down in Willamette valley and have never roamed around the state very much. This trip convinces me that Oregon is so much better and bigger than I had ever thought it was that really I believe I should get a text book on geography and begin studying that branch of learning all over again."

Mr. Aya just completed several thousand miles over the Crater Lake and Harney country with his family and now he comes into extreme Eastern Oregon to size up for himself the possibility of tire consumption in this part of the state.

Today he left with Harris French, Eastern Oregon representative of the company, and they will visit many of the Oregon and Idaho towns. "But say," said Mr. Aya never forgetting his business, "don't overlook that C. T. C. tire we are making. Down at Fossil they put them on stages running over crushed rock road and I thought the tires were making a good record, and they are. But right out of La Grande I have found C. T. C. tires on the Cadillac car running to Joseph over the macadam highway which have already done 15,000 miles and are still going. Oh, we've got the world beat on this tire game and don't forget it."

1500 Drive to Beaches. NORTH BEND, ORE., Aug. 21.—Nearly 1500 automobiles drove to the beaches today, for the first time the Charleston bay bridge has been opened in 3 1/2 months. The day was ideal and the ocean was fine for bathing. About 50 cars went to Seven boys road, which leads to Charleston and took Elks to a fraternal picnic at Bandon. Several hundred were bathing at Bastendorff beach during the day.
