Antarctic Expedition To Seek Historical Data

AUSTIN, TEX., (A. P.)—What is claimed to be the longest and most extensive natural history expedition ever undertaken will be started in September under the direction of George Finlay Simmons, Texas naturalist. The expedition, which is sponsored by the Cleveland Museum of Natural History, will cover approximately 25,000 miles and will be in progress for two years. The expedition will leave New London, Conn., early in September on a specially equipped schooner, commanded by George Conroy, who commanded the McMillan Relief Expedition in 1917. The party will visit many volcanic islands and will regions in the Antarctic and Indian oceans. After leaving New London, the first landing of the expedition will be St. Paul rocks off the coast of Brazil. From there the course will lead directly south into the land of the Antarctic. Investigations will be made and specimens of bird and other life collected on the South Georgia Island, Sandwich and Latter Islands. The last group is covered with ice and snow throughout the year and frequently visited by volcanic eruptions, it is stated. After visiting several groups of islands in the Antarctic region, the party will cross to Cape Town, Africa. The winter season will be spent in Africa. Expeditions will be made into the inland, along the west African coast and visits to St. Helena and Ascension Islands in the middle Atlantic. On approach of the Arctic summer, the naturalists will go into the southern part of the Indian ocean. Life on the coast, Desolation and Kororua Islands will be studied. An effort will be made to get specimens of the giant sea elephant of the Antarctic region. The expedition's party will include more than fifty recognized naturalists. Director Simmons recently was named an curator of birds and mammals of the Cleveland Museum. He

Mrs. Wilson Takes Trip.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the former president, left Washington Sunday night for a week's visit with friends in New England, which, with the exception of a 24-hour trip to New York last spring, is the first time she has left her husband's side to go out of the city since the beginning of his illness nearly four years ago. Her departure was seen as further evidence of progress in Mr. Wilson's condition. Accompanied by a friend, Mrs. Wilson left for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin at Mattapoisett, Mass. Mr. Hamlin is a member of the federal reserve board.

The water is speaking of ice and good, palatable drinking water—and North Powder has plenty of both. The city might even be described usually as a city of ice and good water.

This well is of two-inch bore and gives a flow of eight gallons of water per minute when first drilled—and it give practically that flow today. Grande Ronde Valley and Union county in general have often been spoken of as their artesian wells; but North Powder has it on any other town in the county in that respect. No better wells are located in entire Eastern Oregon and even though the city is well supplied with ice, the owners of the artesian wells may sit back and grin at the ice-man—because the water from his well is cool enough for refrigerating purposes without ice.
