They don't answer

When the telephone operator says, "They don't answer," it is after a sincere endeavor to get your party. She cannot compel an answer.

The party called may be unwilling to leave a particular household duty—may be in another part of the home beyond closed doors—may be marketing—may be slow in answering. Strange, but true, calls are sometimes despatched unanswered. Telephone records show that the great majority of "don't answer" reports come from residence calls. In business where it is a matter of dollars and cents, it is always the assigned duty of some one to be within sound of the telephone bell.

"They don't answer" is the statement of a situation absolutely beyond the control of the telephone operator.
