SHERR'S Last Day

Metro's "Youth to Youth" Proves Fine Entertainment.

A thoroughly entertaining photoplay entitled "Youth to Youth" was seen for the first time yesterday at the Metro Theatre. It combines all the elements which make a popular motion picture, and should have a wide appeal wherever it is shown.

"Youth to Youth" is the first of a new series of Metro films, in which special stories by noted writers are interpreted by a carefully selected cast of screen favorites, headed by Clara Hill Dove. A good story, a good cast and a good director have combined to produce an exceptionally interesting picture.

The story by Hulbert Pontner is concerned with the plight of a beautiful musical comedy star, whom all New York worships. She has her career suddenly and mysteriously disrupted after she overhears a conversation in which she is depicted as having more than friendly relations with her wealthy promoter. She accepts a position with a small troupe of barnstorming players under an assumed name, and falls in love with a young farmer whom she meets while playing at a small rural town.

It is the young man's ambition for the actress which almost ruins her happiness. The mysterious disappearance is explained, and unlooked for complications set in which cause the continued bliss of the young lovers.

Hill Dove as the actress was at all times beautiful to behold, and she portrayed the character with genuine skill and understanding. The feminine contingent in the audience is certain to enjoy the gorgeous costumes which she wears in her early scenes in the picture.

The cast which Emile Chautard has made his direction number players of established screen reputations. Chief among these are Charles Lamm, who is seen as the young farmer, and sweetheart of Eve, the actress; Zora Pitts, who after an absence of some time, returns to her screen business of making people smile; Chapman, one of the most distinguished character actresses on the screen; Sylvia Ashton, Noah Berry, Mabel Van Burgh, Paul Jeffers, Harlowe Kishland, Lavine MacIntosh, Lincoln Steadman, Jack Gardner, Carl Gerard and others.

"ASK THE ENVELOPE" AND KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT

It's a dead certainty that any time you eat a meal of round beef and vegetables you're furnished your system with the sort of ingredients that make for muscle and brawn. It's also a dead certainty that when you're lapped up a few cups of coffee, and eaten a mysterious dinner pie, you'll know what caused you to believe, in a personal devil and started the demand for pain killer. It all depends on what you feed your system, just the same, and it depends upon what kind of ingredients a dealer chooses to feed his business. Your used cars will break any dealer. Good used cars, properly sold, will make friends and an enviable reputation for the dealer who selects wisely his stock. That our bunch,

Same Old Story But a Good One. Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country and has been told and related by thousands of others, as follows: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago and a few doses of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles."—adv.
