Famous French Recipes

Famous French Recipes

(By Alice Langhler)
Peach Pudding.
 Paris, (I.N.S.)—The French housewife makes a peach pudding to replace our peach cobbler.

Choose ripe but firm fruit. Plunge into boiling water for a few minutes and then peel. Separate into halves and cut slices of bread the same size as the fruit. Place the half of the peach on each slice of bread. Sprinkle plentifully with sugar and dot with large lumps of butter.

Bake in a moderate oven and taste often with the syrup.

Serve in a large sauce bowl with the juice.

Miss McCluskey started for home Monday night. Miss Miller left Wednesday and after spending a day in Portland with her sister Amy, she will go to Corvallis, where both girls will again take up their studies at the O. A. C.

Blouses Really

Copyright by M.C. Callis
 New blouses may be new either in style or in material—preferably both. The severe blouse sketched with a row of buttons from neck to waist is very good—especially if made of velvet and worn with a collar and cuffs of real lace.

A Remarkable Record.
 Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for colds, croup and whooping cough for almost half a century and has constantly grown in favor and popularity as its good qualities became better known. It is the standard and main reliance for these diseases in thousands of homes. The facts that it can always be depended upon and is safe and pleasant to take are greatly in its favor when it is wanted for children.—Adv.
 Another reason why there were so many horn leaders in the old days was because there were so many horn followers.
 When circumstance parks one near a courting couple, one wishes to be deaf and dumb as well as blind.

Fashion Notes

Antiques for Boudoir.
 Paris.—Dainty antique furnishings are the proper thing for the boudoir now. The Parisienne is going in for small dress mirrors elaborately mounted in little frames, for graceful old flacons, and for hand mirrors of ancient shape and decoration.

More Bead Used.
 Paris.—Trotteur frocks in the season's twill and wool fabrics today are trimmed more and more with bead. This is usually put on in a severely tailored fashion, though the bead itself is as elaborate and varied as you please.

On Day Time Gowns Now.
 London.—The elaborate decorations seen on evening gowns and cloaks now have been transferred to day time wear in long necklaces. These are sometimes wholly of little brilliants, but usually of brilliants alternated with vivid beads.

Some Wide Hats.
 London.—Today when the hat is anything but clothe—which is not often—it does not broaden very much. There are, however, many fairly wide brimmed restaurant hats of black velvet, trimmed with uncurled black ostrich stuffing in all directions.

Oxhead Bead Necklaces.
 New York.—Oxhead bead necklaces in a lightweight wood with a satiny finish are among the new ornaments shown here today. They originated in Czechoslovakia and are appearing in their beauty.

Oyster White Bridal Gown.
 New York.—A bridal gown just designed here is of oyster white. The upper part is a perfectly plain piece of velvet with a slightly rounded neck. At the hips this velvet flows into a satin skirt. Even the veil of net and lace is in the same oyster shade.

Flask for Vanity Case.
 New York.—One fitting for a vanity case shown here today is the smallest of perfume flasks—meant, no doubt, for holding medicine. It is in the lapis enamel, so popular nowadays, and hardly larger than one of the big old-fashioned vials our grandfathers carried.

RAIN BENEFITS PASTURE LAND

LADY CANYON, (SPECIAL) The recent rain stopped the thrashing machine, but did much good to pastures, and lasting only a short time the thrashing is again in progress. The grain in this vicinity is giving a better yield than was expected which is indeed gratifying to the farmer.

Quite a number of people from this neighborhood attended the Round-Up at Pendleton. Mr. and Mrs. William Sherwood, Cecil and Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Beale and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. Matot, G. Simmons, Miss Etta Dunton and Marion Miller were among those present.

Mrs. A. E. Debbler is quite ill at her home in town. Mrs. Feibler is well and favorably known in this locality having lived here in former years and her many friends are anxious to hear that she is improving.

Mrs. Ben Cotner, Mrs. Edith Austin and son, Robert, Walter Feibler, and Mr. and Mrs. William Sherwood attended the County Fair at Rain Friday.

D. W. Miller drove to Hebland Sunday his daughter, Ella and Miss Dorothy McCluskey of Corvallis, returned with him in the evening, the girls have been camping there and working in the fruit this year.
