'APPLE JACK GULCH' SOON

Apple Jack Gulch, that annual event that is staged at Imbler by the Imbler American Legion post for the purpose of raising funds for the Imbler kiddies Christmas tree, will be held at Imbler on the evenings of October 12 and 13, according to announcement today.

This year's celebration will be the second annual one, the affair being inaugurated last year for the first time with splendid success. Dancing, with music by Laney's orchestra, plenty of games and pastimes reminiscent of the days of '49, and a good time in general is promised by the Imbler boys.

Says Negro Women Urge Exodus to the North

CHICAGO (AP)—That negro women, striving for better condition for themselves and their husbands, and better educational and other advantages for their children, are behind the migration of southern negroes from the plantations to the northern cities, is the conclusion of the Rev. Dr. W. A. C. Hughes, superintendent of the department of negro work of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Dr. Hughes, himself of negro blood, has made a wide study of the conditions and reasons causing the southern negroes to migrate to the cities and factories of the north.

"Behind the industrious, hard-working negro man in this present migration, is the negro wife and mother," says Dr. Hughes. "The constant dread that a son or a husband will say 'too much' is the thing that is wearing threadbare the nerves of the negro woman of the south. Added to this is the lack of opportunity for her child, and she is the driving power of the present movement from the south."

Illinois seems to be the favored locality, according to Dr. Hughes. "More than 100,000 negroes have left 11,000 farms in Georgia alone," he declared. "A late survey of negro congregations in rural communities of the Atlanta conference substantiates the estimate that 2,500 negroes have left Ilkey county alone. W. W. Long of Clemson college has found that 50,000 negroes had left 41 counties. The delta regions of Mississippi lost 12,000 workmen in the last six months of 1922.

Dr. Hughes has found many cases of team-work on the part of impoverished negroes who wanted to go north. By pooling their resources a number send one or two of their group north, and these in turn send most of their wages back to bring up the remainder.

Small Fur Neckler to Be Vogue This Winter

LONDON, (INS)—The magnificent fur stoles and fur capes popular with women for so many seasons are likely to be replaced this Winter by small fur necklets, according to Dame Fashion's decree.

The necklets will be small but of selected and expensive skins. Opossum seems to be "the" fashionable skin most in demand, but furriers report an ever-increasing demand for the popular "camouflaged" rabbit skin.

M'Graw, Huggins Again to Fight for Supremacy

Two Famous Managers to Pit Prowess of Their Teams for the World Series Battle.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.
International News Service Editor.

Huggins, the dictator and the student. They will bandy wits over a world's series strategy board for the third successive year this Fall and the outcome of this mental duello will be an abiding factor in the final returns.

For two straight years McGraw has sent what was said to be an inferior team into the series. Yet the Giants won over the Yankees both times in a most convincing manner. McGraw was the answer.

He sat in the Giant dugout and directed every move his men made, except those that required split-second action. He outguessed Huggins in the selection of pitchers and he seemed to be the unseen force that made his men outsmart the Yanks in the field, on the bases and at the plate itself. They were McGraw made victories, in other words.

And what of Huggins? In 'n's warped, little was he made to outstanding mistakes worthy of mention. Yet h's pitchers failed where McGraw's came through. h's base runners were guilty of mistakes and McGraw's made home, his batters failed in a pinch and McGraw's did not.

Huggins Was Blamed.

One could hardly blame Huggins for mental and mechanical failures on the part of his outfit, but many did. The public must have a victim for every tragedy, and Huggins was the unanimous nomination of the second-guessers. It was simply a case of McGraw's men playing championship baseball and Huggins' ranging down around the Class AA variety. Huggins, of course, was forced to accept the blame.

For the opening game of this year's series it is the general idea that Huggins will do well to select Bob Shawkey as his pitcher. For two successive years he has overlooked Shawkey in his early calculations. As a result he hasn't got much in the way of returns from the best "money" pitcher in the outfit. The latter can be figured to win at least one of any two games he starts in an important series, and it is about time that Huggins made the most of that particular situation. He probably will.

McGraw's choice, if any, is a matter of chance. He has many ordinary pitchers, few good ones. If John Scott is right he will send the Carolinian out for the opening game. Scott very possibly has the Indian sign on the Yanks as a direct result of the spectacular performance he turned in against them in last year's series, and, in addition, he seems to have as much reliability as any pitcher on the ball club.

Bancroft to Rule.

On the field McGraw will delegate Dave Bancroft, his captain to direct the play of the Giants. Bancroft, in the opinion of the writer, is the best shortstop in baseball, and beyond that he is the brains of the Giant infield. McGraw's faith will not be misplaced.

Everett Scott will probably act as captain of the Yankees for the series. They have had no field leader since George H. Ruth, the well-known left-fielder, was reduced to the ranks by decree of Ban Johnson but if Scott is chosen the direction of the club on the field will be in able hands. He is a smart ball player, but slightly passe in spite of the fact that he holds all records for continuous service, 1,140 games.

McGraw or Huggins, John Scott or Shawkey, Bancroft or Everett Scott? The succeeding week will tell.

BOISE HIGH READY FOR BAKER BATTLE

BOISE—Boise high school's football team will wind up its training for the game with the strong eleven from Baker Saturday with a signal practice tonight. Coach Kahm while not overconfident as to the outcome of Saturday's battle, said Thursday that his men were in as good condition as could be expected after three weeks' training.

Kahm has been putting the squad through light defensive scrimmage in the last few practices, refraining from the heavy work for fear of injuries to the players. Some of the players have received minor injuries but not of such a nature as to keep them out of the coming battle.

The high school second team left this morning for Emmett where it will engage the first team of that school in a game this afternoon. Assistant Coach "Beth" Freer accompanied the eleven.

No information has been received concerning the weights of the Baker gridders, but they will have to be far above the average high school athletes in size to compare with Coach Kahm's aggregation. The average weight of which for the line will be around 175, and for the backfield, 165.

Boise high school players will average near the following weights: Backfield—Robins, 155; Quinter, 145; Biggs, 170, and Lesdernell, 140. Linemen—T. Robinson, 165; DeMutt, 150; F. Robinson, 170; Small, 170; Brace 182; Gilliam, 165; Cady, 190; Hawe 160; Wing, 186; Ratter, 165; Nibler, 155, and Tucker, 170.

Speaker Breaks Record.

ST. LOUIS (By the Associated Press)—Tris Speaker of the Cleveland Indians shattered a record of 24 years when he drove out his 57th two bagger of the season in the seventh inning of Thursday's game with St. Louis. The previous record of 56 two base hits in one season was made by Ed Delehanty, of Philadelphia, in 1899. Speaker also hit a home run and two singles out of four times up.

Papyrus, England's Champion 3-Year-Old, Arrives in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Papyrus, England's champion three year old, which will race an American horse in the $100,000 international race October 20, is said to be the happiest, friendliest animal ever to appear in Belmont Park. Papyrus makes friends with everyone.

BAIRIE K. O.'D IN ENTERPRISE BOUT

According to reports received from Enterprise, Bus Bairie, weighing in at 124½ pounds, was knocked out by his opponent at the end of the second round in the main event of a boxing card staged at Enterprise last evening. Bus was floored but was saved by the bell but was unable to come back at the start of the third round.

Bairie was supposed to fight Frankie Webb, of Portland, but rumor has it that the fighter who faced him was not Frankie Webb but was Johnny Trambitas, one of the cleverest men on the coast.

Lewis Beats Burns.

LONDON (AP)—Ted "Kid" Lewis Thursday night defeated Frankie Burns the Australian middleweight, on points in a 20-round return contest at Premierland, London. Lewis knocked out Burns last year.
