Lloyd George Urges Pledge With Germany

"Until European prosperity is restored, that continent cannot be relied upon as a customer for world products.
"What is the matter with Europe? Enthusiasm, Europe is exhausted after the most terrible struggle the continent ever passed through. Between 10 and 15 millions of her picked young men were slaughtered on the battlefield. Many more died of the pestilence which are the gruesome partners of war. Twenty millions at least of their best men have been maimed and have become a burden on the resources of others."
After discussing briefly England's part in the World war and proclaiming England as the savior of Europe from anarchy many times, stating that in all of the European troubles the English has been on the side of justice, Lloyd George plunged into the question of reparations.

Gives British View.
"What is the British attitude toward this limited but all important question of reparations? It is this: That Germany ought to pay to the limit of her capacity.

MISS WALDROFF GIVEN LOVELY ROBE BY ELKS

night was a complete success in every way may be ascertained today by merely questioning anyone that was present. The affair is invaluable in the affirmative—with emphasis.

Program for Tonight.

As last night, the parade at 7:25 o'clock will precede the opening of the doors at eight o'clock, at which time the games will be opened. At 8:30 o'clock dancing will begin and continue until 11:30 o'clock, during which time the Kewpie wheel will be active. Loney's orchestra furnished the music Wednesday night and tonight Olson's orchestra will dance. As the plans now stand dancing will begin Friday night at nine o'clock and continue until midnight and on Saturday night dancing will begin at eight o'clock and continue until midnight.

Prizes Drawing Many.

Much interest was manifested last evening in the giving away of the Elks robe. Tonight a lunch buffet consisting of two silver thermos bottles with a case, will be the prize. Tomorrow evening a camera will be presented to some one and on the closing night, an electric percolator, with sugar bowl and creamer, will be the prize given to the person holding the most "bones." The attendance prize Saturday night will be a combination electric grill.

BONUS, KLAN DIVIDE LEGION END 3RD DAY

ters pertaining to politics, religion and industry. This was the first break in a situation which legion officials admitted was threatening the very existence of the legion as an active organization.

Will Fight It Out.

Michigan delegates stated that they would carry the fight to the floor of the convention to force through the resolution drawn up by James E. Hunt of Mount Pleasant, Mich., in which the legion will be called upon Thursday or Friday to renounce the klan as "un-American in fact" and "contrary to the very principles for which the American Legion stands."

The formation of an anti-bonus league here dispelled the hope that the compensation committee would finally work out a resolution in committee that would be acceptable to the entire convention, legion officials stated Wednesday night. The anti-bonus organization selected Lt. Commander William C. Van Antwerp of San Francisco as chairman, and Lt. Edward H. Clarke, Jr. as secretary. Mr. Van Antwerp is a member of the national advisory council of the American Legion.

War Declared on Bonus.

"For the disabled, however; for the able bodied, nothing," will be the demand of the anti-bonus faction, Mr. Van Antwerp stated. "That is the slogan for ex-service men."
"The anti-bonus league, which is now organized, is actively functioning in 25 states. We are opposed to the granting of any form of bonus to able bodied ex-service men on the ground that to serve one's country in time of war is a privilege as well as a duty and to seek a material reward therefore is an act repugnant to the spirit of true patriotism and a violation of the fundamental principles of citizenship.

The group of ex-service men who have repeatedly and persistently represented to congress and the public that the veterans of the country are united in their demand for a bonus are by no means stating the facts."

MRS. THOMAS HULME DEAD

plumbers.

An account of the accident that resulted in Mrs. Hulme's death, published in the Oregonian, follows: A storm of wind and rain that swept the Pacific northwest country Monday night and yesterday caused three deaths and did a large amount of damage. One of those killed was Mrs. Thomas E. Hulme of 742 East Schuyler street, Portland, who was crushed to death when an automobile in which she was riding with her husband slid from the road and plunged over an embankment on the Lewis river bridge near Woodlawn.

In the accident in which Mrs. Hulme was killed her husband, Thomas E. Hulme, ex-plumbing inspector, was slightly injured.

The body of Mrs. Hulme was brought to Portland. Mr. Hulme is at his home under the care of physicians. The extent of his injuries has not been ascertained.

The Hulmes were driving toward Portland at the time of the accident. Seeing a car approaching at a high rate of speed, Mr. Hulme turned as far from the center of the road as possible, and in so doing drove into the soft dirt at the side of the road. He managed to work his car back on the pavement, but struck a chisel hole, which again sent the car from the road. It plunged down over the embankment, turned over and came to a rest standing on its wheels. Mrs. Hulme was thrown from the machine, which rolled over her, causing instantaneous death.

Mrs. Hulme was 52 years of age. She was born in San Francisco and came to Portland with her parents 51 years ago. She is survived by Mr. Hulme, a daughter, Elizabeth Hulme, three brothers, P. H. and John Moloney, inspectors in the Portland police bureau; Thomas E. Moloney of Spokane and one sister, Mrs. W. H. Casey of Portland.

Funeral arrangements, announced through the Portland newspapers, are that the funeral service will leave the home Friday, October 19, at 4:45 o'clock in the morning. Burial will be at St. Mary's Catholic church and will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will take place at Mount Olivary cemetery.
