Ford Company Combatting Many Important Problems

DETROIT, Mich. (Special)—Changes, including the transportation of a number of manufacturing departments, nearing completion at the Lincoln plant division of the Ford Motor Company form an interesting insight on efficiency methods of the organization.

When a manufacturing plant is carrying on a heavy production, it is a matter of considerable difficulty to move a large portion of machinery from one place to another. Yet this is just what is being done at the Lincoln plant and without the least halt in output.

In fact, with the steadily increasing demand which the Lincoln is enjoying, production, through the introduction of greater facilities, has been moved up and a new output record was established in August with shipments of 857 cars during the month, a gain of 57 over July.

During the eleven months of Ford ownership in 1922 Lincoln car shipments totaled 5,242, while so far this year 5,273 Lincolns have been manufactured.

Moving of the several departments into the new addition, which increases the plant floor space 211,000 square feet, is being effected under a highly scientific arrangement. The plant provides that raw materials and stock shall enter one end of the receiving room and gradually pass through the manufacturing processes to emerge at the other end of the building as finished products.

Conveyor systems, new and improved machinery and many other facilities are being installed to bring greater quality and refinement to Lincoln Motor cars.

Illustrative of the close attention to detail which enters into every phase of Lincoln car production is one small department where clocks used on Lincoln cars are received. These are manufactured by one of the country's foremost watch makers. Nevertheless, in this department, every clock undergoes an eight-day test before being permitted to take the place on a Lincoln car instrument board.

We're all allies. People who feel too sophisticated to enjoy a circus get excited about a political campaign.

Police Blotter Reads: "Occupation, Golfer"

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Increasing popularity of golf was evidenced here recently, when for the first time in the history of the Spokane police department, a man was booked there who gave his occupation as a golf player.

The man who made the initial appearance at his profession was Tom Young, who gave his nativity as Scotland, who from all indications, the booking officer said, had played the 19 holes rather strenuously.

An educated man is one who can remember the prices that diminished him at this time last year.

A Diamond Mine for You

CERTAIN South African farmers were poverty stricken. They said the soil was too rocky to plow.

They complained that their children were in rags—that they had to play with pebbles instead of toys.

The pebbles were diamonds! But the farmers didn't know. Many of them died poor.

Don't be like the South African farmers! Don't seek opportunity in some distant place and overlook the wealth that is daily within your grasp.

Advertising points out values you would probably overlook if it were not there to tell you. No other one thing will give you such economy and keen satisfaction in your every-day buying.
