

WOMEN'S INTEREST

SOCIETY

Over twenty young ladies were present last evening, when Mrs. R. F. Murphy charmingly entertained the Westminster Guild at her home on First and O streets. Mrs. Bussey led the devotional, after which the subject for the evening, "Japan," was studied and discussed, under the able leadership of Mrs. George Vehe and Mrs. H. G. Avery.

After a very interesting evening a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess.

Wedding bells rang joyously for Ben Thompson and Marie Beck, when on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock they were united in marriage in the home prepared for his bride by Mr. Thompson at 1205 Y avenue. Mr. Jones of the Christian church performing the ceremony.

A large number of the immediate relatives of both Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were present to wish them all success, and to extend their congratulations on the auspicious beginning of their life journey together.

After the wedding the party retired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beck, on North Depot street, where a bounteous repast was served.

The Clio club will meet Saturday, December 1, at the Country club with Mrs. Lee Bouvy as hostess.

The Moody Bible Study Class will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis Sandez, 1403 Z avenue on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The subject for the afternoon is "Current Religious Events and the Millennial and Messianic Problems." For free ride phone 313-W.

Mrs. Fred Schilke of La Grande, is visiting in Portland this week.

A pretty double wedding occurred at the Christian parsonage, when Mr. Jones united in marriage Russell Pulp and Vera Lloyd, and Merritt Alexander and Olive Smith, all of Cove. Mr. Pulp is a merchant of Cove, engaged in the confectionery business, while Mr. Alexander is a prosperous farmer of the same vicinity. The happy couples, after witnessing for the other's marriage, departed for their future homes in Cove, and to receive the well wishes of their many friends.

The Misses Marjorie and Alice McEvoy, daughters of C. A. McEvoy, yardmaster for the O-W. R. & N., came to La Grande from Walla Walla Tuesday, to spend Thanksgiving, when they will return to Walla Walla, until the first of the year, then they will come to La Grande to make their home and take up their studies in the local high school.

The paragonage of the South Methodist church was the scene of a beautiful wedding yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Ruth Darr was united in marriage to George Rogers, both of Imbler, with Rev. N. D. Wood officiating.

A number of friends were present and wish them everlasting happiness.

Fashion Notes

The Business Women's club will meet Thursday, December 6.

New Styles Dictate Short Coats and Wraps.
Cleveland, O.—The style committee report of the National Cloak, Suit and Skirt Manufacturers' association, issued at the 21st annual convention held here yesterday is in part as follows:

The slender straight-line silhouette, developed on wrap-around lines, will retain its popularity in spring designs. Coats and suits of sports identity will be an outstanding feature, novelty fabrics in wide variety playing a conspicuous part. There will be a wide use of blocked and striped fabrics, as well as plain, dull surfaced materials, such as have been made popular by the camel's hair vogue. Suits appear in larger numbers than in several seasons past, the shorter jackets giving them a new smartness. Mannish tailored suits in woads and novelty fabrics will be popular with others in both two-piece and three-piece developments and box or straight-line suits also in vogue.

The definite tendency toward the wearing of shorter dresses will result in the outer wraps following this example. Newer coats of curtailed length are destined to replace the very long coats in vogue at this time.

Variation in Evening Gown.
Paris.—The black chiffon velvet evening gown which is very popular at present with the Parisienne has adopted a variation in the white trimming considered now so chic. Instead of brilliant, white leather camellias hold the folds on one hip.

Bright Clothes With Fur Coat.
Paris.—With her fur cloak, the fashionable woman today is wearing a cloche in some especially bright color—flame and terre cotta being favored. The gay hat serves to take the too-rich somberness from the fur.

New Gowns are Long.
London.—Many of the new gowns shown here today are very long. This is particularly true of gowns for formal wear, which nearly touch the ground.

Vari-Colored Earrings.
London.—Tassel earrings with which some of the more elaborate head dresses now are fitted, do not combine themselves to one color. A woman in a white frock recently wore a crystal and pearl headress with tassel earrings of red, green, bright blue, mauve and gold beads.

Oddities in Shoes.
New York.—A rosette of suede and a band of lizard skin outline the top of some of the newest shoes. The colors of the pumps are gray, brown and black.

Adorned Dancing Slippers.
New York.—Many of the dancing slippers worn at present not only adorn themselves with gold and silver but also with Persian and paisley colors and patterns. The vamp is in brocade, of a Persian pattern, with the rest of the shoe in silver or gold.

Absence of Waist in Blouse.
New York.—In the latest overblouse there is a conspicuous absence of belt, or even of defined waistline of any sort. Luxurious though the fabric may be, the lines of the blouse are those of a middie.

Panier Effects in Bead Bags.
New York.—Bead bags, in panier effects, lend a jaunty air to the winter costume. These bags are usually covered with very small steel beads, and have in addition a pattern done in colored beads.

Famous French Recipes

Autumn Salad.
Paris (I.N.S.)—France is the home of salads and usually toothsome ones at that. A good autumn salad that is a pleasant change from the common potato salad is made with white French beans.

Cook and drain as many as are needed and mix with baked onions cut in small dice, a few potatoes and bean and season well with salt and pepper.

Brown in a spider lean bacon cut into dice and mix with the salad. Pour a little vinegar into the frying pan and stir well into the mixture. Garnish with hard-boiled eggs and slices of beets.

TYPICAL PILGRIM FEAST (By I.N.S.)
The New England style of Thanksgiving dinner, which the housewives now accept as a precedent for menu making has only a few features in common with the original feast of 1621.

None of the manuscripts left by the Pilgrims give the bill of fare for the first Thanksgiving festival, which lasted a week, but they list the supplies the Pilgrims had.

It is recorded that "beside water fowls there was a great store of wild turkeys." There was also sea food, venison, barley loaf and cakes of Indian meal. As for vegetables they are numbered in a rhyme made by His Excellency, the Governor.

All sorts of roots and herbs in gardens grow— Parsnips, carrots, turnips, or what you'll sow, Onions, melons, cucumbers, radishes, Skirrets, beets, coleworts and fair cabbages.

Although turkey is symbolical of Thanksgiving hospitality it also should divide honors with some dish of cornmeal.

"TOO CLEAN" POTS WASTE FUEL, SAY SCIENTISTS
New York (Special)—Housewives should not keep their pots and kettles too clean, declare the home economics scientists at Columbia University, or they will waste fuel. These instructions apply to the outside bottoms of the utensils and not to the inside.

The results of a long series of accurate experiments made on ordinary cooking utensils in the physics laboratories of Teachers College, Columbia, by Prof. F. F. Good prove that utensils which have been "broken in" so that their bottoms are rough and smudged, use less fuel than new utensils. The average efficiency of aluminum utensils when new was 28.6 and of enameled ware was 43.9—that is, the enameled ware was about 11 per cent more efficient. After blackening the bottom the efficiency of enameled ware went up as high as 44.7.

Library Chats

No one is too old to learn; especially to learn the joy of reading. Are you perfectly satisfied with the knowledge you have to run your business, or practice your profession? If you are then why not read for pleasure? You will always find an interesting collection of books on the small table at the left of the entrance of the public library. This week it happens to be books of biography. Come in and look them over and if you find nothing there to interest you we have

"ASK THE ENVELOPE" AND KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT SOUTHWARD & SHINN'S USED CARS

"A WISE BUYER"—that's what we call the fellow who chooses a USED BUICK. Natural instinct for a safe investment has caused many a wise investor to tie up to Buick transportation. Economy, of course is the first consideration, and upon this, has Buick's reputation been built—dependable performance, that's it. Then, too, a Used Buick always has a "live" market. And again—Buick's standardized service stations are found wherever automobiles can go—always greeting a Buick owner with efficient and courteous treatment. Let's talk Buick today—with you.

many other entertaining collections to choose from.

This is Educational Week, when all of us have been turning our thoughts towards education and what it stands for. Shall the Public Library not take its place beside the schools, the colleges and other institutions of learning, as a great educational factor? The boys and girls are coming every day to receive what it has to offer them. Shall the adults not be awake to the opportunities offered to them also?

John Alden, Priscilla, Miles Standish and other members of the Pilgrim band are receiving a great deal of attention at the Library this week. Even Massasoit the Indian comes in for his share. The mothers and fathers are invited to come in and meet them too.

We will put out the following new books Saturday night at six o'clock: Allen, Mechanical devices in the home; Herridge, Animal curiosities; Barrie, Dear Brutus; Collins, The doctor looks at literature; Ellis, The dance of life; Erskine, The river trail; Fisher, Raw material; Furman, The quare woman, Glass of fashion; Hall, Spain in silhouette; Gerould, Conquistador; Gregory, Irish folk history plays; Hill, Tomorrow about this time; Keen, I believe in God and in time evolution; Kyne, Never the twain shall meet; Mason, That silver lining; Norrie, Butterfly; O'Brien, Best short stories of 1922; Stoddard, The revolt against civilization; Tilden, Mr. Podd; Wharton, A son at the front.

Company Asks Rail Crossing.
SALEM, Or.—The Sunset Lumbering company has filed a petition with the public service commission for permission to establish two railroad crossings over highways between Vernonia and Timber. Date for hearing has not been set.

Operated On For Appendicitis
FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

Many times, no doubt, you have seen the above headline in your newspaper very often it has told of some friend suddenly stricken with dread appendicitis. The newspapers, however, neglect to state that appendicitis is usually preceded by stomach trouble. They don't tell you that the afflicted person suffered frequent attacks of heartburn long before he went to the hospital.

While heartburn is not always a sign of an inflamed appendix, it is always a warning that something is wrong. In many cases it results from indigestion, which is one of the predisposing causes of appendicitis. If you suffer from a burning, gnawing sensation in the stomach, excessive gas, sour stomach, nausea or other distress after eating, go at once and obtain a bottle of South Bros' M. A. C., the guaranteed stomach treatment. This pleasant, harmless liquid rids the stomach of carterial mucus, allays the inflammation, helps digestion and cleanses the bowels of poisonous waste matter. $1.25. Money back if the first bottle does not relieve. Red Cross Pharmacy will supply. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

Why does a star twinkle? —because light, like sound, travels in waves. This wave motion becomes a twinkling, probably because of moving dust through which the starlight comes to earth. As sure as the course of the stars is
