

The Spirit Of THANKSGIVING

It lives forever. The years cannot age it. Doors are opened wide and friendliness and hospitality are extended on all sides. And so the rejoicing of our little band of Pilgrim fathers has been carried through the years until today a great nation joins as one in offering thankfulness to the guiding powers for the wealth and prosperity that is ours.

Dundee Would Conquer Any British Pug

Scotch Wop Broadcasts Challenges to English; Not Music to Their Ears.

By Luther A. Boston, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON.—Johnny Dundee, apparently, is putting the Alexander stunt and singing for new world's conqueror. And he is singing scarcely any restriction on the side of the "world."

"The Scotch Wop," according to an Associated Press report, has been invited to London promoters an offer to meet the best English pug in the featherweight, lightweight, and welterweight classes. Such evident contempt for British pug has aroused some resentment, especially when it was disclosed that Dundee also had admitted that the terms offered "were not suitable."

Boxing circles are recalling what happened to Johnny Kilbane, who came to England a year or so ago and who also imposed the stipulation of "suitable" terms. Kilbane's idea of suitability failed by a vast margin to coincide with the ideas of London promoters, and "Johnny went marching home" without ever having done any business in his English ring.

Having recalled Kilbane's experience, the boxing wipers warn Dundee that he should remember that the day of big names in England is over. If the wop's featherweight champion wants to be reasonable about his monetary demands, however, English pugilistic circles will be pleased to welcome him.

Regarding Dundee's willingness to meet the best that England produces in three different weight classifications the English pug is somewhat put out at the apparent contempt for his scrappers, but is more broadminded about it than about his reported intention to demand large amounts of currency for his London appearances. Wise followers of British boxing are under no delusions about the present caliber of their scrappers in any class.

In the featherweight and light.

weight classes Dundee would find no opposition worth mentioning over here. If he is ambitious to tackle welterweight, however, he probably would get a fight that would afford him a busy evening. Ted ("Kid") Lewis still claims a place in the welter ranks, and Joe Hoyle and Fred Archer are a brace of scrappers of clubs. With the advantage in weight that they would have, either of those three could probably make it interesting for Dundee.

Millionaire Leads Communists

PERDANAO, Bulgaria, (AP)—Kalyo Dimitoff, millionaire dealer in gasoline and lubricating oils, was the leader of the local communists in their recent vain efforts to overthrow the Tsankoff government and set up a Soviet republic. Asked why he was conspicuous in a movement aimed at the denial of property rights, Dimitoff said: "There are other rights to be considered beside my own."

British Golfers Play With Old Style Balls

LONDON, (AP)—Nearly all of Britain's most famous amateur golfers went down to Woking the other day to test their skill with the old gutta ball, which disappeared from the tees 21 years ago upon the invention in America of the "super-cure" ball.

A competition was held between the "Hushers," and the "Noverwainers," those of the grey-haired school who had learned the game with the solid old gutta, and the younger men who took up golf after the appearance of the "super-cure" ball.

the more realistic will. It ended all matters.

"Chelmsley enough the day proved a triumph for youth and against, rather than for experience. Roger Wethered, the 25-year-old amateur champion, played as well with the gutta, it now being in his golf life, as did any of the great men of the past. He rooted off pars and birdies and set a pace of 78, despite a six at the famous hole, where he finished his drive into a gulch of water. In the afternoon he won the stroke competition with a return of 57. The driving and wooden play through the fairways was hard and accurate, and he reached all but two of the long holes with his second shot, which proves that the solid old gutta will get there if you hit it hard enough.
