

Always look for this ticket for it's the best overall made

The reason that we boost Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls so strongly is because we know that it is impossible to make a better overall. We know that it is the manufacturer's ambition to always keep Oshkosh B'Gosh at "the top of the heap."

Every tested improvement is adopted for Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls without delay. Just recently three new features have been added.

First: Hip pockets are now lined with 8 oz. denim, giving two thicknesses of cloth where the wear comes, so that the tools don't wear holes in the pockets. These new pockets will outlast the overall. The hip pockets are also sewed under the side seams, lining and all, giving added strength at the point of greatest strain—across the seat.

Second: The combination watch and pencil pocket has been bettered. It now has a double pocket for time book, etc., and the new center opening makes a safer watch pocket.

Third: Most important of all is the new material used. It is extra heavy weight, extra long wearing and the color remains a nice bright blue no matter how often the overall is washed. "Double Dyed Denim," this new material is called, because it is the only denim that is dyed with genuine indigo by the special Ely process. Every yard of it is cut into Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls.

Oshkosh B'Gosh lot numbers 101, 201 and 301 are made of Double Dyed Denim. Insist on the name and number and you'll always get the greatest overall made—bar none! They must make good or we will.

NO APOLOGY.

The Richardson's Art & Gift Shop does not have sales on Friday and Saturday. Pictures placed the price on each picture just what it is worth, not by the lot of pictures but singly. The regular prices will be found and have been so for the past two years on the following numbers:

Masterful Parrish Subjects: "Dixie Bird" in Carved Frame from $5.00 to $5.75.

Air Castle from $4.00 to $5.00.

"Morning" in special tinted frame, $5.50.

Other subjects such as: "Winter's Night" in beautiful Silver and Burnish Frame $5.50.

"Rubbish" in special tinted frame, $4.00.

"End of the Trail" from $2.75 to $4.50.

"Age of Innocence" from $1.00 to $2.75.

The price of framed pictures is more than partly governed by the frame put on them. Richardson's Art & Gift Shop has 122 patterns of handcut all in carved and burnished wood, not plaster cast. Each frame is matched to the picture and priced accordingly, based on a legitimate profit to the maker. He invites you to visit his shop and compare his prices with those of other places. 12-8-11

Miss Winifred Byrd, Noted Pianist to Appear at Arcade, Is Salem Girl. 12-6-23

Miss Winifred Byrd, America's wonder pianist, who is scheduled to appear at the Arcade theatre on the evening of December 13th, brought forth the following from the N. Y. Post following her recital in that city.

Winifred Byrd hails from Salem, Ore., where the loganberries grow that sweeten our summer drinks. She herself looks as if she were still sweet seventeen, but judging by her playing she must be older. Schumann's "Faschingsschwanke" headed Miss Byrd's list. She played it with musical comprehension, revealing its melodic outlines successfully and not allowing the romantic spirit to evaporate.

"Irene" Coming To Baker Theater Saturday Evening, December 15.

"Irene" is coming to Baker, at the Baker Theatre on Saturday night, December 15, bringing with her all the delightful melodies, clever lines, beautiful stage settings and costumes that have made this musical comedy one of the most popular ever staged.

In the leading feminine role is Dale Winter, an attractive young woman of more than ordinary stage ability and voice, who has been playing it ever since it was first produced, while about her has been assembled a cast worthy of this beautiful operetta.

The author, James Montgomery, has written a simple story of the adventures of Irene O'Dare, a New York shopgirl, whose cleverness, beauty and business ability produced such a charming Princess of love and romance that her story seems like a fairy tale come true. Harry Tierney's lilting music with its gems of melody, such as the song "Alice Blue Gown," sung, whistled and played now on four continents, is the most attractive. This musical comedy has not only been played in London, but has also been presented in Australia, Sweden, India, South America and Africa.

The staging of the play was done by Edward Boyce, whose reputation in America was thus established through the charm with which he has invested "Irene." The lyrics are by Joseph McCarthy, a Boston poet with a sense of humor, and a deep appreciation of the charm and appeal of Mr. Montgomery's story.

Others in the company, in addition to Miss Winter, are: Edith, Mary O'More, Gladys Nacio, Dorothy LaMar, Dorothy Kane, Henrietta Houston, Howard Freeman, Jere Delaney, Henry Coate, George Collins, Edward Marr and George Mantell. The large chorus is made up of attractive girls and handsome young men all of them equipped with good singing voices. The curtain will rise at 7:00 p. m.

Vaudeville Bill, With Five-Reel Movie, To Be at Arcade Sunday.

Knight, Benson and Gary are heralded as one of the foremost laugh producers in vaudeville. Their skit, "Pleasant Inn," is all the name implies, a comedy singing and talking revue and promises a pleasing and diversified program of comedy patter with many laughable situations and songs, possessing voices which blend in perfect harmony. Their versatility is cleverly shown in this offering.

Edith Russell is a character comedian and novelty dancer presenting "Foot Mostly," a snappy appearing and talented young man whose torpechoric movements are marvellous inasmuch as he dances many different styles of dancing, spright, lying down, sitting on stage.

George and June as comedy producers will become favorites at once as they have a splendid variety in comedy and songs and dancing, well blended and presented in a painstaking manner.

Robbie Latham Due in "Whirls and Twirls" gymnasts in midair and ground, and forty tumbling, practically all of their end-ways are new to vaudeville showing ability, grace and strength.

A five reel feature picture will be shown in connection with this vaudeville bill.

Hair-Raising Stunts Crowd Every Reel of "The Eleventh Hour" Now at the Star.

In number, speed and magnitude the stunts seen in "The Eleventh Hour," which opened last night at the Star Theatre for a three day engagement, exceed those of any previous melodrama. The cast, headed by Charles Jones and Shirley Mason, includes June Edwards and Alan Hale, Lincoln J. Carter is responsible for the multitudinous thrills, the melodrama being adapted by William Fox from a stage play of his.

Fast, colorful, intelligent, the story is a whirlwind of delight in its tortuous intricacies, all of which are developed with consummate smoothness.

An heirloom to a vast estate is the dupe of a scheming father, and an ambitious foreign prize. The father desires the fortune which she possesses; the prince desires the potent vial which an inventor in her employ concocted. An Irishman, whom she loves, causes her mental suffering by putting her in doubt of his honesty. He did this for patriotic reasons, not daring to reveal his true identity.

From the foregoing conflict of individual thrills will arise which are astounding in their magnificent intensity and picturesqueness. Shirley Mason is superb in figure and acting form. She makes a tremendously thrilling dive from the window of a palatial house into the ocean, at a height of several hundred feet.

Another interesting thrill is composed of the shooting of Miss Mason and Charles Jones through the torpedo tubes of a submerged submarine.

If you like good, old-fashioned, pulsing, pounding melodrama, see "The Eleventh Hour."

Sherrys Showing May Murray Sunday and Monday in "The French Doll."

Never before have motion picture fans had the opportunity to see the inimitably charming Mae Murray in a photoplay so dazzling, so fascinating, so gorgeous and so entertaining as "The French Doll," her newest Metro picture, which comes to the Sherry Theatre on Sunday and Monday. It was produced in the elaborate style characteristic of her former screen plays, but it is more elaborate than anything which has gone before. And in it Miss Murray, known as the best dressed star on the screen, wears the most luxurious gowns ever seen on stage or screen.

This photoplay combines every element that goes to make up a delightful evening's entertainment. The star is an actress of the first rank, and her's is a distinctive charm. Equally well she pictures scenes of meriment and dramatic power, and in this photoplay she has a fine opportunity to portray both elements. "The French Doll" is a film version of the famous play of the same name, in which Irene Bordoni achieved her greatest success.

In the photoplay, Miss Murray portrays a fiery little French girl of many love affairs, who helps her parents sell antiques of modern manufacture. The family comes to America, New York and Palm Beach, where they move in high social circles, while beautiful Georgine is the magnet to draw more customers for their "antiques." In America, Georgine finds romance.

"The French Doll" was adapted to the screen play by A. E. Thomas. It is presented by Robert Z. Leonard and was produced by Tiffany Productions, of which Mr. Leonard is director general and M. H. Hoffman general manager. Cedric Gibbons was art director and the action was photographed by Oliver T. Marsh. Alfred A. Cohn wrote the titles.

A two reel comedy is also being shown.

Making Money Go a Long Way!

The story is related of George Washington that he threw a silver dollar across the Potomac River at a point where it was said to have been approximately a mile wide. Surely, a dollar went further then, than now.

The purchasing power of a dollar has shrunk since Washington's day. But the discriminating public is finding that a dollar still goes a long way here.

We know of no Store where a dollar will go further.

novel by Vincente Blasco Ibanez, the Spanish novelist, is to be shown at the Arcade theatre starting Monday, for three days, after unusually successful showings on Broadway, in Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston and other cities.

"Enemies of Women," which has been rated by photoplay critics as one of the finest productions of the year, contains numerous scenes actually "shot" in Monte Carlo and Paris. The war scenes, especially the sinking of ships by submarines, are declared to be unequalled. Since the settings were directed by Joseph Urban, reports of their magnificence and lavishness may be accepted as accurate.

The action of the story takes place in Russia, Paris, the war front, and in Monte Carlo. Harcourt gives one of the finest characterizations of his illustrious acting career. It is said, a Prince Lubimoff, a selfish Russian noble, Alma Iribas is seen as the Duchess de Lillie, a beautiful exotic, who lives only for men.

The inventor, V. M. Johnson, 151 N. Union Ave., Portland, Ore. is offering to send a lamp for 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.
