But He Fought!

Senator Mayfield, who fought for the prohibition law in the Lone Star State.

Oregon Ex-Service Men Have Until 31st Of December to File

LA GRANDE, (Special)—At the last session of the Oregon Legislature, a bill was passed providing for the filing of applications for the cash bonus or loan.

benefits under the Oregon Soldiers' Bonus Law was filed on December 21, 1922. Any applications received after that date will be rejected. New Senators Who Are to Sit in Next Upper House

Senator Mayfield
(By E. N. S.)

There is no accomplishment of which Senator E. N. Mayfield, of Texas, is more proud, and to which he refers with greater gratification and genuine joy than his efforts in behalf of abolition of the prohibition law in the Lone Star State.

That work, for which Mayfield often is called "Father of the Texas Dry Law," gave him prominence in the State and placed him in the front line to reach the Senate.

Another "unconventional" woman's suffrage, also reflected his interest and he was a leader in the fight for the adoption of the suffrage amendment to the Constitution.

Throughout his public career Mayfield has been identified with numerous movements and campaigns—Internats, he likes to say "which are for the benefit of the average citizen as opposed to average wealth and affluence."

He believes sincerely in what he heretofore right of men to organize for any purpose, particularly in the organization of labor. To benefit American workers he would limit immigration until such a time as every person in the United States has a job. He does not want to open the flood gates.

Mayfield is a stickler for State rights. An example of this is found in his fight against that portion of the Esch-Cummings transportation act which curtailed the power of state utility commissions. Having been a member of the Texas Railroad Commission for ten years, he is an authority on transportation.

Mayfield was born in Overton, Texas, April 12, 1881, and since made his home in Meridian. He was graduated from the Southwestern University in 1906, and also studied at the University of Texas, where his eldest son now is registered.

During 1907-13 he was a State Senator, and from 1913-22 a member of the Railroad Commission.

After one of the most bitter fights in Texas political history he was elected to the Senate over a coalition Republican candidate. He was alleged to have received the support of the Ku Klux Klan. Charges against his election were filed with the Secretary of State last Spring.

After hearing the neighbors talk, we rather had the next convention would be perfect if parents were permitted to raise one another's children.
