A Human Torch

The day's department of the University of Iowa was doing a lot of experimenting. It was necessary for students to be in the lab. And last night's was a very interesting one. The student was to jump into a tank of water. George McAllister of the University, swimming team, volunteered. Here he is—his jacket a mass of flame—on his way to the tank.

with convention here of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, according to Prof. Harry Henshaw, of the convention committee.

Leading scientists of America and Canada will be represented in the 15 sectional meetings representing all branches of science. The sessions will be held at the University of Cincinnati, December 17 to January 2.

Prof. Henshaw declined to state what fields of science would be affected by the discoveries. He said they would be announced in papers to be read at the various meetings, before which many of the most eminent scientists in the country are scheduled to appear.

Undertaker's Lament.—LUCRETIA, Ind.—Summoned to the bankruptcy court, Henry Green, an undertaker, complained that his failure was due to improper health precautions.
