SING FOR JOY:—Behold my servants shall sing for joy of heart.—Isaiah 65:14.

OFFICE CAT

BY JUNIUS

WHISKERS WILL BE THE VOICE IN LONDON NEXT SUMMER. WHAT DO YOU ALLOW FOR THAT, GIRLS?

A New Name.
They sat on the pier at midnight, and tales of their love they told; The girl spoke of passion and things, Until the lad grew quite bold.

He placed his arm right around her
They kissed—this loving pair,
You think that they were necking?
But they were only "cupping" there.

The meanest kind of a fight was
The one who will cheerfully
Spend ten bucks on some other woman
When his own's spent a thin dime on his wife.

Fatal Mistake.
She teeped—in his dangerous to drive with one hand?
He (brutally)—You bet! More than one fellow has run into a church because he drays that way.

THEY USED TO SAY IT WASN'T WISE TO KISS AND TELL, BUT IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE NOW.

Efficiency Expert (to La Grande Stone)—You are wasting too much time on your personal appearance. La Grande Stone—It's not wasteful. I've only been here six months and I'm already engaged to the junior partner.

Mixers Get the Coin

That students distinguished by scholarship are outdistanced in the race for success by those who are active in social and campus activities is the conclusion of a professor of psychology at the University of Michigan. His argument is based on a questionnaire sent to graduates who had been out in the wide, wide world 10 years. Phi Beta Kappa men of that vintage averaged $3,000 a year; the glad hand boys $10,000. Whereupon all the glee clubs and the varsity letter organizations stand up and yell.

What the average man would like to know is whether the Phi Beta Kappa boys are much concerned? Do they accept Professor Ford's conclusions at face value? Do they want to trade places with the $10,000 a year men?

More, what does the questionnaire reveal concerning the Grade "A" students who were also campus lions? If a grind develops into a $3,000-a-year man, and the glad-hander into a $10,000-a-year-man, what of the hard-working students who is also a social being? There are some such.

A Love Meter

Entirely out of date along with other soothsaying pushed overboard by the march of science, is the old and romantic, but rather unreliable method by which maidens used to seek to discover whether they were loved or not—pulling off the petals of a daisy.

The lovelorn maiden of the future, instead of mutilating a harmless flower or writing to the lovelorn column, will purchase a "telegraphone."

The "telegraphone," whose invention has just been announced by the Society for Electrical Development, is said to be able to measure exactly both the quality and quantity of love, by recording the effect of a day's presence on the one she desires, or of the effect of the lover's presence on the lady of his dreams.

How the "telegraphone" works is simplicity itself. You have but to adjust it over the heart of the one of whose affection you are in doubt and then watch it flutter. The inventor declares it will prove of incalculable value to humanity by preventing loveless and consequently unhappy marriages.

It may be said for King George of Greece that he seems to be able to recognize a hint and act on it.

Mexico stands not alone in having rebellion. Several Protestant churches are in the same fix.

We are asked how to remove rain spots from the ceiling. We would suggest fixing the roof.

Be careful in trying to understand women. The insane asylum is full of men who were not.

The rumor that Germany is collapsing is five years old now.

Congress threatens to broadcast its arguments by radio.

Cold Type and Warm Sunshine

In expressing to our patrons and friends the hope that this may be the Happiest Holiday Season you have ever enjoyed, we are compelled to use cold type because there is no other way to reach all.

But we wish we might walk up to each and every one of you, take your hand, look you in the eye and say right to your face

It's A Fact

Most every one of us make New Year resolutions to stop doing something. Now, wouldn't it be a good idea and resolve to DO something—something that is a pleasure and will mean additional satisfaction and contentment. For example, make arrangements for a new home of your own or decide to remodel your old home incorporating hardwood floors, built-in accommodations and many other modern time and labor saving features.

Home charm is not measured in dollars and cents. Selection is more important than expenditure in its achievement. It is surprising how inexpensively beauty, comfort and durability can be built into homes with the proper selection of materials.
