Jackie Coogan Quits Rags in "Long Live The King" at Sherrys.

"Genius," wrote a prominent critic recently, "is an innate gift of the gods." Talent is the ability to use that gift or the lesser advantages vouchsafed to the particular individual. Seldom does one person have both, but Jackie Coogan comes in this select class.

"Long Live the King" his first Metro picture, which comes to the Sherry theatre today, reveals Jackie at the zenith of his powers in a delightfully romantic story by the supreme spinner of romantic tales, Mary Roberts Rinehart. Jack Coogan, senior, who personally supervised the production, Director Victor Scherzinger, Art Director J. J. Hughes and Chief Cinematographer Frank Good, have brought the story to the screen with a wealth of beauty, gorgeous detail and general exquisite investiture that surpass by far any of Jackie's earlier productions.

Even without its star, "Long Live the King" would rank high as a cinematic achievement. With Jackie Coogan, it achieves distinction as a film masterpiece.

Fine Cast in "The Marriage Maker" At Arcade Theater.

Rivaling in importance and ability the strongest cast ever assembled in any motion picture in recent years, William C. de Mille's latest Paramount picture production, "The Marriage Maker," will be the leading feature at the Arcade theatre for Wednesday. Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt play the featured roles. In their support are Charles de Roche, Robert Agnew and Mary Astor. Others who portray important parts are Ethel Wales and Bertram Johns.

"The Marriage Maker" was adapted by Clara Beranger from Edward Knoblock's play, "The Faun," in which William Faversham starred for several years. It is a delightful comedy-drama and a startlingly unusual picture. It has for its central situation the adventures of a mysterious being, human yet almost like a Faun, knowing only the elemental instincts of love, hate, fear, and the like and is little more than an animal in his simplicity.

A comedy will also be shown.

Gets Jail Term.

OREGON CITY, Or.—Tom Scott, a resident of the section south of Molalla, was arrested at his home by deputies from the office of Sheriff Wilson. He appeared before Justice Parry of Milwaukie, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $200 for violation of the liquor laws.

Failing to pay his fine he was committed to the county jail.

Scott's testimony was a contributing factor in the conviction of Carl Long, a former deputy sheriff, on a charge of manufacturing liquor. Scott's testimony in the Long case being that he and Long were partners in the moonshine operations.

To Fight Poachers.

DUBLIN, (AP) — Irish Inland fisheries have been made less attractive to the sportsmen by universal poaching, which the disturbances in the country made it difficult to check. Even when magistrates imposed heavy fines on poachers, it was the practice to reduce them to trifling amounts.

Fionan Lynch, minister of fisheries, is passing through Parliament a bill to make poaching unprofitable. In some parts of the country, he said, moral depravity had made salmon poaching into an honorable profession, and the bill is intended to make men of that profession pay for their fun. There will be plenty of water bailiffs and poaching will be punished by penalties that can be modified only by the minister of fisheries.

Lord Mayo, who supported the bill in the senate, said as a result of it he saw Ireland again becoming the playground of the man who enjoys a quiet holiday in the gentle art of trout fishing.

RHEUMATISM

Leaves You Forever

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Red Cross Drug Co. will supply you. Mail orders accepted.—Adv.

London Experiences Epidemic of Foggy-day House Burglaries

LONDON (AP) — There has been an epidemic of burglaries and housebreaking during these dismal foggy days, and something like $500,000 worth of property has been lost in London during the past month. Police officials always have trouble at this time of the year because of shady raceganes migrating up to town to "earn a living" during the winter months.

For many years past special police have been put on the streets during the first days of November to counter the efforts of these gangs, but so far they have not entirely checked their efforts, although many burglaries have been frustrated.

FRENCH CREDIT IS EXPLAINED

$800,000,00 Franc Loan to Little Entente Made by Leading Power.

PARIS, (AP)—With unfunded debts to the American and British governments amounting to nearly $5,000,000,000, some criticism has been directed at France for having advanced 800,000,000 francs to countries of the Little Entente during 1923. Of the amount, 400,000,000 francs were credited to Poland; 200,000,000 to Jugoslavia and 100,000,000 to Rumania. However, documents published recently by the French government show that not one centime has left the Bank of France consigned to those countries.

The figures merely represent credits opened by the French ministry of finance to the various countries, against which they have drawn for the payment of supplies mostly war materials, purchased in France. Nor has the French government disbursed any money to the manufacturers of the materials. The amounts due the manufacturers have been deducted from war and other taxes due the French government, and in cases where the amounts due the manufacturers were larger than the indebtedness to the government, the balance was made up in government bonds.

On the other hand, it is pointed out that France has been the largest exporter of material to the countries of the Little Entente, the French government thus having found a way to dispose of its war material in course of production during the last months of the war and which the signing of the armistice made unnecessary for the French armies.

Previous to granting this credit to Poland the latter owed to France 1,054,000,000 francs, mostly for war material.
