Rex Beach's Famous Story Showing At Star Friday.

Excitement and thrills, suspense and action are all to be enjoyed in the "Spillers," Jesse D. Hamilton's production of Rex Beach's famous novel of Alaska, which will be shown at the Star theatre on Friday.

There is every reason to believe that "The Spillers" is everything that has been claimed for it, as it boasts an unusually notable cast, headed by Milton Sills, Anna Q. Nilsson, Barbara Bedford, Robert Edison, Noah Henry, Mitchell Lewis, Robert McKim, Sam de Gramse, John Elliott Ford, Richard Lonsdale, Pasadena, and Rosceliffe Fellows.

"The Spillers" was written by Beach from actual observation of the turmoil that followed in the Yukon when crooks jumped the claims of the miners and looted them of their gold for months until justice was restored. His novel is an authentic record of the historic gold rush to the Yukon and is transferred to the screen by director Lambert Hillyer. His handling of the atmosphere of the rocklessly dangerous life among these voracious fortune seekers.

Famous Novel Is Brought to Arcade Screen.

Clara Louise Burnham's celebrated novel, "Jewel," becomes a living breathing reality at the Arcade Theatre Friday and Saturday, when "Jewel" is shown in two chapters in "Her Life," adapted from the book, will be screened. The new production introduces one of the best known players in America, Claude Gillingwater, and the latest sensation in child actresses, Jane Mercer. It was adapted, screenwritten and directed by Louis Weber, and has attracted wide attention as one of the outstanding bits of screen artistry of the year.

The story is a lesson in happiness. It depicts the life of a little child in a home torn with family discord and where, through her love, she conquers her environment and restores happiness. It is a powerful lesson and its heart interest and whimsical humor make it an entrancing play.

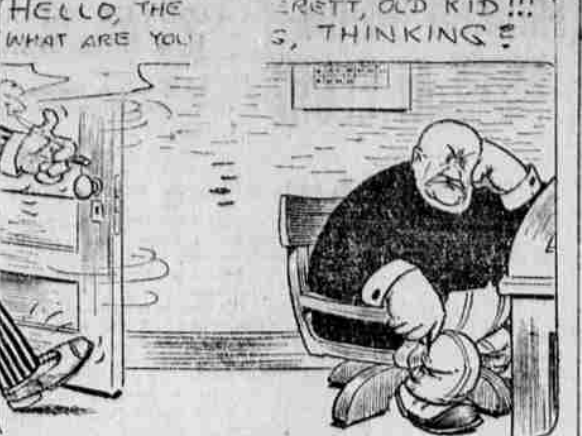

Claude Gillingwater plays the part of the millionaire grandfather, embittered by years of having Little Jane Mercer, playing the title role of "Jewel," is convincing in action—far she seemed to live the part rather than act it.

Three Kid Starlets Appear in Movie At Sherrys.

The Sherry Theatre announces a special feature and treat for its patrons. The three "greatest" boys gracing the screen here all clipped in and want you to see them act in their newest comedy-drama, "The Country Kid." They are none other than Wesley Barry, the lad of freckled fame, "Spec" O'Connell, who is an actual cousin of a close friend, and last but not least, the youngest member, "Baby" Bruce Gurin, who hasn't grown a single freckle as yet, in his four years on earth.

Supporting them in the cast are: Kate Tomeray, Helen Jerome Eddy, George Nichols, Edward Burns, and George C. Pearce. The story was written directly for the screen by Julian Josephson, who wrote so many of Wesley Barry's previous successes, and is directed by William Beaudine, who knows how to bring out the best in the boys. Comedy showing, "The Great Out Doors."

German Dealers Display Wares Kept Hidden During Mark's Fall

BERLIN, (AP)—Diamonds as large as hazel nuts and other precious stones appeared like magic in the Berlin show windows when the mark began to hold its own. In days when the paper mark was tumbling, jewelers were timid about displaying their valuable wares, especially diamonds, and kept them in their vaults away from curious eyes and brought them out only when likely looking customers appeared with foreign currencies to spend.

War Veterans Organizer THE DALLAS, Or.—Organization of a local camp of Spanish war veterans, with Dr. J. W. Donnelly of this city elected as commander for 1924, was announced.

The local organization will be known as Billy Fields camp, being named after a local man, who gave his life during the conflict with Spain.

Other officers elected were: M. E. Phillips, senior vice-commander; Jay Bateman, junior vice-commander; Warrick Walden, adjutant; Harry Bolton, quartermaster.

Back to Farm Move Is Encouraging Germany

KOENIGSBERG, (AP)—A back to the farm movement has taken place in Germany, especially East Prussia, according to Dr. von Hartelt, former provincial governor of that state. In a lecture recently on rural welfare work he said many farmers' sons who went to war had begun to resume their old tasks on the farms.

After the war, said Dr. von Hartelt, there was a tendency among the farmer boys to drift to the cities and industrial centers, where there were more attractions. The unsettled conditions and closing of manufacturing plants with the consequent cutting off of their pay caused them to drift back home.

LONDON, (AP)—At a cost of seven shillings and three pence for petrol and oil, Alan Cobham recently flew from London to Brussels in a light airplane fitted with a six horsepower engine, which competed in the light air plane competition at Lympne in October.

Truck Traffic Protested.

MONMOUTH, Or.—A protest has been filed with the state highway commission by farmers of south Polk county against the use of the unpaved portion of the west side highway between Monmouth and the Benton county line by heavy traffic trucks. It is alleged that the trucks have cut through the road so much that it is almost impossible for the farmers to get into Monmouth to their market.

Live Stock Breeders Will Discuss Industry

OMAHA, (AP)—All phases of the live stock industry, embracing range conditions, production, rail rates, the tariff as it affects America's meat supply, federal legislation and marketing, will be subjects for discussion at the twenty-seventh annual convention of the American National Live Stock Association, which will be held here January 15-17.

Several hundred persons interested in the cattle industry, including government experts and advisors, are expected to attend. The meeting, however, will be largely of those interested directly in production, the national association comprising representatives of the various state live stock organizations of the country.

the rest of it took him 20 minutes to reach the French side and despite heavy rain the machine behaved splendidly. Brackets being reached after a flight of four hours and five minutes.

It is said that an ordinary airplane carrying nine passengers would require 65 gallons of petrol and more than two gallons of oil costing ground five and one-half pounds sterling. The engine consumed used consumes one gallon of petrol hourly at a cost of eighteen pence, and fifteen pennyworth of oil.

Giant Cougar Hunted

HOODS RIVER, Or.—A band of men, headed by Joe Long, upper valley hunter, left for the Green Point district on the west side in pursuit of a huge cougar that for the past week has alarmed outlying ranches.

The animal, which, judging from its tracks, is one of the biggest ever heard of in this district, has kept dogs of the Oak Grove in a panic by his nightly marauding. The hunters were accompanied by a pack of hounds belonging to Alford Dehman.
