Founders Day Celebrated By P. E. O.

Friday, January 17, was "Founders Day" for the P. E. O. and a day in which all members came together to have a good time. In the afternoon the Ladies of the P. E. O. were delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. E. P. Mossman. The afternoon was mostly taken up with business, after which a delicious luncheon was served.

In the evening the ladies of the P. E. O. and the men of the R. I. L. met and spent a charming evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Zurbick. The R. I. L. had charge of the program under the direction of Dr. E. P. Mossman. H. A. Zurbick and Lawrence Dillon and the cleverly arranged program was of a humorous nature. Each member responded with a humorous story. Following the roll call Dr. H. S. Brownson did a "little stunt," representing the great comic movie star, Charlie Chaplin, after which Dr. Mossman gave an account of the Gavel, which each president of the R. I. L. has used from the time of beginning, and according to Mr. Mossman's story dated back to the time of George Washington. The next thing on the program was a guessing contest, in which everyone guessed the meaning of the initials R. I. L. and Mrs. Lucy Stanfield won the prize by deciding upon the best meaning. During the evening a beautiful musical program took place. Dr. Mossman and Lawrence Dillon singing a delightful duet. Mr. Dutton singing two excellent vocal solos and George Birnie rendering two vocal numbers. Mrs. Birnie and Mrs. Lawrence Dutton acted as accompanists.

The rooms were capably decorated with red carnations and at the close of a very enjoyable time the P. E. O. with Mrs. H. S. Brownson in charge served delicious refreshments to approximately forty people, after which each lady present was presented with a beautiful red carnation.

The Westminster Guild held an unusually interesting meeting last evening at the home of Mrs. H. G. Avery, with Mrs. H. J. Ritter in charge of the program. The guild is now studying the "Life of Christ," by Giovanni Esplandi, and a very entertaining program was arranged. Miss Hilda Anderson had charge of the devotional and the program in which she led was exceptionally good.

Before adjournment a delicious luncheon was served by the charming hostess to the twenty-five ladies present and a delightful social hour spent.

The guild will meet again Monday, February 4, with Mrs. L. C. Bowler as hostess.

The W. H. C. met on Saturday for their regular monthly meeting of fellowship and business. Following the business luncheon served at noon a splendid program was put on by Mrs. Walker, patriotic instructor at the order. Two numbers by the "Chamber of Commerce" quartet, the solo by O. W. Jones, reading by Vivian Palmer and Mrs. Green made up this pleasant feature of the day. Following the program Mrs. Braden introduced one of the "Boys of Sixty-One" who was celebrating his 75th birthday, Mr. Murphy, who made a splendid appeal for free citizenship.

In the business meeting the following officers were installed: Mrs. Harry Minick of Union, being in charge. President, Laura Braden; secretary, Jessie Schum; Junior vice, Susie Williams; treasurer, Elleanor Carr; chaplain, Laura Braden; conductress, Rose Wright; assistant conductress, Rebecca Koehne; organist, Francis Plank; assistant organist, Susan Burnett; patriotic instructor, Mary Walker; secretary, Celia Gaten; press correspondent, Lena Jones; musician, Evelyn Hicks; color bearers, No. 1, Mary Hite, No. 2, Estlin Nelson, No. 3, Mabel Sanderson, No. 4, Dora Diven.

The Girls Friendly Society will have a Pot Luck supper Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock, at Hoonan hall, after which the evening will be spent dancing.

Italy Pays Homage

"Body of Countmarco da Grenedo, who was in command of the ill-fated French dirigible 'Dixmude,' was picked up on the coast of Italy. It is shown here lying in state in a church of Sciacca, Sicily.

A large part of the young man's scant fortune went early after his arrival, less than three weeks ago. Then he realized the need of replenishing his hoard, and he secured work at a hotel on West Twenty-ninth street. For ten hours he hustled dishes there, and then once more Fate took him in hand.

He dropped a tray. This took five more dollars of his rapidly diminishing funds.

"But now," smiled Julius, "it seems to be getting on better, and every night I am studying hard in my little room and soon hope to be able to speak enough English to avoid further trouble."

Baron Says Titles Mean Little to Girls Unless Lover Knows American Ways.

NEW YORK, (AP)— While titles still appear to be coveted by American girls, they are considerably at a discount in Europe, unless accompanied by a rare gift of becomingly pronounced English. Baron Julius A. Nowak, 24-year-old Austrian nobleman, who is here working his own way to better his lot.

The baron is the only son of General Adam Nowak, leader of the Austrian fighting forces in the First World War, and, despite paternal disapproval and possible disinheritance, he has to make his way through an American college "on his own."

"Girls in my country nowadays are ambitious that they be made love to by the most advanced American style. Besides, they know enough of English, I must take back with me a thorough knowledge of the art in order to be happy," he said.

A stranger four thousand miles from home, with whom the ladies are dropping the exchange value of his money until his small fortune was worth only thirty dollars when he arrived here. (The young man refuses to give for his title in the slightest consideration, as a baron in the Presbyterian Community Church, East Tenth street and University place, once American dollars to start him on his first objective and enough American ideas to win the approval of his Viennese sweetheart.)

Julius has a degree from the law school of the University of Leoben, Poland. He speaks four languages and wears the stars of a Polish and Austrian lieutenant.

But all these things are but memories to the young man who instead wears a white jacket and apron and handles a blue lunch tray just as dexterously as he formerly handled his sabre.

PREPARING FOR SENIOR DRAMA

Union High School Class to Present "In the Heart of Arizona" in February.

UNION, (Special)—Supt. Ray Graham is coaching the Senior class of the high school for their play "In the Heart of Arizona" which they plan to put on at the gymnasium some time during February. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maxwell, who came to Union to attend his mother's funeral, returned to their home in Portland last Wednesday.

Although the weather for the past few days has not been very suitable for ice harvest, several Union business houses are receiving their supply from North Powder and storing it away for the summer. Some of the ice is partly melted and not very solid.

The Spray family who came here to spend the Christmas holidays visiting with relatives and friends, and who have been quarantined at the Tony Smith home for some time owing to the children breaking out with the measles almost as soon as they arrived in Union, returned to their home in Joseph last Tuesday.

Three pupils passed the January state examination and received their certificates from the county superintendent. All three of the pupils, Lula Lubbeg, Walter Mayette, and Helen Salling, have entered the high school for the semester just beginning.

Miss Laura Wilson came down from Telocast Saturday to play in the Union-La Grande basketball game.

Union Lodge No. 39, I. O. O. F. installed officers Friday evening. Several visitors from La Grande, Co. and Baker were present. Rex Greger, is the new N. G., Moro Jones V. G., E. F. Reuter Secretary, and William Klubbek Treasurer. After the installation, the members and visitors enjoyed an oyster supper.

Rumors continue to float around concerning the timber and sawmill deal, the latest being that the financial end of the proposition was all settled, but nothing definite would be ready for publication. Mountain Gem Lodge No. 100 met and installed the following officers last Wednesday evening: Pearl Shaw N. G., Eva DeLap, V. G., Vertie Walker R. Sec., Vera Thudel P. Sec., and Edna Holly Treasurer. Several appointments were made.

Union High School has selected its debating team for the year. Vera Shaw, Audrey DeLap, Willie Hesterly and Max Jensen with Ben Seaford and Johnny Gerben as alternates. Their first contest will be with Juntura, February 15-16. The two schools will debate the question of the open shop. One team will go to Juntura and one will remain here to oppose the two debaters. Juntura high sends to Union. Outside judges will be secured to award the points in the two debates.

Clara Seranton was over from La Grande Saturday evening to witness the basketball games.

When it was known that the Elgin girls were not coming to play basketball Friday evening a number of indoor basketball was arranged between the business men and the teachers of Union. The business men started with a rush and made quite a score in the first half hour of play and it seemed as if the faculty were going to be snowed out. Then the teachers rallied and soon had their opponents on the defensive. Lack of second wind defeated the business men as the final tally was 30 to 25. On the final tally was 30 to 25.

The business men were defeated but not conquered, as they are anxious for another game with the faculty.
