PENDLETON IS WHEAT STILL CAUCUS SITE IN WAREHOUSE

State Wool Growers' Association Will Meet in Pendleton on January 28-29.

PENDLETON, Or. (Special)—Frank Hargreath, president, and F. H. Marshall, secretary of the National Wool Growers' association will attend the convention at Pendleton January 28th and 29th. The importance of maintaining the present tariff of wool will be one of the subjects to be stressed at the convention. Dr. W. S. McClure, formerly secretary of the National Wool Growers' association will be here to deliver an address.

Dr. J. E. Edline, Federal inspector, bureau of animal industry, will be at the convention and will assist in harmonizing the differences that have existed between the Idaho State Sheep Board and the Oregon State Livestock Sanitary Board relative to shipments of sheep into Idaho and the reports that have been entered as to inspection and dipping. Edline believes that the principal trouble is a lack of understanding between the boards.

The problem of properly studying the voluminous data covering the proposed increase in grazing fees will be in the hands of the regular Forest Service committee which President Fred W. Fall has named. This committee will be called together one day preceding the convention in order that it may get the data properly assimilated before the convention opens. One representative from each of the Blue Mountain forests will make up the balance of this committee.

Considerable interest is evident in the work of Biological Survey in its work of exterminating predatory animals. There will be some opposition to the work as carried on by the service in charge of Stanley G. Jowett and a conference will be held at the convention to discuss all sides of the matter.

Wm. Pollman, president of the Oregon Horse and Cattleman's association of Oregon will deliver an address on the work of the Northwest "Shippers Traffic League."

The wool buyers along the coast will all be at the Pendleton convention and while it is not expected that there will be any early contracting or actual sales of wool during the convention the buyers will have their eyes open and their ears to the ground.

Estimates Are That Only One-Third of Wallowa Wheat Crop Now Sold.

WALLOWA (Special).—H. M. Phoffer, manager of the local warehouse here, reports that fully two-thirds of the wheat still remains in the warehouse, the greater part of the wheat which has been shipped out, has gone to the Grain Growers' association while the larger part of the wheat still in the warehouse belongs to farmers who have been holding for a higher price. The price of wheat here now, is reported to be around 75 cents per bushel, with red wheats 2 cents below this figure. The price of grain and other feed remains practically the same as the figures of a month ago. Alfalfa hay in the stack is said to be worth around $10 per ton, while first class timothy is some higher.

The weather has been quite changeable here during the past week, the first of the week was quite blustery, with some snow falling in the higher sections, and with a strong wind was blown into drifts of considerable depth at many places. Friday the weather became colder with the thermometer registering 2 below zero Saturday morning. While Sunday morning was somewhat warmer with cloud overcasting the sky.

Reports from the upper end of the valley are to the effect that incense has spread over a wide area, many grown-ups have contracted them, and several have been quite sick, especially if a cold was taken with them. Two cases are reported to have developed in Wallowa within the past few days.

At Gladvale, the well known welder, was in town the last of the week.

The Wallowa grange met January 19. Dinner was served by the ladies of the grange, a short entertainment program was given by members and visitors. W. H. Gekker of La Grande acted as installing officer. All newly elected officers present were installed and instructed in the duties of their office. A committee was appointed to arrange for the Pomona grange meeting to be held February 2, 1924. Some of the best speakers on farm questions in the state have been secured for this occasion. Among them are Mr. Eloff, and Mr. Hurd of the extension service, and Mr. Mickle, dairy and food commissioner. With the cold weather being experienced here, the shortage of wood has been keenly felt here, the price has advanced from $2 to $2.50 in the past two weeks and it has been very difficult to get even at this high price. Several cars of coal have been used this winter. Coal has been selling at $14 and $15 per ton. Many of the farmers in the county away from the woods find it difficult to get wood, the greater part of them live too far from the reserve to make a trip in a day, and are unable to get wood from the companies owning the large tracts of timber within reach. These companies do not desire to sell even dry and down wood.

MT. GLEN WILL GET HIGHWAY

MT. GLEN (Special).—The residents of Mt. Glen are jubilant over the prospect of a new highway this year. The county court having granted their petition for the much needed improvement.

He is connected with the Davies-Johnson Lumber company, one of the largest concerns in the west, with large mills and timber interests in Washington, Oregon and California. Mr. Whiting reports that market conditions are very satisfactory for their business and that great improvements and extensions are being carried on.

Mrs. Pearl T. Gilbert is in California with her daughter, Miss Maude Gilbert, who has been teaching school near Salt Lake City for several years, but on account of ill health has been obliged to discontinue teaching.

Miss Myrtle Gilbert has withdrawn from the La Grande high school and is now attending the Union high school.

Baker Natatorium to Be Heated by Power

BAKER, Or.—The addition of a new water wheel, a generator and an exciter which will increase the capacity of the municipal lighting plant from 75 to 115 kilowatts, and the decision to heat the water of the natatorium have been definitely determined upon by the city council. It is expected the improvements will be completed about the last of May, and Mayor C. L. Palmer yesterday.

Mayor Palmer has recently returned from an investigation tour relative to the city natatorium and has recommended to the city fathers that the ceiling of the "nat" which has become loosened by moisture be done away with entirely, save for the roofing of the building, and that the dance hall and the auditorium be partitioned off to prevent further damage from the moisture.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (INS)—"The high cost of living in America is due to lack of standardization," asserted Calvin W. Rice, secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, addressing a local audience. "You can't sit down to a banquet table without seeing at least three models of drinking tumblers. Of sixty-five types of censors a catalogue contained this reference: 'Each of these can be obtained in ten different finishes.'"

"Industry in America is not subsidized," continued Secretary Rice. "It first uses its own resources, and America is compelled to compete with Great Britain and Germany, whose industries are to a certain extent subsidized."

"Great Britain's Government started standardization nearly twenty-five years ago. The Government appropriated $5,000,000."

U. S. MONEY ORDER SERVICE EXTENDED

WASHINGTON, (INS)—For the first time in history postal money orders may now be exchanged between the United States, Ireland and the Straits Settlement, without having to pass through England, it is announced at the Post Office Department.

Postal money orders also may now be sent to the kingdoms of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes under that name. Prior to the war postal money orders were exchanged with Serbia and Austria-Hungary, from which the new states have been carved.

Postal money orders for the Irish Free State and the Straits Settlement heretofore have been exchanged by way of England; under the new ruling payments can now be made direct from remitter to payee, instead of passing thru a third country.

Gr. Hardists Meet Saturday.
HOOD RIVER, Or.—The first mid-Columbia meeting of orchardists, called for to be in on the independent co-operative sales of apples, as suggested by Isaac D. Hunt at a conference held at Yakima, Wash., last week, under auspices of the Washington State Chamber of Commerce, will convene at Parkdale, an address will be delivered by Truman Butler, local banker, who was a delegate at Yakima last week.

WALES LEAVES IN MAY ON SOUTH AFRICAN TRIP

LONDON (I.N.S.)—May 2 has been provisionally fixed as the date for the departure of the Prince of Wales on his state visit to South Africa.

It has been found impossible to detach a battle cruiser from the British Atlantic fleet for the Prince to travel in, so that he will make the voyage in one of the ordinary liners.

He will not travel as an ordinary passenger, however, and special arrangements will be prepared for the Prince and his staff.

He will be away about three months.
