

EVENING OBSERVER PICTURE PAGE

CAPITAL DEB. Shown above is Miss Nancy Denoist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Denoist of Washington, and one of the national capital's most charming debutantes. Miss Denoist's debut will take place at one of the season's early events.

ART CRITICS HAVE PRONOUNCED IT one of the most beautiful fountains to be found in the United States. It is the Bartholdi fountain located at the botanical gardens in Washington, near the capitol. It was designed by Frederic Augustus Bartholdi, creator of the Statue of Liberty, and was purchased by Congress for $6000.

CHIEF MANY F. D. FEATHERS is seen here standing his tips of peace. The old fellow—no one knows exactly how old he is—enjoys a quiet hour or two with the old duden at his wigwag in Glacier National Park. He is a familiar figure to thousands of tourists who journey each year to the great natural park.

ROCKY FOR PHILADELPHIA! You will note here a bit of action in the recent hockey game between an all-Philadelphia team of girl players and the Bryn Mawr varsity team. Bryn Mawr went down to defeat in the time of 7 to 1.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER. Meet Miss Grace L. daughter of the former president of the Chinese republic, Miss L. a recent caller at the White House, where she paid her respects to President Coolidge, is a student at Wellesley.

FRONT! PAGE MR. VAN DYCK. We have with us today Mr. "Jimmy" Haffey, bellboy at the Robert Morris Hotel, in Philadelphia, who spends his spare time trying to emulate the old masters. Jimmy recently won first prize and an award of $150 by painting the successful poster in an automobile show contest.

RESEMBLES HIS FATHER. If you look closely enough, you will note the striking resemblance between Calvin Coolidge Jr., youngest son of the president, and his famous father. Young Calvin is shown here taking a little canter with Dr. Boone, one of the White House physicians. Both are very fond of the saddle.

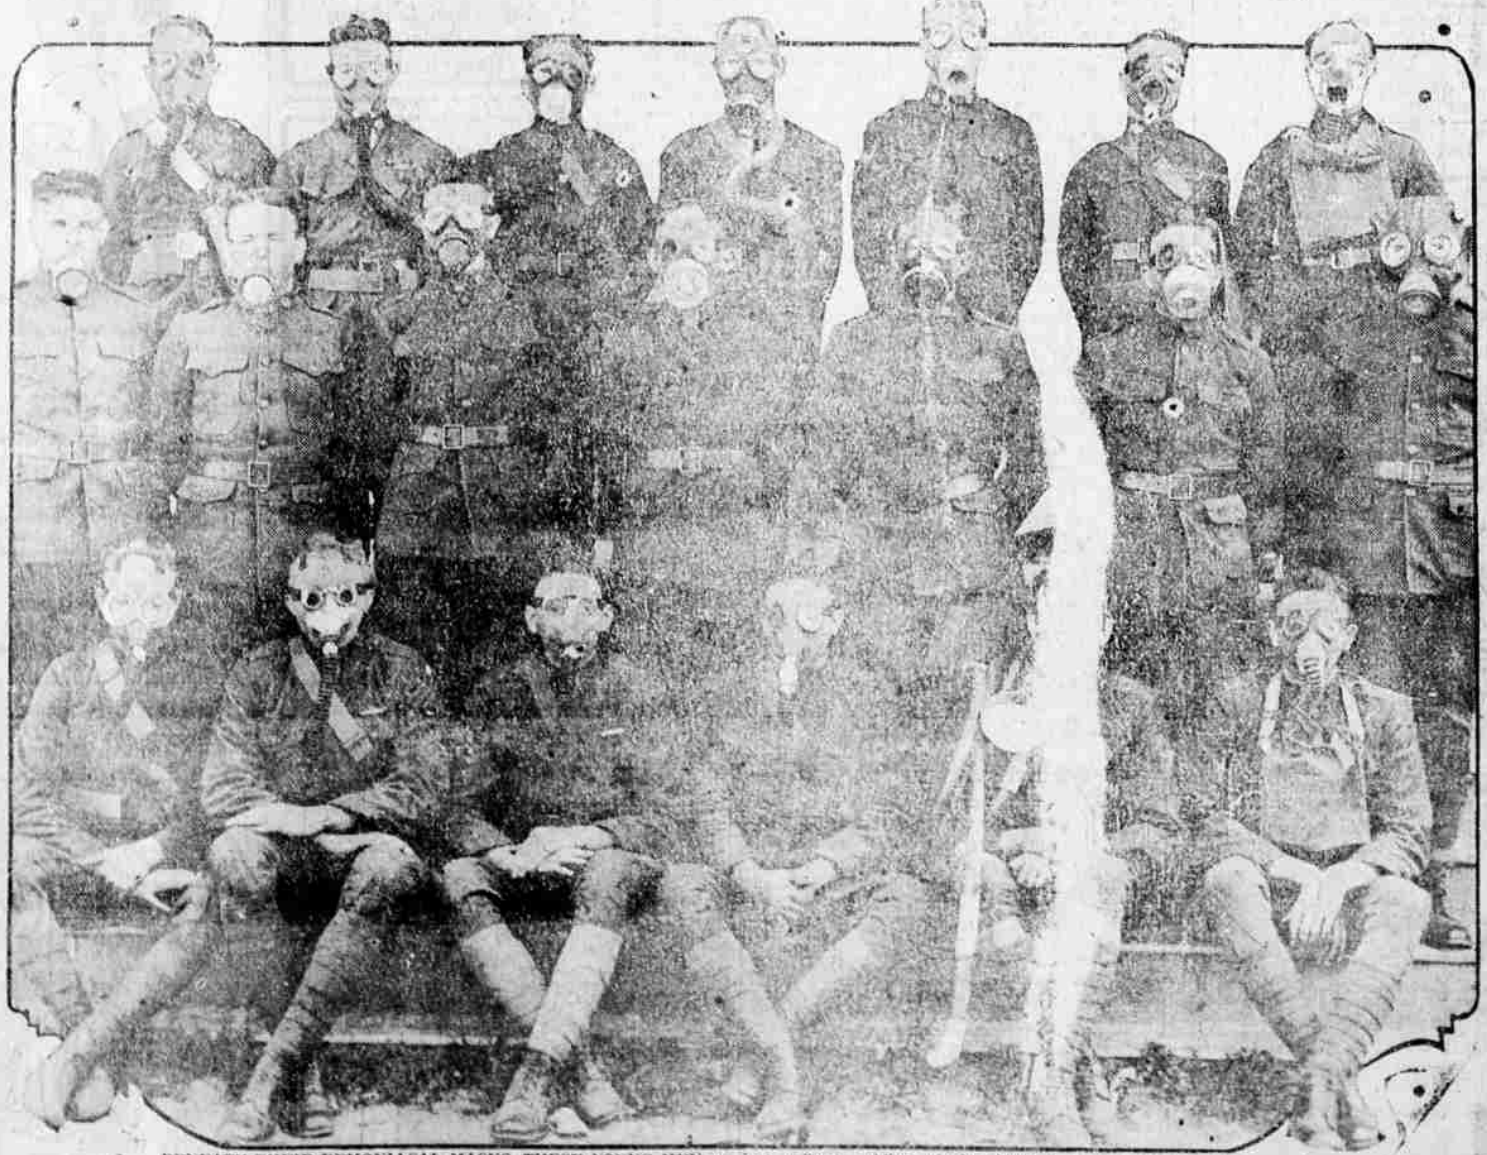

YES, MOVIE IDOLS HAVE FAMILIES. We have here the well-known screen star, Eleanor Grier, and her little daughter, Suzanne. Young Miss Grier seems to be quite interested in the adventures of Peter Rabbit. And so does mother, for that matter.

COLLEGE ROMANCE. The engagement of Miss Beatrice Henning, shown here, was announced recently at a dance in Washington. Miss Henning, daughter of Assistant Secretary of Labor E. J. Henning, is a recent graduate of Georgetown University, and will marry George Shaw of Washington, graduate of Georgetown University.

BONUS IS HIS HOBBY. This is Marvin H. Sperry, national president of the Soldiers and Sailors League. The photograph was taken recently at the White House in Washington, where he talked with President Coolidge regarding a soldier bonus.

BENEATH THEIR DEMONIAL MASKS, THESE YOUNG MEN are just ordinary soldiers of the chemical warfare service. They are shown wearing every kind and variety of gas mask as far developed. From the first days of poison gas launched by the Germans, when a wet cloth was the only protection, this layout of up-to-date equipment has come into use. The collection includes the ordinary gas mask, the diaphragm mask for telephone use, the navy submarine mask, the "optical" mask for use with binoculars and the "hose" mask.
