"The Eternal Struggle" At Sherrys Last Time Today.

Roginald Barker had done it again! The man who made "The Storm" and "Hearts Affaire" has added another supreme dramatic achievement to his credit in "The Eternal Struggle," the Metro picture now playing at the Sherry Theatre. The story is superbly handled and keeps one enthralled throughout the entire unfolding.

The cast is in keeping with the superior direction, for each one of the players is a top-notch actor who could stand in an ordinary production. Hence Adeve, who is a comparative newcomer to the films, as Andre Grange, the tempestuous little French Canadian, gives a performance that ranks her among the great stars at the top of the ladder. Pat O'Malley, as the devil-may-care Buckley O'Hara, does some of the best work of his career, surpassing his superlative performance in "Brothers Under the Skin." Barbara La Marr, as Camille Le Noir, is cast as an adventuress, and "The Green Goddess" Opens 3-Day Run At Arcade Today.

Powerful in plot, swift in action and with superb acting, "The Green Goddess," produced by Distributive Pictures Corporation, begins a three-day engagement at the Arcade Theatre today. It has about everything a picture should have and perhaps a little more. Magnificent settings and wonderful costumes add to the general excellence. It is a big picture, done in a big way. Seldom has anything been done on the screen to equal the main scenes in which several thousand people appear. Sidney Clift, who directed "The Green Goddess" is deserving of a little praise for his art handling of these mass and subtle dramatic situations.

The distinguished actor, George Arlino, is the star and Alice Joyce making her return to the screen after two years' absence, has the leading feminine role. The supporting cast includes David Powell, Harry T. Morey, Jettie Gonda, Ivan Simpson and William Worthington.

The story of "The Green Goddess," adapted by Forrest Halsey from the highly successful play of the same name by William Archer, deals with the adventures of a party of English residents of a island of an unscrupulous Italian.

PARK STANDS WINTER OKEH

THE PARK (Special) — Mrs. George Loney of Big Creek was visiting her sister Mrs. A. J. Vandervanter last week.

Leslie Miller is hauling wood for Patrick Powers of the Cottage at Medical Springs.

George Loney, old time resident of this vicinity and now of Big Creek, passed through here on his way to Bidger Flat, where he has a position with the Jacob and Helen sawmill outfit.

Edward Wolf, student at the Cass "H" camp here on a short visit, spending the week-end with his mother Mrs. Lydia Vandervanter.

Miss Ida O. Hunter visited Mary and Elva Vandervanter last week.

Oella Vandervanter, little daughter of A. J. Vandervanter, is on the sick list this week and is not attending school by order of the doctor.

Bert Van killed four hogs for their own table last week. They weighed 200 pounds each. Mrs. Van is now busy rendering the large quantity of lard taken from the fat animals.

A. J. Vandervanter was a passenger on the Medical-Laker stage on business in the Queen City and incidentally collecting brooding bills from the ranchers of Baker Valley, where he does the thrashing, last fall.

Joseph Lay and family spent a delightful time with their friends at Robert Wainker's place on Big Creek. They participated in a dance given there last week.

Clayton Lay was taking his father's place driving the Union Stage and mail, during the illness of his little sister, who was reported seriously sick the last part of the week.

Clarence Vandover assisted Bert Van in the butchering of hogs last week killing one at the same time for himself.

A load of dressed lumber went from the Park to the La Grande markets, there being no market in Union for meat at the present time. The load was hauled on sleighs as far as the snow lasted. Then Roy Hall came with a truck taking the load from there on to the city.

Jack Hunter, Jr., visited with his parents at the Park last Saturday, returning to his school Sunday evening. He reports considerable snow on the trail across the mountain at Smith's.

The Hunter family at the Big Log Cabin were neighborly treated with a generous amount of meat, consisting of spareribs, pig-feet and sausage. This was sent by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Vandervanter and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vandover, after they had done their butchering.

Kenneth Vandover called with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vandover on Sunday afternoon, returning to his work at Big Creek in the evening.

Clarence Vandover has cut considerable wood with a drag-saw. He also cut post timbers, which he is hauling out of the mountain between feeding his stock and doing the winter's chores. It is rumored that E. O. Zeek, of Union, will start a saw-mill at Little Park, on the road to Tolocast early this spring.

There is talk of Clarence Vandover and Bert Van starting a small portable mill on the Vandover's place for the cutting of lumber into lumber for their own building material, as they are contemplating building extensively in the near future.

Poachers have killed a deer between the two roads above Bidger Flat's ranch and then boldly carried the animal in the snow to the road, then in the road for some distance. The warden was notified and came to the scene, but no arrest has been reported here as yet.

It is in the report here that the Big Mountain Lumber Company will erect a saw-mill somewhere on Catherine creek, at the base of the timber holdings which they recently purchased from the Scott Lumber Company early in the spring. It is said that a local man has been awarded the contract to build the largest plant and that the location will be at Smith's ranch near the summit on the Medical Spring Road.

Mrs. S. Godsey was in Union on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Neva Greenwood, last week.

Ed (Archie) had an operation performed of a nasal and catarrhal nature a few weeks ago, of which he is now recuperating.

J. H. Foster was marketing cabbages to the Union stores the other day. Jos had a good garden patch, which helps along in the winter months.

Roy Jones and family are in excellent trim these cold days. They were in Union the other day and was heard to say so.

Ed Miles was in Union on business last week.

Clarence B. Wood of Union has a
