

Let the Sunshine In Through Soft Spring Draperies

Such a riot of rich and delicate colors are here, it will be no trouble to find just the window and other draperies you want to complete the color schemes of any room. All over designs copied from ancient tapestries; Japanese pongee; hand-blocked cretonnes from England; a new silky fabric striped in mulberry—these are just a few of them.

OREGON COACH ACTIVE SPORT REAL ATHLETE PROGRAM SEEN

Joseph H. Maddock Was One of the Greatest Tackles in Michigan's Grid History.

EUGENE, (Special) — Joseph H. Maddock, a product of "Hurry-up" Yost's coaching system and one of the greatest tackles in Michigan's football history, succeeds "Shy" Hamilton as coach of the University of Oregon football team. He was elected by the executive council of the associated students upon the recommendation of Virgil Earl, University director of athletics, who made a tour of the country interviewing twenty-two applicants for the coaching position.

Walter Camp and every other leading critic selected Maddock on the 1924 All-Western team. He was named by several others of the All-American eleven. Camp said of him: "Maddock is a powerful, rugged player, strong on defense and in breaking up plays and showed wit in his final and important contest."

The new Oregon coach has had an excellent coaching record. He was first assistant to Yost in the seasons of 1920 and 1921. Before joining the Michigan coaching staff, he was director of athletics and physical education at Idaho Falls, where he coached basketball, baseball, and track during the period, 1918 to 1922. With that championship team,

California and Stanford to Fight for Right to Enter National Contests.

SAN FRANCISCO, (SPO) — Facing the most ambitious Spring sport program in years, Stanford and University of California athletes are preparing for a battle to win the right to represent the Pacific Coast in national championship events.

At Berkeley plans have been made not only to keep California in front in track and baseball, but to name far-western crew honoree, Carroll Wright, of the University of Washington, who, like Ed Leander, of Yale, is a disciple of Coach Hiram Bunker, has been selected to put the Bears on the crew team. Coach Wright will be assisted by another Berkeley school product, Russell Naylor, an excellent coach. Five veterans are available to the Blue and Gold crew, and, with those men, Wright has high hopes of defeating Washington and then appearing in the Pacific Coast championship in the national regatta at Puget Sound.

Many California high schools are now turning out crews, giving the Bears plenty of material. Coach Walter Christie has more than 100 athletes out for track, and California has its own fast crew upon the fourth U. S. A. A. B. B. Captain Neufeld, Lane and Hurd are veteran performers around whom Christie will build his 1924 team.

At Palo Alto Coach Dick Tompkins is showing more than a limited trackmen through their paces, and Stanford will offer real competition to the Bears this Spring. Frank Nevers, Cardinal grid star, will compete in the discus javelin and shot events.

California's track schedule includes the University of Southern California, March 22; University of Illinois, April 19; and a week later Stanford. For Western relay races are fixed for May 19.

In baseball Stanford is expected this Spring to furnish a struggle for California, which in recent years has ramped over Cardinal diamond players. Coach Harry Walter has an excellent men out, Tommie Hanks, Texaco, Lewenstein, Solomon, Oviatt, Nevers and Fitzgerald, who will make up the Red Bluffs pitching staff.

California has a large number of old stars in school, and its home ball schedule includes games with Stanford University of Southern California, St. Mary's, Pomona and several independent clubs. Swimming is rapidly becoming a leading minor sport at Stanford. The Cardinals this year will meet California water polo and "sides" will seem to have to the national intercollegiate swimming events in New York in March and to the National A. A. U. championship in Chicago in April.

AGGIES BEATEN BY WEBFOOTERS AT BASKETBALL

EUGENE (By the Associated Press)—The University of Oregon's basketball team will top the Pacific Coast northwest conference by virtue of a 25 to 20 victory over Oregon Agricultural College here Friday night. Lathrop, tall center and Gowans, forward for Oregon were the outstanding players. Gill, O. A. C. scored three times on long shots from the middle of the floor.

The Oregon five man defense was a strong factor in the keeping the scores of the invaders down. Shafter, Oregon guard, checked closely and in addition scored four points. Gill, O. A. C. forward, was highpoint man of the game with ten points, six from the center of the floor and four from five attempts at free throw.

Pancho Villa Beats Flyweight Champion

NEW YORK, (AP) — Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, went out of his class Friday night and decisively outpointed George Maris, California flyweight, in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden. Villa's title was not at stake as Maris weighed 116 1/2 pounds, four and a half pounds over the limit.

UNION BEATEN BY BAKER HIGH

Fast Basketball Game Lost in Last Quarter; Final Score, Baker 29, Union 17.

UNION, (Special)—Union high school's basketball team lost a fast game to Baker high school last evening in Baker. The final score was Baker 29, Union 17.

Union losers maintained a pace in the first three quarters of the game that indicated that the contest would be anybody's until the final whistle blew but in the final period, with the score, Baker 22, Union 10, the local team was unable to stop a desperate last minute rally that netted Baker 17 points while Union scored 7.

Several rosters accompanied the team to Baker and reported that the game was a good, clean exhibition of real basketball.

Homer Jamison, of Baker, reported.

General Butler Balles

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Gen. Sen. Smalley D. Butler, director of public safety of this city, was suggested as national prohibition enforcement chief by Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy, who was here Friday.

"Nothing doing!" General Butler commented. "I wouldn't take that job on a bet."

SAFETY MEASURES REDUCE ACCIDENTS IN COAL REGIONS

HARRISBURG, (AP) — Fewer fatalities, in proportion to the number of miners exposed to risk and the number of days' work, occurred in the Pennsylvania anthracite region in 1923 than in any year during the last half-century, Joseph J. Walsh, state secretary of mines, declared in announcing his preliminary report for the year. There were 103 fatalities last year a number greater than in some other years. Mr. Walsh pointed out, but in the years which had a lower total the number of miners and the number of days worked were considerably less.

The report showed 137 companies operating in the anthracite field and all of the fatalities reported occurred in 54 of these operations. Approximately 70 per cent of the total accidents occurred before noon, Secretary Walsh said, due to the fact that the greatest activity in the mines is during the morning hours.

"The mine puts in his best efforts in the morning because he is fresh," the secretary explained, "and this means the greatest output of coal takes place at that time, so there is more danger of accidents in the first four hours of his day."

The causes of fatalities were classified as follows: Falls of roof and rock, 22; crushed or killed by cars, 62; gas explosions, 43; premature blasts, 48; crushed or killed by machinery, 12; miscellaneous, 121. Of those killed 245 were miners, 53 miners' laborers and the others of various occupations about the mines.

The decrease proportionately of accidents as compared with previous years, Mr. Walsh attributed to the work of the 5,000 inspectors, fire bosses and mine foremen who co-operated with the department of mines in its safety efforts. Through this diligence, he said, there was no fatality or serious accident from gas in any of the state's 2,500 bituminous mines in 1923.

The report showed the approximately 10,000 miners in the anthracite region worked an average of 273 days during the year.

Muldoon Is Defeated For Chairmanship Job

NEW YORK, (AP) — George E. Muldoon, Brooklyn lawyer, Friday became the dominating figure in control of boxing in this state, the national center of fistie activity, when he defeated William Muldoon in a sharp contest for the chairmanship of the New York state athletic commission.

Muldoon's election came as a surprise to boxing circles, despite reports earlier in the week of a disagreement over the reorganization of the commission. The recent reappointment of Muldoon, who had held the chairmanship prior to expiration of his old term the first of the year, was interpreted generally as making the way for his return to supreme authority such as he exercised a year ago.

My Mother told me

The recommendation of friend to friend and of generation to generation is largely responsible for the enormous patronage that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound enjoys. These people know that it is pleasant to take and brings quick relief. It is free from all harmful drugs—cannabis indica, chloroform or any other.

E. Boggess of Pomona, California says: "I am very well pleased with the wonderful relief that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has brought me. I was bed-ridden with coughing, and my mother told me about your wonderful medicine and decided to give it a trial. I have tried many other medicines but none are as soothing as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. I have told my friends and they say there is nothing better."
