Dan Cupid Hits His Mark

Dan Cupid proved himself successful again yesterday, February 14, when a beautiful wedding took place at the Catholic church at 5 o'clock, with Rev. O. Neoy officiating. The bride was Miss Anne Rose, a popular young lady of La Grande and the groom, Hugh E. Brady, local justice of the peace, and a very prosperous young man. The bride was given away by her father, Julius Roesech, and her accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Fitzgerald attended by J. J. Foley acted as best man. The bride wore an exquisite beaded tulle gown and had a beautiful carriage bouquet of orchids. The bridesmaid wore a lovely pink beaded, sequined, crepe dress. Only relatives and a few friends were present at the ceremony.

At 10:30 o'clock the bridal party retired to the Country club where they were served a delightful wedding breakfast and a delicious bridal cake, made by Herman Roesech.

The decorations for the occasion were cleverly carried out in a color scheme of pink and white, presiding the St. Valentine season. The many friends of this prominent couple are extending their heartiest congratulations, and wish them many years of happiness.

La Grande's Business Women's club met in a very happy social event last evening at the Sumner hotel when more than a hundred ladies engaged in business pursuits in the city entered into the spirit of a delightful Valentine party. The dining room was decorated in the Valentine heart and strings of red and white. The banquet was excellent and well served.

Mrs. A. J. Richardson sang two numbers which were received with vigorous applause calling for an encore selection. Mrs. W. W. Berry accompanied her at the piano. Miss Isabelle Miller, a member of the organization, gave three social numbers which received high appreciation. Miss Gladys Miller accompanied her.

At a proper hour the Chamber of Commerce quartet entered the banquet hall and sang for the ladies in such a manner that great permission was used to have them remain longer. With their usual generous attitude members of the quartet sang two more selections before leaving the hall.

Miss Grace Allen, president of the organization, presided in a very dignified and efficient manner. While Miss Inez Russell, past president acted as a very capable aide in assisting in the program and the banquet, Miss Allen acted as toastmistress and in a pleasant address told the ladies the mission of the organization. Its history and its intended future program. She then called Miss Hopper, of Portland, who represented Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar in the Oregon Health association. Miss Hopper told of the work her association is doing and asked co-operation from the ladies in her campaign. The other speaker at the banquet was Bruce Thomas of the Evening Observer, who addressed the ladies along business lines, the history of women in business and gave a few of the old business rules for consideration.

The federation spirit was in the air as plainly shown by the following official song which was sung during the evening by the entire body.

In Oregon we'll federate, we women who are working, Our numbers all are up-to-date, and not a one is shirking.

Oregon, we're full of pep, Like to keep things humming, Oregon, just watch our step, We're always up and coming.

Mrs. W. H. Leisman proved her self a very charming hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained the Alpha club at her home on O avenue. Bridge was the feature of the afternoon and four tables were in play, with the club prize going to Mrs. A. W. Nelson and Mrs. Ray Murphy winning the guest prize. Mrs. Hal Bohnenkamp won the consolation prize.

Mrs. Leisman's home was elegantly decorated with pussy willows and exquisite red carnations and during the afternoon a delicious two course luncheon was served.

The Wednesday Bridge club spent a delightful afternoon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. G. I. Larson. The time was enjoyably spent at bridge with club honors going to Mrs. Howard O'Brien and the guest prize going to Mrs. Chas. Bohnenkamp. During the afternoon a delicious luncheon was served by the charming hostess.

The club will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. A. V. Andrews as hostess at her home on Adams avenue.

The Lucky Thirteen club was charmingly entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Holtons. The afternoon was passed too soon as bridge with the club prize going to Mrs. Robert Newlin and the guest prize going to Mrs. Della Green.

The room was beautifully decorated to represent the St. Valentine season and before adjournment a delicious two course luncheon was served, which also corresponded with the occasion.

The Ladies Parish and Mission Society of the Zion Lutheran church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emil Gaertner on East M avenue, with Miss Ella Gaertner assisting as hostess. Among other matters of interest during the business meeting plans were made and committees appointed to arrange a social for Friday evening, February 22, at Lane Chapel.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in honor of St. Valentine and the same color scheme carried out in the delicious luncheon served by the hostess.

Mrs. Ray Murphy will be hostess to the Clio club tomorrow afternoon.

The Mission Band of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Anderson, 507 Adams avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All members and friends are urged to be there.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS

The Winnemago Campfire Girls gathered at the home of Mrs. Short, February 11, for a fun time. A short business session was held first. The girls decided that at the next meeting they would bring candies to decorate, besides various other things to work on.

Gertrude Swanton gave an account of her visit to the Campfire headquarters at Portland. Shortly after that each girl, representing a Mother Goose character, acted her part. Delicious ice cream was served by their guardian. Every fourth meeting will be a fun meeting.

No woman is too intellectual to fall for the assurance that she has a bewitching beauty.

Designs Brocaded or Woven

Figured materials are expected to be fashionable this spring and an especial vogue is predicted for both silk and woollen materials in which the design is woven or brocaded. The dress sketched shows a figured silk with side pleats of plain stuff.

LOVE LETTERS TYPED SHOCKS SOCIAL MENTOR

PARIS (AP)—Andre de Fouquieres, who is universally accepted in France as the highest authority on social etiquette, has been asked his ruling whether a member of society, of the male sex, should use a typewriter for a letter to another member of society, of the female sex, if the letter is not strictly limited to business matters.

Decidedly not, says M. de Fouquieres. "The most elementary proper feeling and the simplest courtesy exact that any such letter be written by hand," he declares. "It is impossible even to imagine a type letter being addressed to a woman, although the contents might be more commonplace; how much more inconceivable, then."

would a typed letter be if it expressed tender affections? Such a letter is bad form in that it allows the supposition that it may have been dictated to a third person."
