TEACHERS IN ELGIN TODAY
 direction of Mrs. Charles Cross, have been preparing for a noon luncheon and various numbers of interest have been arranged for the day's program.

DROPS MELLON SURTAX RATES
 words it was announced that no attempt would be made to obtain a vote on the 25 per cent surtax maximum when a show-down comes next week on the income tax schedule.

Adopt 25 Per Cent Rate
 Instead, the Republicans in making a stand for a 25 per cent rate as a compromise will endeavor to so shape the situation that a vote on such a proposal will come before the Democrats can force a roll call on their recommitment that surtaxes range upward to 44 per cent.

The Republican leaders indicated that if voted on 25 per cent, they would gradually yield upward, perhaps to 37, then to 40 per cent, if necessary, in an effort to command a majority. Republicans and Democrats alike agreed Friday there was no possibility of a favorable vote in the house on the Mellon surtax rate. Some Republicans expressed confidence that the 25 per cent maximum could be pulled through, although others were dubious.

While declining to predict that the Republicans could muster enough votes for the 25 per cent rate, Mr. Longworth declared that the rate agreed upon would be less than 44 per cent.

Democrat Confident
 On the other hand, Democratic leaders are confident that with the aid of Republicans unwilling to go along with the organization, they can write their income tax schedule into the bill. Representative Garner of Texas, ranking lieutenant of the ways and means committee, asserted there was a majority in sight for the rates carried in his substitute. Representative Garner, the Democratic leader, made this prediction:

"The tax bill as it is passed by the house will be the Democratic plan."

At the Republican conference Friday those who discussed the tax situation, in addition to Speaker Gillett and Mr. Longworth, were members of the Republican steering committee, Chairman Green of the ways and means committee and Representatives Tibson of Connecticut and Mills of New York, members of the committee. Further conferences will be held during the next few days for a discussion of parliamentary strategy.

Voting on the income tax provisions of the bill probably will be held in the Senate.

London (AP)—The first result of the strike is a prohibited rise in food prices.

It is believed that the strikers have sufficient funds to prolong the strike long enough to cause great damage.

RESOLUTIONS PAY RESPECT

Circuit Court Adopts Resolutions Honoring Memory of Turner Oliver and C. D. Huffman

At memorial services held Tuesday afternoon in the circuit court, with Judge J. W. Knowles presiding, high tributes were paid to Turner Oliver and C. D. Huffman, deceased, and resolutions in memory of the two were adopted.

The resolutions honoring the memory of Turner Oliver, deceased; wherefore Turner Oliver was a member of the bar of Union county for many years and wherefore he was a citizen of Union county practically his entire lifetime, having been raised on a farm near Hammondsville, Union county, and having grown to manhood in this county. And

Whereas in the death of Turner Oliver the people of Union county have lost a citizen who always stood for those things which would honor and help the people of the community and the members of the bar of this county have lost a man who was always a friend to every other member of the bar.

Now, therefore, be it resolved that in the death of Turner Oliver the bar of Union county and the state at large has lost an able and useful man and the state has lost a splendid citizen whose record will remain long after his death and his family has lost a kind and loving companion, husband and loved one.

That the Hon. C. D. Huffman died at his home near the city of La Grande, this county on the 24th day of November, 1923, while he was serving as a bailiff of this court following a short illness, Mr. Huffman was a man of well rounded character, combining all the virtues of the pioneer with a deep and pleasing appreciation of modern progress and present day conditions. He was a man of decided and pronounced convictions and could differ with others without offense and respect the honest view of all. He was void of cant, was religious, without hypocrisy and a politician without being a demagogue. He was prosperous without being dishonest, and preached and practiced the gospel of industry and enlightenment, and above all was a man who attended, at all times, to his own business, a citizen in every walk of life, without regard to his position in society. He was a man of high character and high worth and character of Mr. Huffman we beg to submit for adoption the following resolution:

Resolved: That in the death of Hon. C. D. Huffman, this court has lost a faithful and honest public official and servant. That the community has lost a faithful and helpful neighbor and citizen; his family has lost a kind and affectionate member. In all its relationships. That his example should inspire all to be guided by the polar star of duty in every activity of life to the end all life should be made nobler and purer thereby.

Be it further resolved that these resolutions be entered into the journal of this court and that a copy be furnished to the family of the deceased and the local newspaper, dated at La Grande, Union county, Oregon, February 14, 1924.

The resolution in memory of Turner Oliver was signed by George Cochran, Robert S. Eakin, H. A. Dixon and Judge Knowles and the resolution honoring C. D. Huffman was signed by Judge Knowles, P. E. Ivanhoe, J. D. Short and R. J. Green.

REHEARSAL TO MIMIC "FOLLIES"

ality to a civic institution like the Chautauqua which the cast has demonstrated since rehearsal began.

Story Gripping One
 The story of the play, fascinating and gripping. Intrigue of politicians has quest and presented an honest jurist of the supreme court. With this the play opens, and how friends attempt to restore justice to his honor, his tortures and his position makes interesting drama. Is he restored? Is right vindicated? You will be surprised at the outcome, to say the least. It is a modern play, with modern problems. Those who will interpret the parts are schooled persons.

Mrs. Lorna Coolidge who carries the leading role is fresh from the University of Oregon Players. Ernest Watkins, Dr. Ray Murphy, the other principal characters of the story, are likewise U. of O. players of repute. All the others are familiar and experienced actors in local theatres.

The cast is as follows:
 Endoxus, servant to the Rossums, Mrs. L. H. Russell; Pontifex Deeth, protector of his flock, Auditor Playor; Jane Deeth, his sister, Mrs. A. W. Nelson; Mrs. Rossums, Mrs. Donald M. Egan; Miss Nesbitt, frivolous urban social leader, Miss Longworth; Judge Rossums, unscrupled attorney, court jurist, H. E. Coolidge; Judge Stett, friend of Rossums, Hugh Brady; Shirley Rossums, daughter of Rossums, Miss Lorna Coolidge; Jefferson Ryder, Dr. Ray Murphy; Percy Bagley, Dr. 4 years and grown to the second son of the royal family, C. W. Binmer; Kate Roberts, Mrs. Chase Holtenkamp; Mrs. John Burgess, Ryder, Mrs. C. E. Stett; Jockins, Ryder's butler, Auditor Playor; John Burkett Ryder, most powerful financier of his time, Ernest Watkins; Maid, Miss Coolidge.

The story is laid in New York and Long Island.

CHICAGO "U" AND NORTHWESTERN NOT SO STRONG

(By Kenneth Harris)

CHICAGO (INS)—With only a small portion of their student body grouped in the stellar college class, neither Chicago nor Northwestern universities are expected to shatter any athletic records in Big Ten circles during 1924, in the opinion of those familiar with sporting events in scholastic circles hereabouts. In fact, coaches of the various groups which will vie for highest honors upon the track, gridiron, diamond, basketball court, and those who will compete in other sporting activities are anything but optimistic when conversation veers toward the outlook of their proteges this year.

Although many Northwestern youths have responded to Coach Fred Hill's call for volunteers for track work he is of the opinion that as most of them were just beginning to become really interested in athletics Northwestern would be more than fortunate if they broke even in middle-distance running, the relay events, the 400 yard, 800 yard, and other track and field events, as several of the other conference schools will have some very formidable entrants. Of the more than a score of athletes who showed an inclination to enter competitive track events during this year the Purple mentor said only eight were "letter" men.

H. C. Bomcher, a southern Illinois lad, has shown quite a bit of promise of developing into a top-notch pole vaulter. On several occasions since Christmas he has cleared the bar at 12 feet.

Bomcher, however, suffered an attack of the grippe recently and has slumped somewhat.

M. A. Kemp, who has been whipping the Purple basketball team into shape, attributed their poor showing in recent clashes to the smallness of stature of his youngsters. They are rounding into form now, however, and Coach Kemp believes they will be far from the cellar position when the season is concluded.

There was a marked reluctance on the part of everyone affiliated with the Eastern School to discuss either football or baseball prospects when these topics were mentioned. The Purple eleven had a long string of defeats when the pigskin was stowed away two months ago.

The solution of our football dilemma, explained Coach Kemp, who is an assistant of Coach Thibault, the Purple gridiron coach, "lies in the fact that we have quite a large 'fresh' squad to pick from, and Northwestern undoubtedly will chalk up several victories next season."

Predictions were made that if co-ed continue to show the interest in equine sports and skating contests which they exhibited in 1923, then Northwestern will endeavor to interest the feminine students of other schools in these sports, with the intention of making competitive events more popular.

Coach Hill said that a large contingent of the Purple athletes probably will be sent to the Kansas relay billed for April 17 and 18 and that it had been definitely decided Northwestern would participate in the Drake relay at Des Moines, Ia., April 25 and 26.

From the quarters of A. A. Stagg, Chicago University's veteran athletic coach, come rumors to the effect that Dr. Montlow, a recent resignation in the Midway School's coaching ranks, has hoisted heaps of pep into the track men. The sprint men, middle-distance runners, pole vaulters and the weight heaver are practicing with unusual vim and, in the opinion of the experts, are on edge for the toughest competition the Big Ten can offer.

Captain Pyott, nominated for all-conference 1923 football honors by many sport writers, together with Brickman, Macfarlane and Stackhouse, has shown lots of class in the dashes, Brickman and Stackhouse are expected to furnish dangerous competition in the hurdles.

For the relay team the Maroons have Pyott, Macfarlane and Jones. Bob Corley is the Midway's only promising pole vaulter. Football fans won't soon forget the heavy somersault who performed so creditably for the Maroons at the quarter-back position this fall.

Coach Stagg's basketball squad has shown quite a bit of class this winter and is expected to find the season in or near the third-place position.

Headlines of various members of the 1923 gridiron machine will not affect the Midway's football

DUBLIN STILL SHOWS SIGNS OF RECENT FIGHTS

DUBLIN (CAP)—Dublin's main thoroughfare, O'Connell St., presents a remarkable appearance. Half of the street was destroyed in rising of Easter Week 1916. The old houses then burned have been replaced by handsome modern buildings, the sole monument of the destruction being the general post office, a beautiful structure, that now stands as an empty shell.

In the fighting of July, last year, after the fall of the Four Courts, the whole of the upper portion of the street on one side was left in ruins and it still looks like the pictures of Ypres. The buildings gutted by the fires are taken down, but the sites have not yet been cleared. With a view to relieving unemployment a movement has been set on foot to clear the sites, after which the whole problem of reconstruction will be discussed with the government which is finding the money to make good the damage. None of the big claims for damage has yet been completely adjusted, and it is not expected that rebuilding can take place before next summer.

WILL DISCUSS COMPENSATION

Adjusted compensation will be discussed at the chamber of commerce luncheon to be held in the I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday at 12:05 o'clock. Ray Williams, commander of the local post, will preside and Fred Stower, of Pendleton, will deliver an address, explaining adjusted compensation.

All business men and ex-servicemen are urged to be present in order to receive viewpoints of the compensation measure that Mr. Stower expects to bring out.

A. T. Hill, chairman of the non-instituting committee, will give the report of the committee Tuesday and Miss Nell Holinger, field representative of the Pacific division of the Red Cross, will give a short talk.
