"Chicago Sal" Comes to Sherrys Theater Today.

Allice Lake and Milton Silla, two accomplished players of the screen—two players who have proved their right to stardom through exceptional acting in scores of pictures—are the featured players in "Chicago Sal," a new living, convincing production for Principal Pictures, comes to Sherry's today. "Chicago Sal" was written by Harvey Gates, an experienced writer for the silent drama, an author thoroughly versed with his theme—a bit of crook's redemption, and the picture is characterized by tense scenes, excellent acting and beautiful photography. "Chicago Sal" is a drama of the city's underworld and the healthy atmosphere of the open country. The locale of the story is Chicago and a small community some miles distant. The action in tense, filled with suspense, offers strong conflict and sharp contrasts, is rich in ideal color and background and moves with a vigor which will keep the spectator at strict attention throughout its unfolding.

Lois Wilson Plays Primitive Part in "To the Last Man"

Plunged from the most congested area in the United States to its least civilized spot within a few days—that was the experience of Lois Wilson, featured player in Paramount pictures when she went to the Tonto Basin, Arizona. A few weeks before Miss Wilson was jostled by vast crowds in New York. From a skyscraper she looked down the canyon of Broadway. Within a short time she stood upon the "rim" and looked down into natural canyons and into the valley where a wagon wheel has never turned. Miss Wilson prefers Arizona to New York for she is a lover of the out-of-doors. She has the featured leading woman's role in "To the Last Man," a Zane Grey production adapted from the author's famous story which comes to the Arcade theatre for three days, starting today.

PARK LADY IS ON SICK LIST

THE PAIR (Special)—Mrs. Irene Gillmore is reported on the sick list along with one of her children. Although it is said not to be serious, friends are anxious for their speedy recovery. Clarence Vanderer will butcher a beef sometime this week for William Phillips, the Union meat mar-

News came to the Park that J. W. Boyle, manager of the valley but never residing in Corvallis, was temporarily detained in a hospital there. The letter does not state the nature of his illness but it is believed that only a slight indisposition is the cause of his stay in the hospital. It is greatly hoped that the next letter will convey news of his recovery. The Godday family are getting along fine and are nearly out of the waves of sickness, measles and cold. The boys are reported at work again.

A. N. Stensholt is preparing for big activities in cutting ties for the new railroad. Ed Miles was in Union the other day shaking hands with many friends.

Joe Foster was in Union transacting business. John Lonsdale was in Union meeting his old friends recently.

Mrs. Freda Group writes from Portland where she is attending the college of stenography, stating that she is well.

A. J. Vanderventer went to Baker Saturday returning Sunday evening. George Laseley is working at the Badger Plan sawmill.

Lester Miller, from Elk Creek, stayed over night Saturday with his sister, Mrs. A. J. Vanderventer, returning home Sunday afternoon. "Uncle" Henry Miller visited a few days with his niece Mrs. Lydia Vanderventer.
