La Grande Well Liked—
 That La Grande makes a dinner impression upon visitors was clearly proved by a letter received by the Evening Observer from Fannie E. Moss, of Creswell, Oregon. It stated: "I spent most of February in La Grande and I cannot recall the temptation to tell you how pleased I was with your city. Also, that I did not see the country at its best, yet it was like seeing time, too. It was my first visit to the beautiful Grande Platte valley. Everyone was so friendly and I came away, something in the mood of the little girl who finds her hour up in the midst of a good time. I left with 'restrained' feet and a backward glance over my shoulder. 'La Grande is all right.'" TO GIVE.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By La Nita Gaskill)
 All the classes had class meetings Tuesday morning for the purpose of distributing events, the tickets on sale for the Senior Play. There is a contest among the classes and the class selling the most tickets will receive five points in the pep contest in which, so far, the Seniors are leading.

The advanced stenography class is starting to double their work a trifle, as they are anxious to start practicing entirely for speed. In order to get their credit for the years work they must be able to make one hundred and twenty-five words per minute and they are all hoping to make it.

In connection with the oratorical contest that is being held in the Senior English classes here, this week, been going rather deeply into the subject of oratory. They have been taking notes on all different kinds of oratory and the proper use of each, as well as reading and discussing some of the best orations by such great and learned men as Webster and Calhoun and some of the great men of the present day. Each member of the class has taken one of the seven subjects offered and they are all preparing their orations on them; these are due on March 13th. All the subjects fit the contest well in some way with the Constitution and it is hoped that this will, in a way, awaken the people to the great need of taking an active interest in the matters of vital importance to the public and to look upon the Constitution under which we are living with more reverence and respect than has, heretofore, been manifested.

The girls' and boys' double quartet have chosen some very pleasing selections for the Senior Play program and have been working very faithfully these last few days. The boys in the quartet are: James Cooker, Joe Frank, Lawrence Kerr, Ralph Webb, the old Schraeder, Sheldon Brownson, Claud Willock, Jack Dennis. Their selections are: "Just a Girl That Men Forget," "Garrison," "Schubert's 'Serenade,'" "The Girls' Quartet by Mildred Webb, La Nita Gaskill, Corin Lee, Daisy Hobbs, Myrtle Willock, Loretta Metcalf, Mildred Fox, Marjorie McGuire. Their selections are: "Dreaming," Schilly, "Spring Song," Mendelssohn.

In the Domestic Department the cafeteria closed Thursday. During the bad weather the cafeteria was run very successfully, but because of the warm weather it was necessary to close.

The girls of the department are planning and preparing for the banquet given by the H Dads Monday night.

There has been rivalry between the History II classes for some time as each has been publishing a feudal newspaper. They went back to the year 1600 which was the time of Ferdinand, and their knights and of the tournaments of the knights and of the work of the Church, which was very important in those days. They also contain jokes, sports, society and editorials just as the present day papers. They will be judged by the faculty and the honors given to the winning class. These papers are very well edited and show the ability of the pupils.

We are all looking forward to the month of April—and why? Why because, in April the A. G. S. students give their annual program commonly called "April Antiques." The entertainment to be given this year shows signs of being the best ever. The girls are now busily engaged in trying to unravel the mystery of "The Priest of the Little Lantern," which is a very charming play but that would be telling. The program has been fully planned and the girls are busy with preparations for the annual event.

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," the Senior Play is unique in that special arrangements have to be made. The play called for scenery the school did not possess and this was built and set up by the manual training department under the direction of Mr. Sawyer. The lighting of the stage has been changed, the now being not only the white and red lights but blue as well. Work is still going on and when this is completed the stage will be equipped with a dinner in addition to the extra lights.

Infant Daughter Dies
 Dora Lillian Houston, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Houston, passed on yesterday at the age of two years and 15 days.

Her death, which is mourned sincerely by the many friends of her parents, was the result of a siege of pneumonia. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Snodgrass and Zimmerman funeral service parlors. Interment will be in the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

200 GATHER TODAY FOR FARM MEET

general conference this afternoon and the recommendations will then be passed upon and accepted, with probably slight changes, for the recommended agricultural program of Union county for the following year.

This is the seventh of a group of conferences which are to be held in each county in the state following the program set at Corvallis during the 22nd and 23rd of this year. The conferences are sponsored by the State Chamber of Commerce, local Chamber of Commerce, Farmers' Geauga, Farmer's Unions, Farm Bureau, Portland Chamber of Commerce, State Bankers' association, Railroad, Oregon Agricultural college, and other organizations interested in the welfare of farmers in general.

The purpose of the conference are to bring about closer co-operation between the educational service, the farmer, and the market. The meetings are in effect largely educational and in this way serve to help the farmer raise bigger crops in a more efficient and profitable manner.

The O. A. C. Extension Service is well represented at the present conference by Paul V. Maris, director of the Service; E. L. Porter, head of the Livestock Department; H. E. Cooby, poultry; M. C. Jamison, Dairy Specialist; C. L. Long, Horticulturist and C. J. Herd, Marketing Expert.

Mr. Maris' speech was one of the good things of the opening day of the conference at Union, yesterday. He reviewed the development of agriculture and pointed out that a new problem confronts the farmer of today due to the development of modern rapid transportation—that of an enlarged area of competition, in some instances competition is nation-wide and even world-wide.

He said in part, "A better balance should be maintained between production and consumption—in other words such a supply should not be raised that it exceeds the demand. That is one purpose of this conference, to make a survey

YOUR QUESTION AND ITS ANSWER
 Question: I would like to ask this question, after an examination: Can you tell positively whether your treatments will benefit me?
 Answer: An examination will not only enable me to locate the true cause of your illness, but it will enable me to give you a sane, logical, easily proven conclusion as to what results you may expect from treatments. This is nothing of the ordinary of good work in the practice of chiropractic and Naturopathy—recognize disease as having one primary cause and I know if the cause is corrected the patient will get well.
 My Electrical Treatments will aid you in getting well. Consultation Free.

of consumption possibilities and advise how to adjust production accordingly." Mr. Maris stated to an Observer reporter, this morning, that the conference at Union had had the most auspicious and successful opening of any held so far. Union county's agriculture agent, H. G. Avery, followed with a talk giving a statement of agricultural conditions in Union county. He said grain production has resulted in a loss in many cases the last two years, fruit growers have also been going behind with the possible exception of cherry raisers, poultry production is about equal to the demand, but cutting of price by growers and the sale of storage eggs have damaged the market, potatoes have been about equal to the demand, livestock has suffered losses in the last few years, dairymen has been profitable so far and would be more profitable if the quality of the stock were improved, the speaker closed by recommending that the Union county farmers take advantage of the reports issued by the O. A. C. extension service.

An interesting feature of today's program was the data prepared by the State Experimental Station at Union and presented by Robert W. Shlemmer, superintendent. W. L. Dutton, who is located on the grazing problem and Paul Carpenter, county agent of Baker county, spoke of the steps being taken to stamp out alfalfa weed.
