Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders. You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then assume. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and it is intended to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent litmus water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

boy, who is aiding in the work of collecting pollen for the cause of hay fever—a movement that has created nation-wide interest. "When a pollen is found that affects a person," declared Dr. Gilroy, "he is given a series of inoculations which cause him to develop a resistance against that kind of pollen."

AUTOMOBILES ARE OUSTING THE SIDEWALK

SAN FRANCISCO (AP).—San Francisco is saving 100,000 sidewalks. The automobile has come to be an automaton that comparatively few San Franciscans wish to combat traffic congestion the man at the wheel is to take some of the space formerly dedicated to the man about.

In a population of approximately 500,000 persons within the city's area of 47 square miles there are 80,000 motor vehicles. One of the pedestrian ways being shaved is Sacramento street, where the Vitellian hang outlaws in the early fifties. Traffic congestion has become so great, however, that city officials have decided that 12 main arteries of automobile travel must be provided through the city.

When San Francisco was laid out, its founders made exceptionally wide streets. Market street, the principal business thoroughfare, being 125 feet wide, but the automobile has upset all calculations for the future. Thus the policy has been adopted that when any through street is required, the roadway will be widened by cutting down the sidewalks and forcing all structures, such as poles, signs, underground conduits, etc., into the sidewalks. It has a width of 13 feet. It has been found that if these carrying telephone and light wires are left in place, they are a constant hindrance to the sidewalk. It is proposed to cut them out without interfering with the street.

Doctor to Airplanes Becomes New Profession in Europe

LONDON (AP).—The vogue of flying in virtually all countries has been the means of creating a demand for an airplane "physician and surgeon." This profession has been taken up by Frank Courtney, who won the King's Cup airplane race here last year. He has been on the continent for some time and has now left for the Arctic circle where he will put new machines through their paces. Several other pilots are acting as consulting "surgeons" to airplane makers. When a first finds any particular plane is not behaving as it should, the "doctor" is called in to spot the trouble and put it right.

He has one car load of cattle to ship and he will devote his time for awhile to his farming interests here on Clover Creek.

Clyde May and family have moved out from North Powder to west for Stanley Shaw for the summer. The Shaws will not move back to the farm until about late October.

And Halstrom was a business visitor to Baker recently. The road work is progressing nicely and will in a short time be

FARM BULLETIN OF PARTICULAR INTEREST, CLAIM

In the face of the discouraging outlook outlook, Farmers Bulletin No. 212, issued by the department of agriculture at Washington is of particular interest. It seems to show very distinctly that a change from the raising of wheat to oats would be financially profitable in western areas where soil and climate are favorable to the growing of oats.

Very illuminating figures in the oat crop of the United States are contained in this bulletin.

by the department of agriculture. These governing statistics seem to prove conclusively the contention long held by the west that the best oats in the country are raised on the Pacific coast. The figures show that not only is the greatest yield per acre secured in the coast states, but also that the western grain is finer and heavier. This is also attested
