lutionary lines and enter the capital.

Other dispatches are to the effect that none of the political parties in Honduras cares to shoulder the responsibility of intervening with Sumner Welles, representing the American government, in an endeavor to bring about peace between the discordant factions.

Will Use Firm Hand

Lacking direct advices, administration officials declined to discuss the situation but there were indications that the government would deal with a firm hand with the situation in Honduras, if necessary should arise. For some time it has been known that both at the state and the navy departments the trend of affairs in the central American republic has been observed with concern.

A landing force from the Milwaukee was dispatched to the Honduran capital under command of Commander L. D. Causey at the request of Secretary Hughes after the Honduran ministry had proved itself incapable of maintaining order and protecting the American and other foreign citizens and interests in Tegucigalpa.

Drunken soldiers of the defacto government forces, according to official advices received here, have shot down many persons including women and children, in the streets of the capital and looted mercantile houses of property estimated at more than $4,000,000 in value.

Legation Fired On

The American legation and consulate in Tegucigalpa also have been fired upon by armed mobs composed chiefly of drunken soldiers mobilized to defend that city from the attack of revolutionary forces.

Recent reports from Commander Causey said the members of his command had narrowly escaped injury from bombs dropped by revolutionary aircraft flying over the city. The explanation, however that an air pilot probably had mistaken the bluejackets on the field and that time exercises for enemy troops.

The incident was satisfactorily adjusted by American Ambassador Morales and assurances were given him by revolutionary leaders that the practice of bombing the city from the air would be discontinued and the aircraft pilots would therefore confine the bombing to fortified sections of the city or military areas.

Act I.
Scene I.
Laid in a Russian Fort.

The Russian drama will be given in the auditorium but for the minstrel show the gymnasium has been utilized. The best minstrel talent in the school has been trained for this stunt and if the regular performances come up to the rehearsals the minstrel show will be one of the sensations of the carnival. James Coker, Jack Hiatt, Sheldon Brownton, Joe Funk and several others will apply the burnt cork for the evening.

The entire proceeds from the entertainment are to go for the benefit of the athletic field.

GIRL LAWYER RUNS AMUCK, ONE KILLED

intimated, was under guard while being questioned at the state's attorney's office to prevent an attempt by the woman on his life, and his wife, at whom the Stopa girl fired as Mrs. Smith lay ill in bed, was near a nervous collapse. Henry Manning, 55, caretaker at the Smith home, was the girl's victim.

Miss Stopa, a blonde, scarcely five feet tall, appeared at the Smith home in a dilapidated automobile driven by a man believed to be Glascow, was admitted by Manning and walking rapidly to Mrs. Smith's room, screamed, "I've come to kill you and your husband." She fired three shots at Mrs. Smith, then turned her pistol on Manning. She shot him through the head, killing him almost instantly, and plunged through a window to her waiting car, declaring "now, I'm going to get him."

Detectives and policemen notified of the slaying rushed to Smith's office in a downtown building and hurried him to the state's attorney's office under guard. The girl did not appear at Smith's office. Smith disclaimed any improper relations with the girl, declaring she misinterpreted his desire to help her.

Smith Tells Story

He said he had subleased an apartment formerly occupied by himself and his wife to her and that he had taken her to the theatre and to restaurants on various occasions, sometimes accompanied by Mrs. Smith. A few months ago, he declared, she came to his office and gave him the alternative of obtaining a divorce and marrying her, or of paying her $1000. She threatened to kill him then, he said. Glascow also d's gased her affairs with him, Smith said, and they agreed after an altercation and examined her and pronounced her "highly emotional" that she should leave Chicago. Smith said he agreed to pay her $150 a month for four months and that the girl went to Detroit and he believed from there to New York. He notified her a short time ago that payments would be stopped, he said.

After graduating from a law school here and being admitted to the bar, the girl obtained employment as a stenographer in the district attorney's office in 1921 and was sworn in as an assistant so she could take testimony before the federal grand jury.

HUNT'S LETTER

—unless they decide to make it 19!

Since his recent showing of strength in Wisconsin and elsewhere, backers of Smith are declaring that now is the time to settle for once and all two much-mooted questions.

First, Can an avowed "wet" be elected president?

Second, Can a Roman Catholic be elected president?

But why, the Smith opposition wails, make the Democratic party the goat in such a test.

Why, participately, saddle both issues on the party in one campaign?

With a wet Tammany candidate heading the Democratic ticket, all the advantage has been gained through recent disclosures affecting Republican rule would avail nothing, say the objectors.

As a result of this viewpoint Smith's nomination undoubtedly will be blocked.

But nothing short of death and disaster will prevent him getting the greatest ovation, measured by volume and duration of sound, ever accorded and "favorite son."

Why was it politicians inquire, that five of the eight "presidential possibilities" slated to attend the Jefferson Day dinner at New York failed to show up?

Smith, Ralston, Copeland, Underwood and Joe Robinson were absent. John W. Davis and Governor Silzer and Ritchie attended.

Some suggest they feared the comparative applause they might get.

REHEARSALS ARE UNDERWAY

WALLA WALLA Wash. (Special) — Actual rehearsals for the Pioneer Pageant, "How the West Was Won," to be presented here May 28 and 29, were launched this week with a participants' meeting at which attended by nearly 1200 persons. The cast of the pageant is to include 2200 actors, singers, dancers and musicians, and rehearsals will be held nearly every night between now and the pageant dates.

Listed among the prominent persons who will participate in the pageant are Mayor Ben Hill of Walla Walla, candidate for the Washington democratic gubernatorial nomination, and Esther Mactanie, beautiful and talented daughter of a Umatilla chief.
