TOKIO (AP) — Marquis Kuni-hisa Kuni, younger son of Prince Kuniyoshi Kuni and brother of the crown princess, will attend the Olympic games in Paris this summer. Marquis Kuni will visit France in the course of a journey around the world. Although born a prince of one of the imperial houses, this young man recently relinquished his princely title and took that of a marquis.

FEUDIST FINDS LIFE OF PEACE

"Nine - Life" Hatfield, Eight Times Shot, Says He Would Save His "Last Life."

CASPER, Wyo. (INS)—Tiring of the constant quarreling and bickering and frequent gun-play of the feudists who dwell in the mountain country of Kentucky and West Virginia, Jesse Hatfield, 27, member of the celebrated family of feud fame, has come to the "Wild West" in search of peace and quiet.

Jesse, known as "Nine Life" Hatfield in the hill country, already has "lost" eight of his lives and decided to live the ninth one away from the center of the Hatfield-McCoy feud, which has raged for more than half a century along the West Virginia-Kentucky boundary line.

It is estimated that the Hatfield-McCoy feud has taken a toll of 282 lives in the two families.

Conflicting reports reaching Hatfield about conditions in the "wild and woolly West," Jesse parked his guns when he left West Virginia, but, finding the West a comparatively quiet place, he has disposed of his "arsenal." He doesn't expect to ever carry a gun again—unless, of course, as he explains, he should decide to go back home on a visit.

Fifty-one years have passed since the first blood was spilled in the Hatfield-McCoy feud. Colonel Hatfield is said to have killed Judge McCoy's houn' dog, after the dog had bitten the colonel's mount for the second time. When the colonel and the judge met, both are reported to have drawn their pistols and fired, and both dropped dead and from that day on until a total of 283 deaths was reached in the feud, it is related by Jesse Hatfield, not a person has been ambushed or shot in the back.

The most serious battle of the feud occurred in 1905, when forty-four persons were killed. The Casper Jesse Hatfield lost his father, a brother and three cousins in this engagement.

Jesse Hatfield has been wounded some eight times in various outbreaks of the feud. He is a crack shot with a revolver, and it is said of him that he can drive a twenty-penny nail into a plank with a .45-calibre revolver at a distance of fifty feet.

But Jesse is through with quarrels and feudal tactics, he says and craves only peace and quiet which he believes he has found in the open spaces of Wyoming.

Veterans' Bureau to Answer Interrogations

WASHINGTON (INS) — Disabled veterans no longer will be forced to wander through the seemingly endless corridors of the Central Office of the United States Veterans' Bureau in quest of information concerning their claims, it is announced at the Veterans' Bureau.

Through the recent creation of a Division of Information and Co-operation, well-informed employes of the bureau will now personally conduct veterans or their representatives to the proper places to get any information desired.

Hitherto a perfunctory information division has been maintained at the bureau, but which confined itself merely to giving information concerning the filing of claims. Under the new division information concerning all of the activities of the bureau will be at the finger-tips of the corps of employes who will make up the division.

Another feature of the new division, it was announced, is the projected plans to answer all telephonic, telegraphic or mail queries from veterans, their beneficiaries or representatives, with the utmost dispatch.

It isn't neutrality at all unless it is absolute, and then it is indifference.

BRITON FINDS PROHIBITION IS IMPROVING U. S.

LONDON (AP)—After a four months' tour in the United States, Dr. Charles Porter, medical officer for Marylebone, is impressed by prohibition in that country. Speaking on the subject he said:

"You might as well say that because Bernard Shaw has written a play or two Shakespeare was a failure." Dr. Porter declared the customs officer he met on landing smelt very strongly of alcohol, "but because the first individual in New York who spoke to me had been drinking, I do not think prohibition there is a failure."

On the medical side the investigator found fewer cases of chronic disease from alcohol. He was informed at the Harvard Medical school and elsewhere that they could not find cases of cirrhosis of the liver to use for instruction purposes. Tuberculosis, particularly of the lungs, was diminishing at a most extraordinary rate in the United States, and the doctors traced the diminution very largely to improvement in the matter of drinks.

Burbank Persuades the Poppy To Divulge Its Beauty at Night

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Thanks to Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of Santa Rosa, Cal., the wild poppies of California for the first time are gracing social functions at night with their petals open. Heretofore the golden petals closed themselves at sundown.

A San Francisco matron recently complained to Mr. Burbank that it was a shame poppies had to go to sleep so early in the evening. Mr. Burbank experimented, and as a result he gave her this advice:

Stalk the poppies to their lair just before daybreak, while their petals still are closed. Then place them on ice for the day. In the evening the flowers, put in water and exposed to the warm air of a drawing room, will yawn gratefully, open their petals and expand their loveliness for all beholders.

He said the same treatment could be adapted for other night-closing flowers.

60 City Employes Embark On Campaign Against Earwigs

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)— The European earwig, a destructive insect somewhat resembling a cockroach, which not only eats vegetation but causes much damage to carpets and textiles in the home, is being fought by the city of Portland.

A bureau of earwig control, in charge of a director and with about 60 employes, is planning a vigorous offensive against the pest. Poison is to be the principal weapon. Officials also are considering importation of a fly from England which is said to have been effective in destroying the insect.

It will be a four team league from the employes of the American Express company, Standard Oil company, Robert College and the U. S. Station ship Scorpion. Seven nationalities are represented in the Robert college team.
