Everyone spent a most enjoyable afternoon Friday when the Greenwood Parent-Teacher association held their last meeting of the year. During the business meeting it was voted that the association furnish the school with seales and officers were elected and installed for next year. Mrs. Charlton was elected president, Mrs. Hicks, vice president and Mrs. Sams, secretary-treasurer.

During the afternoon Mr. Wilkenson and Mrs. Charlton gave brief talks on "Supervised Play Grounds." They both spoke of the vital need for playgrounds in La Grande. Mr. Eberhard gave a short talk on the "Bills Now Before Congress." An interesting playlet entitled "Better Play Grounds" directed by Mrs. Williamson was given. Nick Hughes gave a recitation; Miss Ella Niehans rendered a beautiful piano solo and Mrs. Nell Thacker gave an excellent vocal number.

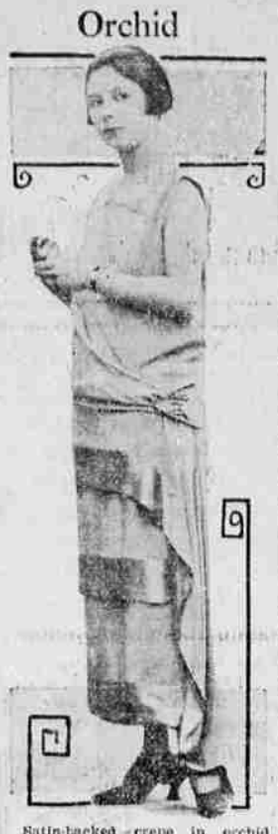
SUMMERVILLE, (Special) — The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Park Thursday afternoon. There were about fifty members and visitors in attendance and after the regular business meeting a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Slack, Mrs. Earle Park and Mrs. Frank Woodell.

The ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Burt Oliver the second Thursday in June.

Orchid



Satin-backed crepe in orchid shade makes this simple but lovely evening frock. There is a hint of a surplice about the cut of the front and the skirt is fastened so as to make a side drapery. Folds of the material turned to show the satin side make the bands on the skirt.

IS YOUR HAIR FALLING? We might tell you the reasons in scientific terms, seborrhoea cicosa, seborrhoea sicca, seborrhoea pelaloida and their attendant—alopaca areata. These are the various reasons of dandruff and round bald spots which require treatment. The treatment for falling hair or dandruff requires more than the application of manee cures. We study each case individually.

WILL LAUNCH DRUG CRUSADE

Scotland Yard Men to Begin Campaign on Illegal Narcotic Trade.

LONDON, (AP) — The illegal drug traffic in England has grown to such an extent since the war that it has crept out of its dusky Limehouse haunts to pervade the dancehalls and restaurants of the West End.

The war is held responsible for the abnormal conditions. During the stress of the times the vigilance of the police was otherwise employed, and traffickers obtained foothold in the slum districts of London. After the war, because of the loss in exchange in other countries, most of the drugs were shipped to England. Probably the war also can be blamed for the great increase in the market for the drugs, anyway there is said to be several times as much sold here now as in pre-war times.

Following the death of several dancers due to the use of drugs, and the exposure of several clever distribution schemes in London police courts, Scotland Yard men have opened up on the traffickers. They increased the narcotic squad and began a round-up of criminals which has already resulted in the imprisonment of some of the leaders and has broken up the regular source of supplies which extended into the West End.

The headquarters of the traffic were easily traced to Limehouse, the ancient and natural haunt of all foreign vices. Long investigation and watching resulted in the arrest and imprisonment of a clever young Chinaman who had been under observation for many months by the police. As is usually the case, the man operated a small restaurant in the squalor of the Limehouse docks. Above the dirty eating rooms were luxuriously furnished apartments from which he carried on the traffic. He is said to have been the leader of the gangs peddling the drugs throughout London. Several other Orientals have been arrested during the last few weeks. They have been sentenced to a year or more in prison and will then be deported.

Cleaning up the wholesale traffic and the clearing houses which exist along the water front or most of the English ports, however, will be a much bigger job. Hundreds of ships entry England every week from Oriental ports, and although they are searched upon entrance and a close watch kept on the crews, the police say the traffickers are able to bring in huge supplies. Generally, it is explained, the drugs are sold at once to a dealer and he in turn sells in large quantities to sailors going to other ports. Much, it is supposed, goes to the United States and other American countries; certainly it gets into the Scandinavian countries and Holland Germany.

The dealers in England thus only act as commission agents. They move about the ports so quickly, make their money, and then disappear, that it is almost impossible for the police to hunt them down. Usually a crafty Chinaman is behind the operation, but he employs girls to carry out the work and after a few deals they disappear.

FAMOUS "DEVIL'S" BIBLE NOW PUT BEFORE CAMERA

STOCKHOLM, (AP)— One of the most remarkable books in the world, called "the Devil's Bible" and also the "giant of books," has just been brought out its hiding place in the Royal library of Stockholm, following a request of a photostate copy from the city of Prague, where it was captured at the Swedish conquest ipn 1648.

It was written 800 years ago, and legend says that it was completed during a single night by a monk who was doomed to die. He had to have assistance from the devil, however, and in gratitude made a full page portrait of him, horns, cloven hoofs, and all, which has ever since remained in the Bible.

SMITH BROTHERS MAKE FAMOUS STOMACH REMEDY

Years ago when the Smith Brothers placed their M. A. C. Stomach Tonic on the market drug stores throughout the country were literally swamped with preparations alleged by their makers to have great virtue in the treatment of stomach complaints. Today most of those medicines are gone and forgotten, while Smith Bros.' M. A. C. has a bigger sale than ever.

It is the old story of honest merit achieving success in spite of every obstacle. Stomach sufferers who used M. A. C. found lasting relief and told others about it. That's why the demand for this remedy has continued to grow year after year.

M. A. C. is remarkably effective in all forms of stomach distress, such as indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, sour stomach, nausea and excessive gas. Absolutely harmless—pleasant to take. Put up in one size only. Price $1.25. Red Cross Pharmacy will supply you. (Mail orders accepted.)—Adv.

HUNT'S LETTER

that "What the country needs is a good five-cent cigar." Few people, however, knew just the circumstances under which Marshall voiced this now famous remark.

Joe Bristow, the long, lank, former senator from Kansas, in the course of a speech one day as windy as a Kansas cyclone, was discoursing on the country's needs.

"What the country needs," he would say, is thus and so.

After Bristow had recited the country's needs for half an hour, Vice President Marshall, from the presiding officer's chair, crooked a finger at Henry Rose, assistant secretary of the Senate. As Rose leaned across to find what was wanted, Marshall said in an undertone:

"Bristow hasn't hit it yet. What the country needs is a good 5-cent cigar."

Such are a few of the insights into the ways and wiles of public men as revealed by a volume from the pen of one of Washington's veteran correspondents—Louis L. Ludlow.

Ludlow's book, entitled, "From Cornfield to Press Gallery", reviews his contacts with public men over a period of more than 30 years, first in Indianapolis where he got an intimate insight into Hoosier politics, and for the last 21 years in Washington.

Ludlow, an indefatigable worker, has the reputation for "covering" more ground than any newspaperman ever known in Washington. Six feet four inches in height, with a stride approaching four feet, "Louie" runs all his rivals ragged in covering a beat. And in his long service he has established more close personal friendships among the men who make the nation's news, perhaps, than any other Washington writer.

COVE HIGH TO GRADUATE 7

COVE, ... chamber of commerce ... regular weekly meeting recently. Dairying was the subject for discussion. Lunch was served by the Dorcas society, the table being laid for 35 people. Several visitors from the outside were in attendance. Speeches were made by Robert Withycombe and C. C. Caldwell, of Union, on the subject of dairying. Dairying is a fruitful subject for discussion in Cove as many farmers are interested. Most of them use dairying for a side line, keeping from one to a dozen cows, but with some it is the main issue, where as many as fifteen or twenty cows are kept.

The population of Cove has been increased during the past week. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hartley Sunday, May 4, and Mr. and Mrs. John Williams were made happy by the arrival of a baby daughter in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Landers, of La Grande, spend the morning hours every morning working in their orchards, returning to La Grande at noon.

Mrs. Perle Tobin and small son, of Pendleton, spent the week end at the home of her mother, Mrs. Eva Milman, of Cove.

The Senior class of the Cove high school observed their annual "Sneek Day" privilege and slipped away on Tuesday at dawn for a day of fun. They were accompanied by one of the teachers, Miss Ethel Quimby. During the day they visited Elgin, La Grande, Wallowa and Wallowa Lake, returning to Cove late in the evening.

The Sophomore class will be banqueted on Friday evening by the Senior, Junior and Freshmen classes.

Sunday evening the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Reverend J. W. Slayton at the Baptist church.

Seven to Graduate.

Friday evening, May 16, is the date for the annual commencement. The graduating class ... Gayette, Bertha ... Smith, Marven Daniel and ... Harris. Dr. W. T. Phy, of Hot Lake, will make the commence address.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rees, of Union, were Cove visitors last week.

Denied United States Vice, Bulgar Suicides

SOFIA, (INS)— Nickola Gheeheff, a young Bulgarian, could not obtain a passport to go to the end his life ... United States, so he shot and killed himself in the office of the American vice-consul here.

Gheeheff had lived in the United States several years, but returned to Bulgaria three years ago, intending to take his wife back with him to America. He found, however, that his wife had transferred her affections to another man, and although he spent three months trying to get her to go with him to America, she refused. He had saved $5,000 he had sent her from America.

Gheeheff appealed to the American vice-consul for aid in getting his money back and also for a passport so he could return to America and forget his unhappiness in Bulgaria. He was told that nothing could be done about recovering the money and that he could not have a passport now because Bulgaria's quota for this year had been filled. Disappointment at his inability to return to the United States caused him to end his life.

Just A Little Common Sense

We deal in tires ... of price. We believe in ... no such thing as a bargain in cheap tires. Not even the slightest chance to get more than you pay for. By the time you ruin a good tube, buy two and then blow out both, put in a few hours on the dusty road, lose your temper, call the manufacturer everything possible, all on account of a cheaply constructed tire, what have you gained?

Gates and Jack Tires are built in the west for western roads. Come look them over—the tires speak for themselves.
