

Yes, sir! He wears 'em

The secret of making men happy is to give them the very best overall it's possible to produce. No other manufacturer uses the extra heavy eight ounce double-dyed denim that goes into the railroad men's Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls, Nos. 101 [suspenders back] 201 [high back] and 301 [cont.]. It costs more but it gives more wear, does not fade, shrinks less and pleases you and that's what we're after. We carry all sizes in stock. Try a pair.

FACT FINDERS' PLAN FAVORED

President Coolidge States His Position on Western Reclamation Matters.

WASHINGTON—President Coolidge is "strong for" reclamation legislation recommended by the fact-finding committee, and thinks that legislation should be enacted by congress at this session.

The president made known his views in plan terms when a delegation of western senators and representatives called upon him Friday.

During the conference the president had at hand, a digest of the fact finding report, and his letter transmitting their report to congress with his approval.

He took occasion to say he stood by his letter on this subject. Senator Jones, Washington, author of the 16-year payment and 5-year moratorium bill recently introduced to kill off the fact finders' plan, told the president the fact finders had recommended many things that congress would not approve, and indicated that to enact the fact finders' plan.

Coolidge Gives Plain Hint. Quickly the president replied in terms which conveyed the impression that if opponents in congress undertake to defeat that plan by passing through some substitute legislation that is a mere smoke-shift and does not attempt to cure the more radical defects of the present reclamation law, such legislation may expect to meet with disapproval of the White House.

Senator McNary, chairman of the irrigation committee, also showed some hostility to the general bill proposed by the fact finders but the president's clear and brief statements left no doubt in the minds of those present that he wants the entire plan of the fact finders followed out, and they came away understanding that they cannot pass a bill providing for new projects and throw overboard the general legislative plan of the fact finders.

Gooding With President. Senator Gooding and Representative Smith of Idaho, who attended the White House conference Friday morning, came away greatly pleased and encouraged by the attitude of the president.

Senator Gooding took the position at the conference that the president's stand was exactly right and said that he heartily endorsed the plan of legislation recommended by the fact finding committee.

President Coolidge on Friday signed the reclamation extension bill authorizing the acquisition by duty to the office of District Attorney on the Republican ticket. Subject to the primary election. 4-12-24

Pistols Flashed Then Belgrade Solons Met

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, (AP)—The good, old lively days of the Austrian reformation, when visitors in Vienna regarded the halls of parliament more as an arena for the staging of personal encounters than as a seat of lawmaking, were recalled by a recent free-for-all fight in the Jugo-slavian chamber. Revolvers flashed during the row, and four men were wounded before the speaker could clear the house.

Mr. Agatanovitch, a former instructor in a gymnasium, today a Democratic deputy, was the provocative agent. Large of frame and possessed of a stentorian voice, by his frequent interruptions he was making impossible the transaction of business.

Deputy Strelkovitch protested, and without saying a word Aunt-anovitch seized a chair and knocked Strelkovitch senseless.

The chamber immediately was in an uproar, and the session degenerated into a battle of fist-fights. The fighting was stopped only by the intervention of a flying wedge of deputies composed of men who showed their readiness to fight for peace.
