TICKET BAN NOW REMOVED

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (Special)—Officers of the association which will stage the second Pioneer Pageant here May 25 and 26 have secured relief when the Internal Revenue office at Tacoma lifted its ban on the sale of admission tickets.

The department had turned the sale of tickets because they had been printed without making provision for war tax, in the assumption that last year's exemption from payment of the admission tax would be repeated.

Hundreds of orders for tickets had piled up in the office of the ticket committee of parent head quarters, and long distance wires had been hot for days in an attempt to patch up the difficulty.

The ticket office opened immediately upon receipt of the authorization, and Robert Allen, ticket committee chairman, began the work of filling requests from all over the northwest.

States' rights have fallen so low that "the United States" is no longer good grammar.

Nothing in the papers, and a few more dictators appointed.

Musician Out of Tune

"Can pressure in my stomach sometimes obstruct me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and never lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayer's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the intestinal mucus from the intestinal tract and attacks the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—ADV.

Sweden's Russian Trade Quickly Follows Pact

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A reduction in eight per cent of the barrier duty on Swedish imports entering the port of Leningrad, a return to Swedish ownership of the embassy house in that city, and the appointment by each nation of official envoys to the other, are among the first results of the signing of the pact between Sweden and Russia, in which the Soviet is recognized as the government de jure.

While the treaty must be ratified by the Swedish Riksdag, the government, headed by Prime Minister Rydqvist, has already proclaimed it.

The treaty contains a clause granting each nation the most favored nation treatment, which does not depend upon reciprocity by the other.

The Swedish commercial and industrial world now looks forward to stabilization of the trade with Russia, which is a good source for Swedish products. Sweden also will be enabled to play an ever stronger role as a middle-man between trans-Atlantic exporters and Russian consumers.

Things were even worse in the old days when diplomats could conduct their real motives behind their heads.

FILIPINO LABOR IN HAWAII SAID TO BE MENACING

HONOLULU (AP)—Unfavorable news devised to injure Filipinos, a large number of whom have been brought to Hawaii by the sugar planters' association, in American standards and customs, the territory will face a menace such as no other community has encountered, H. W. Metcalf, superintendent of the Philippine center of the Hawaiian board of missions, has told the chamber of commerce here.

Failure to take action promptly along these lines is the direct cause of the present strike of some Filipino plantation laborers, Mr. Metcalf said. The only way to control the large Filipino population would be largely thru Filipino leadership, and Filipinos should be trained for this purpose, he continued.

Filipinos come to Hawaii with no conception of the value of money, and look upon work as punishment and not as a necessary means to live, the speaker continued. He advocated the emigration of 20 Filipinos by leading commercial concerns so that they might be trained, and in turn train their countrymen later, he said they should be started in the lowest positions of small jobs and be permitted to develop gradually.

"In this way it would be possible to produce Filipino leaders who would understand the customs, habits and practices of the country in which they live. When it is considered that the life of Filipinos on their homeland is entirely different in every respect from their existence here, it is a marvel to me that these men have adapted themselves to local conditions as well as they have."

Mr. Metcalf said that the Filipinos now comprise the second largest racial group in the territory, being led only by the Japanese.

Better and Cheaper Ice-men Is Goal of Dealers' Association (SPECIAL)—The making of an efficient ice-man as well as an example of service out of the ice-man is the task to which members of the National Association of Ice Industries are now directing their attention. Company schools for drivers have been established and courses include lessons on modern business methods, cleanliness, punctuality and courtesy, and other studies are taught.

Members of the association pledged to purity of ice and good service, are anxious to render greater public service, said an announcement. "We realize that such ends are possible only with the cooperation of the great army of drivers who make up a large part of the 375,000 persons now employed in the manufacture and distribution of ice."

Progress is shown in service now rendered, which contrasts sharply with that of the old days when the ice-man with a pair of water dumped the ice and then threw it on the walk in front of the house. We want the ice-man of today to render a home service of genuine efficiency."

MARRIAGE AND BIRTH RATE

INCREASE IN FREE STATE (SPECIAL)—The latest Free State statistics show that the birth rate for the three final months of last year were 44,718, equivalent to an annual rate of 12.9 for each thousand of the estimated population of 2,182,000. The births exceeded the deaths by 4,452 and the death rate was only 12.9 for each thousand of population.

There were 4,062 Free State marriages, a slight increase on the average of the previous ten years. The excess of births over deaths is hailed with much satisfaction and compared with London and France. In France the excess for each 10,000 of population was 23; in London it was only 15, while in the Free State it was 57.

SENATORS NOT BACK NUMBERS

Solons Wear Modern Garb; Flowing Hair and Windsor Ties Are Thing of the Past.

(By ROLAND KRESO) WASHINGTON, (SNS)—Visitors to Washington who go to the senate galleries carry away with them one happy disillusionment. It concerns the oddities popularly attributed to United States senators.

Since before the Civil war the legend has persisted that to be a successful senator a man must wear a long, broad-brimmed hat akin to the American, either a white or buff-colored waistcoat, a tall coat and long, flowing hair.

Only a few senators affect this garb, Senators Overman, of South Carolina, and Helm, of Alabama, adopting it almost in its entirety. For the most part the membership consists of men who prefer modern dress and modern methods.

There are a few, however, who cling to what others may deem antiquated. One of these is Senator Copeland, (R) of New York, who never appears anywhere without a red, varnished topknot of an old-fashioned style. He wears a red, varnished topknot of an old-fashioned style.

Have you not wearing your red varnished topknot another senator?

"Yes, said," I traced it," Copeland said, slightly disturbed.

He ran for a reelection, messenger boy and disappointed him at first, to the nearest finish for a flower.

Senator Neely (D) of West Virginia, habitually has a handkerchief of a florid color to match the color of his tie.

Senator Jones (R) of Washington, by the way, is only a member, who wears soft white, with soft collars attached, almost invariably.

Senator Grayson (R) of Arkansas, never has been seen in the chamber without his neck and hands buttoned. He stands about usually in the rear of the senate with his hands in his pockets, the red shawl up awkwardly to accommodate his posture.
