Here Are Hundreds of Beautiful Suits for Decoration Day! —and all you need is one. Coming to Clint's this week for clothing is almost like taking a trip to Atlantic City to look for a wife. At every peer, a new beauty! At every step, oceans of ideas. Try us—let us pilot you through this land of enchantment—and if you can't find the one you are looking for—then don't settle down. Michaels-Stern Suits for Decoration Day $25.00 to $57.50 New Straws Galore $1.95 to $4.85 Neustadter Collar-attached Shirts $2.45 to $4.85 Cheney Neckwear 95c to $1.95 Merchandise of Quality Clint's Clothery The Store With a Conscience land, where he has accepted a position. His many La Grande friends wish him success in his new location.

Land and Sheep His Specialty—Jim Noland, a real estate man of Walla Walla, who is raising sheep and hay in the Grande Ronde valley for pasture, was over yesterday looking over his broad acres and his fine band of "woolies." Jim admits that his name is not in keeping with his business, for while he is Mr. "Noland," as a matter of fact all that he does chiefly is to deal in land.

Forty Years Ago—W. W. Hill, who came up from Portland yesterday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lilly for a few days, happened to meet Frank Owsley and it was a great meeting. Forty years ago when they were youngsters Frank Owsley and Mr. Hill attended O. A. C. together. Their memories are both good and the way they recalled old-time affairs was a joy to listen to.

To Go To Walla Walla—Ray Murphy, Charles Reynolds, W. E. Perkins and Charles Bingham have announced their intentions of attending the La Grande Walla Walla ball game to be played at Walla Walla next Sunday. They will also take their golf clubs along and play a round or two on the Walla Walla course in the fore-noon.

Private Golf Tournament—It seems that certain La Grande merchants are rivals in more ways than one. This afternoon the tenth game of a scheduled 11 society match will be played on the Country club golf course between A. T. Hill and Herman Siegrist to settle personal supremacy in the ancient Scotch game. So far Mr. Hill has won Mr. Siegrist to settle personal supremacy in the ancient Scotch game. So far Mr. Hill has won five games and three lost with one more game to play and the rubber. The prize is put up individually by each contestant.

Old "Fletch" Doodles a Little—When Bob Fletcher leaves the East Oregonian for a day one can bet that he is going to have a good time. He was here yesterday and when the D. O. K. K. lodge put on its ceremonial, which was one of the outstanding events of Eastern Oregon, he was there with the bells. He has been bending the wheat fields of Emattila county for "nigh onto twenty years" for the D. O. K. and each year he has shown increased results. His visit to La Grande yesterday was an occasion that he calls a day off, but as a matter of fact he worked as hard as any Doodle on the job.

WOODMEN WILL MEET MONDAY

The local camp of the Woodmen of the World, designated Glen Camp 169, will hold their third large class initiation in 15 months next Monday evening in the Eagles hall. The membership of the organization is steadily increasing to the front, according to officers of the camp, until at this time the local chapter is one of the largest and most active in eastern Oregon.

At next Monday's ceremonies 20 neophytes will take the vows of the organization and ride the traditional goat in the initiation program. After the initiation ceremony some good things are promised in the way of entertainment. The actual program is not available but it is understood that some good boxing bouts will be in order with some musical features as an added attraction. The drill team has been togged out in spick and span new uniforms and it is possible that they may be persuaded to do a few drills for the edification of other members.

A banquet will grace the festive board toward the close of the evening to wind up what gives every promise of being a most enjoyable night's entertainment. Members of the Pendleton, Baker and Union camps have promised to be on hand to assist in the ceremonies.

Veteran Judge Gives Facts In His Case

Hon. A. P. Tarbox Tells How He Overcame Stomach Trouble Of Long Standing By Taking Tanlac.

Honorable A. P. Tarbox, distinguished lawyer and judge, residing at 217 West 22nd St., University Place, Neb., lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac, the famous treatment that has proved of such great benefit to him.

"If anybody knows what Tanlac will do," recently said Judge Tarbox, "it is me, for the medicine has kept me on my feet and able to work for the past two years."

Judge Tarbox has been a member of the bar since early manhood and has practiced law in Illinois, Nebraska and Oklahoma for more than a half century. He is a charter member of Farragut Post, Lincoln G. A. R., and also prominent in fraternal order experience with Tanlac, Judge Tarbox said.

"Stomach trouble had been the bane of my existence even before the Civil War. Indigestion such as I had is about the worst enemy a person could have, and it kept getting worse all the time. I simply could not have kept going the past two years if it had not been for Tanlac. It made my weak stomach sound and wholesome, did away with all from the kidnapers in order to turn over the money to them, having followed the instructions of the abductors to the letter, even retaining from notifying the police.

Thursday night one of the greatest man-hunts in Chicago's history was under way with more than 5,000 police and detectives scouring the city in the search for the slayers.

Despite the slim clues, it was reported that arrests were imminent.

Slayer Adjusts Spectacles. A certain cunning was shown by the slayers, for after divesting the body of clothing they adjusted a pair of spectacles, which were found in place when the body was discovered. This fact disarmed any suspicion of the Franks family that the body of the youth found crumpled into a culvert in a swamp was that of their son, until hours after the body had been recovered, when an uncle of the youth went to a drug store and made the identification.

The father, still waiting for the abductors, refused to believe the slain boy was his son until he had made a personal identification.

Young Franks was last seen alive Wednesday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, when he left several companions, after umpiring a football game at the Harvard school, a private institution in an exclusive north of city residential district where he was a pupil. He told companions that he was going home, and that is the last time he was seen alive by those who knew him.

The parents, alarmed over the failing of Robert to arrive home, communicated with the school authorities, and an unsuccessful search was started, but at 10:20 o'clock the first inkling of the boy's fate reached them.

Franks Told of Kidnaping. This came in the form of a telephone call to the Franks home from a man who said his name was Johnson.

signs of indigestion and built me up in a way I had thought impossible.

"In fact, Tanlac has brought me health, strength and happiness, when I was sick and suffering, so I have every reason to give it my unqualified endorsement and praise."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over forty million bottles sold.

To call for Mr. Franks. In the excitement attendant to his coming he drove away and the police Thursday night were trying to find him through tracing the number of his cab.

The body of the boy was found hours before the final call was received by Mr. Franks, indicating, according to the police, that the kidnapers intended to collect the money even after murdering the youth. A man on his way to work saw the foot of the boy protruding from a culvert in a swamp near 121st street several miles from the boy's home.

Body Shoved Into Culvert. The body had been shoved into the culvert head first. An examination of the nude body disclosed that the youth had been struck over the head twice, possibly with a hatchet. The only means of identification were a grey sock belonging to the boy which was found several hundred feet from where the body was discovered, and the pair of horn-rimmed spectacles. The Franks family learned of the finding of the body and Mr. Franks was shown the spectacles but said that the body could not be that of his son because the latter did not wear spectacles. This fact led to a delay of several hours in the

"Your boy is safe," the letter said, "and you need not worry. But if you let the police know, we will kill him. If you have already informed the police, do not go any further."

"We want $10,000 ransom. We will telephone you Thursday at 1 o'clock then we will give you all necessary information as to how you are to put the money in our possession."

The letter asked that Franks have in readiness $3000 in $20 bills and $2000 in $10 bills in a plain white wrapper. Following receipt of the letter, the father made arrangements to have the telephone calls traced when the abductors called to give him further information, although Mr. Franks insisted on going ahead with plans to turn over the money. This order to the telephone company was cancelled however, when a friend of the Franks informed them he had overheard operators talking about the plans to trace calls made to the Franks home.

The police Thursday night expressed the opinion that the kidnapers had also learned of the plans to trace the phone calls and, becoming frightened, killed and concealed the body.

Taxi Calls for Father. At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, however, Johnson called Mr. Franks and told him that a taxi-cab would call for him at his home and that the driver would know where to take him to deliver the money. A few minutes later, a taxi drew up but the driver insisted he had no instructions except to call for Mr. Franks. In the excitement attendant to his coming he drove away and the police Thursday night were trying to find him through tracing the number of his cab.

The father, formerly was connected with the Illinois Watch Case company and Rockford Watch company, but in recent years had been engaged in the real estate business. He is said to be worth more than $1,000,000. The family, despite their great wealth, had lived very quietly, which has led the police to believe that the kidnapers may be persons known to them. They have two other children, Josephine, 17 and John, 15.

Solved the Problem. "I was almost distracted with stomach trouble, gas and colic attacks and didn't know what to do. I had tried everything I heard of, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. A friend told me about May's Wonderful Remedy, and it has solved the problem, and I can now eat anything and have no distress." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.
