Social news must be in the hands of the society editor by 9:30 o'clock. Due to the fact that the social page is made up before noon, it is practically impossible to insert stories after that hour. Hereafter, items, no matter how important they are, that are delayed beyond that hour, will not be printed until the following day—News Editor's Note.

Annual Club Breakfast Yesterday

Although clouds hung overhead and the welcome rain was falling it did not dampen the ardor of the ladies of the Neighborhood club and their guests, who assembled at eleven o'clock, at the Presbyterian church Wednesday morning for the Thirtieth Annual Breakfast of the club.

The refectory of the church presented a gala appearance with its tasteful decorations. Dainty hand-painted menu cards marked each place. They were painted by Miss Marjorie Warnick and represented the club flower, the Syringa.

After a delicious breakfast was served the program was opened by Mrs. O. E. Silverthorn, toastmistress, quoting a stanza from Shakespeare's "As You Like It." "All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances, and one man in his time plays many parts—etc."

This original idea was carried through the speeches made by the retiring president, Mrs. J. D. Lynch, the newly elected president, Mrs. H. A. Zurbick and Mrs. T. J. Serogin. The Chamber of Commerce Quartette charmed the audience with their splendid singing and two dances "Interpretative Dance, La Ballerina" and "Dance Fantastique" by Dorothy Krause Howard were enjoyed very much by those in attendance. Loney's orchestra played two excellent numbers "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai and a selection from "Blossom Time" by Romberg. Mrs. A. L. Richardson sang "The Birth of Morn" by Leon and "H Racio" by Arditi. In her usual charming manner, responding graciously to an encore with "The Cow Song."

The closing number was a play "Hosanna" by J. M. Barrie, given by Miss Lorna Cooldige, Mrs. L. H. Russell and C. W. Hingner, who sent their audience away feeling that it was a most delightful finale to Red Letter Day in club life.

Much credit is due to the following ladies for the original and pleasant entertainment: Menu committee: Mrs. Chas. Noyes, chairman, Mrs. Wayne Wade, Mrs. Claud Seranton, Mrs. Chas. Phyle, Mrs. Floyd McKennon, Mrs. A. T. Hill, Mrs. Geo. Tarkington, Mrs. C. E. Eberhard, Mrs. E. Ebell, Mrs. Robert Eakin, Mrs. Oscar Berger, Mrs. Chas. Bohnenkamp and Mrs. John Thiesen. Program committee: Mrs. H. P. Landis, chairman, Mrs. H. E. Dixon and Mrs. Geo. Birnie. Decorations committee: Mrs. C. L. Eberhard, chairman, Mrs. W. G. Sawyer and Mrs. G. L. Larison.

There was a large crowd at the auditorium of the Public Library last evening when a piano recital was given by pupils of Mrs. H. J. Green. The evening was a success from the first number "Arpeggio

Cape Rack

This practical coat has many praiseworthy features. It completely covers the back, has the stylish cape back, and a collar that may be worn close about the throat or open in a shawl effect. Also, it has novel trimming about the neck and sleeves consisting of bands of blue, yellow and red braid. This effect might be copied to make a hat year's model more presentable.

Miss Edith Swalberg and Donald McLean, both of La Grande, were united in marriage yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock by Reverend Clark of the Presbyterian church, at Pendleton, Oregon. They were accompanied to Pendleton by Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Nelson, of La Grande.

Following the ceremony the young couple left for Portland and Seattle on a week's honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. McLean are well known among the young people of La Grande and will be at home to their many friends here after June first.

The home of A. L. Parsons on N avenue, was the scene of a beautiful wedding recently, when Miss Fay Wilson and Glenn Parsons, both of Elgin, were united in marriage, with Reverend O. W. Jones, of the Christian church officiating. These young people are both well known and popular in Elgin, where they will make their home in the future.

Members of Hope Chapter No. 12, Order of Eastern Star, enjoyed a pleasant time last evening, when they held their regular social meeting. Miss Pauline Lederer was chairman of the program for the evening and Loney's orchestra played a number of beautiful selections and Miss Flavia Ritter sang two excellent vocal solos. Miss Ritter was accompanied by Mrs. Metalar at the piano.

Before adjournment delicious refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

To the surprise of their many La Grande friends announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Miss Helen Robins to Ray Allstott, at Walla Walla, Washington, on March 15. These young people are both well known in La Grande, Mrs. Allstott being employed in the office of the Eastern Oregon Light and Power company and Mr. Allstott a taxi driver of this city.

They expect to make their home in La Grande.

An enjoyable time was spent yesterday afternoon when Mrs. E. E. Hughes was hostess to the Parkdale club, assisted by Mrs. George Hynesearson. After the usual business meeting the afternoon was spent in social entertainment and a delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Adler of Fruitdale, as hostess, with Mrs. Bowers, of Island City, assisting her.

Mrs. Dick Lindsay will be hostess to the Friday Bridge club tomorrow.

Fashion Notes

Skirts Much Shorter.
Paris. Skirts today are decidedly shorter. This is true especially in tailor makes, which, by the way, often have a jacket short and straight with a small belt. Maracain is still a favorite material for the tailor.

Batik Luggage.
London. The newest thing to burst forth into batik colorings is luggage. Not only have the umbrellas, the raincoat and the over-shoes taken out themselves, but the trunk, the valise and the sult case are now done in futuristic rainbows of startling hues.

Pump in Suede and Calf.
New York. A pump in suede and calfskin now on display here gives an unusual effect. The toes and heels are in black calfskin, the rest of the shoe is black suede, and the result—daintily shaped—looks like shoes with gossamer over them.

Ostrich on Cloaks.
New York. Ostrich feathers make fanciful decorations for many cloaks now being worn. Not only do they form collars and cuffs, but they flutter in many ruffle effects around the skirt and up and down the sleeves.

HUNT'S LETTER

on voters; they feel that the people like the way he throws legislation which he does not like back into the face of Congress. They even suggest as a catchy, captivating campaign cry: "Canny Cal Coolidge, the Vetoing President."

The public, however, has had its appetite whetted for a reduction in its tax bill, and undoubtedly will demand somebody's official head if the reduction is not forthcoming.

Should Coolidge veto the tax bill, would the failure for tax reduction be placed on Congress for giving him a bill he felt obliged to veto? That's the puzzling question!

To date the president's followers have been able to shoulder onto Congress the blame for friction between White House and Capitol. The president has advanced his position by trampling Congress under foot. But a veto on the tax bill threatens to cause a tumble. It's a slippery, uncertain, uncomfortable situation.

Coolidge's continued advancement at the expense of Congress has developed a situation that may be really serious for him, however. If by boosting his own advancement at too great an expense to Congress he builds up resentment against members of the House and Senate who must stand for re-election this fall, the result might be the wiping out of the already small majority by which the G. O. P. holds control "on the hill."

Many members feel that the president already has hurt their chances of coming back. From now on they will wage their campaigns on a personal rather than a party basis, and without regard to the effect on the presidency. They will fight with more heat than harmony.

More Auto Tax Faced.
SALEM, Ore. — Engineers employed by the state highway department, who returned here from Corvallis, where they attended a meeting of their association, quoted Governor Pierce as stating that he would go before the legislature at its next session and urge an additional tax of one cent on gasoline used by motor vehicles operated on the state highways. The executive indicated, it was said, that the additional tax would be necessary to provide the money for maintenance of the present highway system.

Whether Governor Pierce would recommend a reduction of the license fee on motor vehicles could not be determined here today.

Newspapermen Scours Deserts for Recipes to Tempt London Palates—and Succeeds.

(By DAVID CHURCH)
LONDON (INS)—It remained for an American newspaperman to lay claim to the title of "First Foodstuff Explorer."

David Blumenfeld, formerly a newspaper correspondent in New York and Washington, and son of Pittsburgh newspaper executive and now editor of the Daily Express of London, has just returned from what is claimed to be the first exploration in search of new foodstuffs in the history of the world's cuisines.

Blumenfeld penetrated far into Northern Africa, on a camel, and into the Sahara districts and returned to London with a large number of old Arabian recipes, which are being used by J. Lyons & Company, proprietors of a chain of restaurants throughout England.

"A total mileage of approximately five thousand miles was covered in nine weeks during my search for Eastern sweetmeats," said Blumenfeld.

After his return to London, Blumenfeld and those who cooperated in his exploration, were hosts at a luncheon at which Arabian dishes were served. The piece de resistance was young chicken stuffed with stone dates, decorated across the breast with pistachio paste and cherries, and served with hot honey and cream sauce.

For the benefit of American housewives who have tired of old methods of cooking, Blumenfeld discloses a few of the recipes which he discovered in the Sahara wilds. They follow:

Kedash el Atterine—Leg of mutton, roasted, scented, packed, with honeyed almonds, covered with jam and served with confitured apricot.

Yamamah—Pigeon, stuffed with chestnuts, pistachio and cherries, served with honey sauce and ginger.

Toufa Djedjad — Baked apples, partly gouged out and filled with small bits of the breast of chicken. The whole is covered with powdered sugar and mounted in a nest of chopped toast, which has been cooked not in chicken gravy.

Runaway Boys Caught.
PENDLETON, Ore.—Three Portland youths out on a tour of the world were apprehended here and held, pending the arrival of a Portland officer to take them home.

The lads gave their names as Donald McGill, Joe Lachance and Ed Bennett and said they were on their way to Fishlake, Ore., where the father of one of the boys was said to be working.

The youngest of the three was 12 and the oldest 15, according to the officers.

Cantery to Begin Work.
ALBANY, Ore.—The Albany canery will open soon when the first shipment of strawberries will be handled. About 50 people will be employed in the first part of the season to care for the strawberries.

Boulevard Contract is Let.

MARKSFIELD, Or. — The contract for the first unit of the sky-line boulevard to connect North Bend and Marshfield was let to C. H. Hunt for $7,750. It will start at the city limits on the north and continue south to Hemlock avenue in Forndale. The next unit, from Hemlock to the junction of Tenth and Central, will be let in one or two weeks. North Bend plans to let its share of the job in June.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK
Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Worth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.
