Sherrys Showing "Unseeing Eyes" Today. Great Outdoor Picture.

The Canadian Rockies form the picturesque background of "Unseeing Eyes," the new Cosmopolitan picture at Sherry's today. The film, an adaptation of an Arthur Stringer story, is chock full of action, which reaches its climax in an airplane pursuit. It differs from other photoplays of the great outdoors in its careful direction and beautiful and effective staging. The pictures of the mountains lend a grandeur and impressiveness that assist immeasurably in the unfolding of the story.

Lionel Barrymore is featured in the leading role. Playing opposite him is Seena Owen, who is charming in the role of Miriam. Others in the cast are Louis Wilheim, a most picturesque and efficient villain; Gustav von Seyffertitz, Walter Miller, Charles Beyer, Helen Lindroth, Jack Johnston, Louis Deer, Frances Red Eagle, Paul Panzer and Dan Red Eagle.

"Unseeing Eyes" is produced on a magnificent scale that stirs the spectator. The snow scenes of the Northwest are alone worth going miles to see. The hills, evergreens, the open spaces are all thoroughly impressive in their beauty.

The story of Miriam Helston and Conrad Dean and their airplane flight across Canada to rescue her brother from a band of cutthroats the subsequent perils which overtakes them in the heavy snows of the northwest, their struggle to reach the brother and the thrilling complications that result make the picture a stirring tale of adventure and romance.

Comedy showing — "Midnight Blue."

Dancing in a stationary skirt! In a court scene which was filmed for Pola Negri's new star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," produced for Paramount by Herbert Brenon, twenty girls perform a ballet without a single movement of the skirt being visible. The entire ballet was done with motions from the waist up. Their feet remained motionless.

The girls appear in costumes of black velvet. The skirts are spread outward from the hips with the enormous panniers popular in the early part of the seventeenth century. Across the front of the velvet skirt run two broad bands of silver. These bands are waved and as the girls stand hip to hip with swaying shoulders, the silver bands appear to flow like running water. The ballet dance is part of elaborately costumed court scenes, which take place in the throne room in the royal palace in Madrid.

"The Spanish Dancer," which is being shown today and Saturday at the Arcade theatre is one of the most dramatic stories ever filmed. It is the first costume picture in which Pola Negri has starred since she came to America. Featured opposite Pola Negri is Antonio Moreno with Wallace Beery, Kathlyn Williams, Gareth Hughes, Adolphe Menjou and Robert Agnew heading a strong cast.

"Kentucky Days" Opens at Star For Two-Day Run.

In "Kentucky Days," which opens at the Star theatre Saturday for a run of two days, William Fox presents Dustin Farnum in a photoplay that deals with the most romantic and interesting period of American history and, incidentally, gives Mr. Farnum one of the big dramatic opportunities of his long cinematic career.

Mr. Farnum, as John Buckner, plays one of those hardy pioneers upon whose broad shoulders the republic was built. He is one of the "49ers" to whom fear was something vague and incomprehensible and whose loves and hates consumed his being. John Lynch has written a compelling, picturesque story around this character that has all the strength of the man himself.

Buckner, a bridegroom, finds it necessary to join the California gold rush. He leaves his bride at his Kentucky home with his mother. A renegade cousin, who is infatuated with Buckner's wife seizes the opportunity of his absence affords and secretly presses his attentions upon the wife. Buckner's mother, perceiving this, is without power to prevent it. She dies of grief. Buckner returns and finds his bride, who has been led to believe that he is dead, in the arms of his cousin. The course he pursues is typical of the man. To reveal it would be unfair.

A two reel Baby Peggy comedy will also be shown.

World Health Officers To Unite in One Group

LONDON (AP)—There is soon to be organized an International Health Society, as a result of the recent interchange of public health officers who have visited this country to study English public health methods.

A provisional committee, composed of doctors from Great Britain, Russia, France, Germany, Poland, Italy and Ecuador has been elected to draw up the constitution. The society will have its headquarters at Geneva and all public health officers who have already taken part in League interchanges—290 from 42 different countries — will be invited to become original members.

Many of these doctors have not so far been interested in the work of the League of Nations, but their society will have as its principal object the development of the League's health organization. The members of the new society will also exchange information on preventive medicine and all matters of public health.

Just A Little Common Sense

We deal in tires. We buy the best we can buy regardless of price. We believe in quality first—not prices. There is no such thing as a bargain in cheap tires. Not even the slightest chance to get more than you pay for. By the time you ruin a good tube, buy two and then blow out both, put in a few hours on the dusty road, lose your temper, call the manufacturer everything possible, all on account of a cheaply constructed tire, what have you gained?

Gates and Jack Tires are built in the west for western roads. Come look them over—the tires speak for themselves.
