

NEWS of SOCIETY

Social news must be in the hands of the society editor by 5:30 o'clock. Due to the fact that the social page is made up before noon, it is practically impossible to insert stories after that hour. Hereafter, items, no matter how important they are, that are delayed beyond that hour, will not be printed until the following day—News Editor's Note.

Mrs. J. E. O'Connell proved herself a charming hostess yesterday afternoon when she entertained the Monday Bridge club at her home on O avenue. The afternoon was spent at bridge with high honors going to Mrs. Chas. Phyle and the guest prize to Miss Nell Grimmett.

Mrs. O'Connell's home was attractively decorated with spring flowers and before adjournment a delicious luncheon was served. The club will meet with Mrs. A. T. Hill, Monday afternoon, June 16.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Community room of the church. All those who have not yet turned in their Easter offering are urged to do so at this meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Riverside Ladies Aid Society will be held at the Chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Hilda Anthony and Miss Etha Niekans will present their piano recital in costume recital this evening at eight o'clock at the Public Library auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the American Legion will meet tomorrow evening, June 4, at the K. of P. hall. Important business is to come before the Auxiliary at this time and all members are urged to be present.

Cove, (Special)—Mrs. L. B. Carter and Miss Beas Kelly were hostesses to the Ladies Guild Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Conley. Five hundred was played at four tables during the afternoon, after which a delicious luncheon was served by the charming hostesses.

The guests were Mrs. A. Conley, Mrs. Ray Goodenough, Mrs. Huhl, all of La Grande, Mrs. E. C. Hoec.

Strong

If you get real mad at the phone operator, you can tear up the telephone book—that is, if you have the strength of Lucile Kniswell, one of the world's strongest women who is shown here taking a little exercise.

Mrs. H. J. Barker, Mrs. G. E. Barker, Mrs. R. H. Daniels, Mrs. A. G. Conklin, Mrs. T. R. Conklin, Mrs. T. C. Hoefly, Mrs. Lulu B. Weeks, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. A. H. Olson, Mrs. C. E. Lawson, Mrs. M. Metcalf, Mrs. G. H. N. Ogilvie, Mrs. C. Bertach and Mrs. C. Heryford.

Mrs. Herty won high honors and Mrs. Bertach won second high score.

Fashion Notes

Black Satin Hat. Paris.—Among the new hats now shown here is one of black with a high satin crown and a draping fringe. Across the front, and there only, it is trimmed with crushed wall flowers.

Transferring Fur. Paris.—The fur which has begun to be placed on summer cloaks by ostrich tips, is being transferred to wrist bags of the more fancy sort. A bag of lemon tinted taffeta worn here today was covered with tufts of alternating ermine and beaver.

Less Color to Lingerie. London.—Lingerie today is becoming less and less colorful. Most of it now is either silver white or ivory, although the pearl tints of gray are also favored. Decoration is chiefly confined to insets of lace.

Scarfs for Bondole Curtains. London.—The scarfs which one sees everywhere are now being adopted as bondole curtains. They hang as bits of thin, airy color on each side of the glass curtains of silk net.

For Pleasant Afternoons. New York.—One of the most attractive costumes for afternoon wear on a day when the coat is unnecessary, is of navy roachana crepe with stripes of chenille. The gray metal buckle on one hip, matched by gray stockings, adds a color touch.

Sports Shoes in More Favor. New York.—Sports shoes with low heels are coming more and more into favor today, despite the supposed ascendancy of high heels. One fascinating type of sports shoes is in black suede with dull black leather strap and heel.

SCARFS A REQUISITE TO THE FAULTLESS TROUSSEAU. The June-time bride should recall above all things the importance of accessories—the final touch of smartness that make or mar the ensemble costume.

And today, it is safe to say that the scarf holds first place among the "indispensables."

There is such bewitching color from which to choose—brilliant hued affairs that will do much to lighten the severe costume. It is well for the bride to consider the problem of travel when she purchases—and to remember that the more the shine or chiffon scarf is not for her. Rather should she choose a variety from the broad field of knitted scarfs—which are equally colorful, vastly more important of all, wrinkle-proof!

Dark Nude Tints. New York.—Some of the new nude shades in hosiery are far darker and more tan than the nude tint of last year. They are, however, much nearer the flesh color and look particularly well with black shoes.

DROWNING MAN IS SAVED. SALEM, Ore.—Henry Carl, well known local contractor, narrowly escaped death by drowning while swimming in the Willamette river at Sponga Landing, seven miles south of Salem.

Carl had separated from his companions and was swimming down the stream when he was seized with cramps and disappeared. Douglas Hara, an expert swimmer who chanced to be at the spot, quickly discarded his clothing and plunged into the water. In the meantime Roy Finster had reached the side of the struggling man and attempted to raise his head above the water. Hara and Finster, with the aid of a boat, later brought Carl to shore.

Physicians said Mr. Carl would recover.

SWIMMER IS DROWNED. ROSEBURG, Ore.—The first drowning of the summer season occurred when Theodore Peterson, 21, lost his life in the waters of Elk creek, a mile and a half west of Drain.

Peterson was an inexperienced swimmer and got into water over his depth. He was a new arrival in Douglas county, having located in Drain only a few days ago and was to have started to work at a service station there. He came from Hoxas, Ill., where his parents reside. The body will be sent to Iowa.

No inquest was found necessary by Coroner Ritter, who made an investigation.

Camp Fire Permits Required. PENDELTON, Ore.—Beginning today all campers who build fires in the Umatilla national forest will be required to have campfire permits, according to a statement at the local forest service office. The ruling has been made in an effort to prevent fires in the forest. There is greater risk of heavy losses this season than for several years on account of the dry weather, according to the statement.

other fight that will have to be settled before the balloting on candidates begins will be precipitated over the traditional two-thirds rule.

This rule, under which a democratic nominee must receive two-thirds of the total votes in the convention instead of the bare majority necessary for a republican selection, was adopted originally on the advice of Andrew Jackson. As a Jacksonian policy, it is worshipped and revered as among the most sacred of democratic institutions.

But when a two-thirds rule blocks the selection of a candidate who might be able to muster a safe majority, the rule immediately loses its sanctity to the backers of that particular candidate.

In this case, it is the followers of McAdoo who propose to force the fight to set aside the two-thirds requirement and substitute a bare majority as sufficient for nomination.

eventually though not now, to roll up even the necessary two-thirds.

More and more, interest in Washington is centering in the coming struggle at New York. The Cleveland convention, by contrast will admittedly be a tame and deadly dull affair. At New York it will be an affair, not an affair, and not even one-to-four money can be found on the result.

Hiram Johnson, who at one time was expected to furnish fireworks for the Cleveland show has finalized. His notification that he releases delegates instructed for him indicates that his name will not even be placed in nomination.

But at New York—ah! There will be all kinds of fireworks from the Piety Cross to the Double Cross!

"Tailored"

Even as the season's popular suits show many variations, all "tailored," so the shoes one may correctly wear with them are varied. But one must not feel that any style is permissible—for both good taste and Fashion insist that the tailored note of chic severity be carried throughout the ensemble, to be correct.
