PAGEANT AT UNION, ORE., A SUCCESS

and their applause the actors. Every episode was received enthusiastically with an enthusiasm ranging from quiet reverence followed by prolonged applause in the Crusader scene to hilarious shouts, hand clapping and children's laughter which approved the burlesque scenes.

Union has spent the last month in preparation for "Friends of Mankind." Under the able leadership of Dr. W. T. Poy, of Hot Lake and of C. L. Caldwell, Frank Sturgill, J. P. Hutchinson, Mrs. Walter Cook and Mrs. George Baled, the entire city has been organized to work for the success of this new undertaking. Dr. Poy, although his home is six miles distant from the city, was chosen chairman of the executive committee, because of his enthusiasm for the work and because he was largely instrumental in holding the city to see that a change should be made from the carnival entertainment of previous years.

"Friends of Mankind" opens with a dinner of Aurora and her husband, Lora Bledsoe, as Aurora is gracefully danced in the dawn, only to be driven from the stage on the appearance of the Sun-Apollo. Will Byers, driving four well known chariot horses, took the part.

The trials of Adam and Eve—especially of Eve whom her husband lashed to the slave—were shown in the next episode. This dealt with early cultivation and portrayed the first use of the four seasons in tilling the soil.

Phoebus, who was the Adam who drove Mrs. Roy Canklin—Eve—while Paul Cook and Leslie Butler were in Cain and Abel.

A huge ark was next brought forth on the fir backed stage and into this Noah and his sons finally persuaded their wives and animals to enter. Some of the finest specimens of eastern Oregon's stock were turned over to the early characters by the directors of the show grounds.

Rev. A. Quinn played Noah with A. L. Foster, Bert Knutson and Howard Watson playing his sons. The "wives" were Mrs. Opal Shappert, Mrs. P. H. Chubb, and the Misses Hazel Adams and Alice Caldwell.

Perhaps the most impressive of any scene was the Crusader episode. Louis Bledsoe, who leads the local horsemen in the valley and they, in brilliantly colored costumes led in sacred music by the Mormon choir, which J. W. Baxter directed, performed excellently.

A. Priscilla and John Alden were shown the need of the early settlers for a religion and again gave opportunity for creditable early history with such splendid types as are now on the stock show grounds. Mrs. Frank Coover was a charming Priscilla and Dorel Lewis a convincing John Alden.

Four scenes were devoted to the history of the Grange from the valley. The first of those depicted was the 1830 Year's Day celebration of the farm expedition, with Fred Osborne as Jim, Alva Jensen as Pierre Lorton and Mrs. Will Dobbins the brave wife of the soldier. E. A. Blom, traveling with the Winchester Simons company, is remaining in Union for the three days of the show and he has contributed to the program by singing in this act on the piano melody. The first scene was followed by the arrival of the first covered wagon, with Fred Nodine, junior, taking the place of one of the oxen drawing his wife and babies in the western land even as his father in the early days.

A service in the history of the circuit rider was next shown, with George Baird the circuit rider. The scene of the historical episode was a much applauded musical number by the La Grande chamber of commerce quartet, who appeared as modern cowboys. As usual, Union was enthusiastic in its praise of the selections of Elmer Stoddard, George Burke, A. L. Dutton and Sherwood Williams.

The closing episode of the pageant—a burlesque circus—drew forth the most merriest from the spectators. This had been arranged by Fred Osborne, who conscripted a group of high school boys and the city's young men, to fill the roles of Kings, Kats, colorful elephants, and crazily striped tigers. A dance by Mrs. Percy Rollins, burlesque and orchestra, was exceptionally well received.

In addition to the six episodes of the pageant were three dances whose novel costumes held special appeal. A "Tide of Spring Flower Dance" was led by the Misses Edith and Edith Shappert, while Edith Miller did special feature work here. Leslie Denny headed a group of dancers who presented flowers, while the closing number was a farcical dance headed by Bettine Miller and Rallo Rearty.

Bear Caught in Trap Was Hard to Release

WENATCHEE, Wash., (AP)—A bear which has become entangled in a trap set out for fish in Twin lakes presented considerable of a problem when attempts were made to release it, according to T. J. Webb, in charge of the fish hatchery at the lake. Every time an attempt was made to draw near the net the bear floundered around on its back in an effort to get free. Mr. Webb, who was in a rowboat, finally overcame when Webb beat it into unconsciousness with an oar and released it. It was about one year old, he said.

WOMEN WILL BE A FACTOR

CLEVELAND (AP)—More women delegates and alternates will attend the national Republican convention here in June than ever attended a political gathering in the past.

David W. Mulvane, Kansas chairman of the national committee on arrangements, announced here after a survey of election results in several states.

"Thirty-nine states will send 68 women delegates at large. This number is in addition to the regularly elected delegates and alternates numbering more than 400 from state congressional districts. This number is also exclusive of West Virginia, California and four women delegates at large—Tennessee, New Mexico and Montana send three each and Connecticut, Iowa, Kansas, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Washington, Wyoming, Indiana, Utah, Vermont and Maryland send two each, while Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Iowa, Iowa, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Wisconsin and Oregon send one each."

In view of the large number of women who will attend the convention, the special women's committee has arranged entertainment, not only for women delegates and alternates, but for wives of delegates, newspaper publishers and correspondents and women journalists who cover the convention. Boat rides on Lake Erie, sightseeing trips, receptions, teas at clubs, golf tournaments at country clubs, horseback and motor trips have been arranged.

Mrs. Nettie M. Clapp, Cleveland, is chairman of the women's committee. Associate women members of the republican national committee who arrived in Cleveland June 1 include Mrs. Leonard G. Woods, Pittsburgh, second vice chairman of the national committee, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, Warren, O., vice chairman of the republican national committee.

HUNT'S LETTER

lowers to compare with, democratic present that of June 24 when the New York gathering convenes, as one of favorable and hopeful portent.

For the eve of June 24 brings Midsummer Night, when fairies and devils abound with their witcheries and enchantment.

By the aid of the fairies, it is suggested, conventional difficulties may be harmoniously solved and a Prince Charming chosen to lead the party to victory.

Skeptical republicans, however, smile knowingly and opine that democratic delegates had better beware the fairies that flutter about Broadway.

And as for help from the elves, well—an against their miracles and magic the U. O. P. prefers to place dependence in the plans and plottings of plain politicians!

The latest tip from the Dark Horse stables is that Carter Glass, secretary of treasury and senator from Virginia, promises to be the "Black Gold" of the democratic derby.

Glass, his backers say, is rounding into the home stretch in good form and will force to the front when the McAdoo-Smith-Underwood deadlock leaves them winless.

No "Bobs" Allowed Among Women in Colorado Prison

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)—Warden Thomas J. Ryan, of the Colorado state penitentiary here, has issued a decree to the women prisoners that there shall be "No Bobs." Women arriving with bobbed hair are required to let it grow, according to the warden, who holds that there is something essentially feminine in graceful coils of hair, and that "incarceration is no reason why womanly qualities and virtues should not be emphasized."

Correct this sentence: "You have come to the wrong place," snapped the self-made man: "I never give advice."
