Joseph Community club will issue invitations to members of the commercial bodies in Enterprise and Wallowa, as it is the desire of the Portland men to meet as many people of the valley as possible in the brief space of time allotted them to come here. They leave on the outgoing train Thursday, the 19th, so could only schedule one meeting for the valley.
 According to the letter received from Whitney L. Boise regarding the proposed visit, it is the desire of the committee to discuss with the people of the valley the land settlement and marketing program under development by the Portland and the State Chambers of Commerce. This valley is as deeply interested in this program as any other section of the state and the presence of these men should be an occasion for the most of our people to become informed upon these two important features of the general Oregon development campaign.
 Mr. Boise also wrote that the members of his party will bring along their fishing tackle and will appreciate being shown the best places to cast their flies for the best trout.
 The matter of providing entertainment for the visitors was brought before the business men at the regular Tuesday luncheon at Hotel Jennings and a committee consisting of F. D. McNulty, John Himmelwright and F. M. Calvert was placed in charge.
 Almost all commodities are quoted on an exchange now except official influence.
