"Foolish Mothers!"
Coming to Star
Next Monday.

"Foolish Mothers," which opens at the Star theater next Monday created a furore of discussion when it was shown in Los Angeles. Prominent club women and members of the clergy were shown a preview of the picture and almost without exception they were unanimous in their opinion that the picture dealt with one of the most vital subjects of the day. In discussing one phase of the picture, Mrs. Clara Lamberg, a prominent club woman, made the following statement: "There is no question but what the training of young men of today is sadly neglected. If parents were as careful to instill principles of manhood in their boys and to show them their duty towards their girl chums as they are in giving warning to the girls, there would be fewer young chaps running about with the idea that every girl is their natural prey."

Torrence Sticks to His Game and Wins In Arcade Movie.

Ernest Torrence, who has raised himself into the front rank of character actors on the screen in the brief space of a year's time, is an interesting example of what perseverance will do in any profession. For years a good comedian on the stage, motion picture producers would not consider him because they thought him too tall. Then one day he was cast as a brute heavy in "Tollable David" and made such a success that everybody predicted that he was destined to play villains all the rest of his screen career. But Torrence hadn't been on the stage for twenty years for nothing and he knew the wise ones had not reckoned on his ability. After "Broken Chains" in which he plays another heavy role, came "The Covered Wagon." His work as "Bill Jackson" in this epic film skyrocketed him into fame. At that time he was a comic heavy, but not as brutal as in "Tollable David." Then came "Shogun" in which he acted the part of a pathetic half-witted clown and following that he was in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." His next picture provided him with a comedy role, that of Cousin Egebert in "Huggins of Red Gap." After this production was shown there was no denying that Torrence could be a comedian as well as a villain.

In "West of the Water Tower," Glenn Hunter's first Paramount production which comes to the Arcade theater next Friday for two days, Mr. Torrence adds another great character study to his already versatile list.

"Blow Your Own Horn" At Sherrys Today and Friday.

The spirit of George M. Cohan is aptly translated to the screen in "Blow Your Own Horn," rapping rapid-fire reel play of comedy and adventure billed to show at Sherrys today and Friday. The play has a cast including such favorites as Warner Baxter, Ralph Lewis and Derris Perdue. Briefly, the story tells of the chance meeting of a millionaire and an ex-service man out of a job, the former instilling into the latter new courage by retelling to him the tales that have made him a success, the most important of which, he tells him, is "to blow your own horn."

KELSO WINS OPENER

PIRATES MAKE BUT TWO RUNS

Timber Wolves Romp Away with 6 to 2 Score in First of Two-Game Series.

Working like a machine the Kelso Timberwolves held the La Grande Pirates to two runs while they grabbed off six tallies as their share of the spoils in yesterday's game. The game was marred for the La Grande fans by some slow play on the part of the home team. Bench pitched a good game and far outpitched Tomason, the Kelso leaver, but the difference in the score was caused by lack of support. Time and again the La Grande batters hit balls far to the outfield and the Kelso fielders, starting with the ball as it left the bat, were standing ready to receive it when it came down. The La Grande infield acted like they had had a bad night out for the first few innings, waking up only once when they made a fast double play, Davis to Helms to Peckham in the fifth inning. Peterson furnished the one real thrill of the game when he walked up to the plate in the fifth inning and smacked a liner out to the right of the Kelso center fielder bringing in Garity ahead of him and making a slide for home for the only two La Grande scores of the game. "Gunner" played his usual consistently good game behind the plate and caught several of the Timberwolves off the bases. Charlie Bench struck out 15 men to Tomason's four so the loss of the game

SPOKANE, Wash. Spokane university was awarded the basketball championship of the conference; Cheney normal, baseball and track; Spokane college, tennis singles, and Columbia college, tennis doubles. WIMBLEDON, England (By the Associated Press)—Miss Helen Wills, American woman tennis champion, was defeated in her singles match in the team event Wednesday between the American and British women representatives. Mrs. Phyllis Covell of England won from the young Californian in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4. Mrs. Covell was steady and kept up a hard driving game, playing mostly to the California girl's back hand. Miss Wills apparently found difficulty in getting "the lay of the land," smashing a number of her back hand drives far beyond the lines.

Miss Wills' erratic game, far below her customary standard, lost her first singles in tournament play in this country. Her English opponent played with marvelous steadiness throughout, setting the pace most of the time and pegging away persistently at the American girl's back hand which for the day was over-strong and weak alternately.

Mrs. Mallory Beaton, Miss Kathleen McKane of England won her match with Mrs. Molly Mallory, former American champion, 6-2, 6-2.

In the doubles, Mrs. Covell and Mrs. Shepherd-Barron of England defeated Mrs. Marlon Zinderstein Jessup and Miss Eleanor Goosip, 6-2, 6-2.

Mrs. Mallory played a steady, quick court game while Miss McKane, seemingly improved over her form of last year, slugged hard and steadily from all parts of the court and was able thus to capture the match.

Miss Wills accepted defeat unperturbed. After the match she calmly chatted with Mrs. Wightman and others clustered about the umpire's perch, drank a glass of water and posed with Mrs. Covell for the photographers.
