Hints for the Housewife

Equipment for Preserving. When the garden begins to grow green, and fruit trees berry bushes and the like, the housewife begins to prepare for preserving these gifts of nature. While her harvesting does not call for reapers and binders, moving machines and other ponderous, if useful, inventions, it is not without its mechanical aids.

A special meeting of Chapter I. P. E. O. was held recently at Island City, with Mrs. Bidwell and Mrs. Wallis as joint hostesses.

This meeting was called to hear the report of the recent State convention held in Albany. Mrs. Margaret Hunter, president and Mrs. Klodie, past president of the chapter, attended this convention and at 10 o'clock the report was given by Mrs. Hunter, being enjoyed by all present.

This meeting was also in the nature of a farewell party to Mrs. Edna Palmer, the retiring past president of the chapter, who is leaving La Grande to make her home in Seattle for the present.

Fashion Notes

Evening Frocks from Spanish Shawl. Paris—More and more it is being borne in upon us that Spain is a remarkable country. Take, for instance, the way in which an evening frock is now evolved from a Spanish shawl.

Slippers Mostly Straps. Paris—The new evening slippers today are scarcely more than a sole and a series of straps. Or, instead of slippers, they are espadrilles, but so out and out that they are not worn at all.

New Idea for Bobbed Hair. London—A new idea has occurred to the girl with the bobbed hair. Instead of combing her short hair straight down in boyish fashion, she now twists it to one side. The hair wraps her head as closely as a cap, but the swirl to one side gives it, nevertheless, a feminine touch.

Child Silks Being Shown. New York—Plain silks in subtle shadings and broken patterns are on display today in several smart shops. These silks are large, but so finished up that they are adaptable, even to large figures, while the colors are soft and summer like.

Victorian Gown for Afternoon. New York—A little afternoon gown of soft tulle, worn here today, looks like a pleasant throw-back to the better Victorian styles. The skirt is rather full, the bodice plain with a rounded neck. The sleeves itself is in a shade, with white dots.

Head Dresses for Slings. New York—These fitting head dresses for the slung head are making the summer evening necessities. One of these is a smart little glimmering beanie, which wraps round the head tightly, crossing in front, where it features with a large jeweled brooch.

Many Clanking Ornaments. Paris—A great many clanking chains and long thin ornaments are being worn by the young women of Paris. Some of these are very original.

TRAFFIC, Radio, Among Policemen's Troubles. DETROIT, (AP)—Standardization of traffic regulations, radio communication as a means of increasing police efficiency, adoption of a secret telegraphic code, and discussion of methods of checking the promiscuous sale of firearms, are the principal subjects facing the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police to be held at Montreal July 14-17. William H. Rutledge, superintendent of police of Detroit, is president.

A report on the work done by the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Police Information at Washington, D. C., also will be heard. This division is a combination of full police records of cities represented by members in the association, and records of the Bureau of Criminal Identification of the United States Department of Justice, making available at all times to the police of the country detailed information concerning criminals of the world.

President Rutledge has devoted considerable attention during the past year to traffic regulation, and the convention for the first time will be attended by representatives of leading automobile and traffic associations who will present their views on means for facilitating prompt motorcar movement and decreasing the number of traffic casualties.

German Retail Trade Reports Worst Year in Its History. BERLIN, (AP)—The past year has been the worst in the history of the retail trade in Germany, according to the annual report of the Association of German Department Stores published recently. Of 1,000 stores the decline in the business of 1923 were the steady decline of the mark and the occupation of the Ruhr, which upset conditions generally.

While manufacturers endeavored to adjust themselves to the situation by quoting prices in dollars or pounds, and wholesalers just as rapidly followed suit, numerous new laws and divers regulations prevented the retailers from joining

TRAIL MEETING PLANS READY

Pioneers to Join with Boosters at Wallowa Lake on Tuesday, June 24th.

BAKER, Ore. (Special)—A pioneer and Old Oregon Trail convention will be held at the head of Wallowa lake, Wallowa county, Tuesday, June 24. A holiday will be declared in the county and pioneers from all points will gather at the head of the lake for their annual meeting and at the same time will cooperate with the Old Oregon Trail association in putting over a big program.

It is customary to hold the pioneer meeting at Lostine, but this year an exception was made in deference to the Old Oregon Trail association. The meeting will be an outdoor affair and a good old pioneer dinner will be prepared and served by the women of the Baker, Union and Emathia counties will be in attendance, as well as from Walla Walla.

J. Neilson Barry of Portland, who is well versed in the history of the "Oregon country," will be one of the principal speakers. W. E. Moscham, president of the Old Oregon Trail association, will deliver his lecture on the history of the Old Oregon Trail.

The tourist traffic this year over the trail has increased 50 per cent over that of last year. The officials of the Wallowa lake park realize the importance of the tourist traffic and have expressed a willingness to aid the Old Oregon Trail association in bringing the woodland tourist to the coast over the historic trail.

Mr. Magham has gone to Denver to attend the International convention of Kiwanis clubs and will convene for the convention to be held in Seattle in 1925. He will distribute to the assembled delegates neat folders briefly telling of the Old Oregon Trail and of Seattle and the northwest. His slogan will be "Come to Seattle in 1925 over the Old Oregon Trail, the road that won an empire."

State Assures Motorists Pure Water to Drink. HANSHBERG, Penn. (AP)—Analysis of drinking water along state highways has been begun by officials of the State Department of Health. An ambulance converted into a field laboratory took to the road at the extreme eastern end of the Lincoln highway, opening the movement designed to protect the health of motorists who use wayside drinking water.

As soon as the tests are made, the results will be sent field engineers who will post the drinking places. It is planned to post such sources of water supply and, where the water is found to be dangerous to the public health, warning signs will be set up.

Dr. Charles E. Miner, secretary of health, declared the movement is the first of its kind on the part of any state to protect motorists from impure water.

Heroic Mexican Wife Saved Flag of Husband's Regiment. JALAPA, Vera Cruz. (AP)—The flag of the 25th Infantry has been restored to that outfit through the courage and sacrifice of Senora Esperanza Borlengue, wife of the battalion's commander. When Colonel Borlengue, heading the 25th, was surprised by the oncoming revolutionaries here early last December and found himself with only a dozen followers, his first thought was of the battalion's standard. Fearing captured, he entrusted it to his wife who, despite military confinement and threats of execution, refused to give up the banner. The revolution crushed, Jalapa again under control of the central government and her husband promoted to general, Senora Borlengue produced the flag from his hiding place and turned it over to her husband for presentation to the president. He in turn restored it to the reorganized 25th which, although decimated in various battles on the Vera Cruz front, had remained loyal to the government.

England Makes Russian Coins. LONDON, (AP)—Discs are being cast at the Royal mint for 50 kopek pieces for the Russian Soviet government by means of a machine which was made in France. This fact, says the Evening Standard, was circulated in the course of a tour of the mint by a party of overseas visitors. The machines are making Russian coins at the rate of 48,000 every eight hours.
