"Fool's Awakening" At Sherrys Is Thrilling Picture.

Yesterday at the Sherry theatre, Metro's production of "The Fool's Awakening" opened an engagement giving picture goes a treat in a thoroughly entertaining film acted by a well chosen cast under the direction of Harold Shaw.

Harrison Ford plays the leading role of John Briggs who builds up a network of lies and has a hard time living up to his fictitious past. End Bennett is the hero whom he marries without revealing his secret to her, and Mary Alden, her companion who tries to protect her. The rest of the cast moves through the exciting situations and dramatic scenes with a convincing air.

"The Tale of Two Cities" William J. Locke's well known novel, was adapted for the screen by Tom J. Hopkins, who also wrote the continuity. J. J. Hughes was art director and Allan Siegel photographer for "The Fool's Awakening." Comedy, "Old Sea Dog"

Each succeeding Negri picture goes its predecessor one better, but "Shadows of Paris" goes "The Spanish Dancer" two better — in other words it's far superior to anything the continental star has ever previously attempted.

"Flowing Gold," Epic of Oil, Coming to Star.

"Flowing Gold," showing at the Star theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday, is an epic of the oil fields. Richard Walton Tully, who produced this picture for Associated First National Pictures, Inc., has spared no effort to make it one of the really big screen attractions. "Flowing Gold," an adaptation of Rex Beach's popular novel of that name, is laid in the northern Texas oil districts and is a rapidly moving drama which leads up to a smashing climax with some of the greatest storm and fire scenes ever presented. It concerns itself with the Harkness, a family of impoverished Texas farmers, who strike oil on the old farm in great quantities. Calvin Gray, a penniless soldier of fortune, becomes interested in the family and guides them through the hectic period of their opulence.
