La Grande Theatres

Mother Love Central Theme in "The Lullaby."
 exerted by this producer in a magnificent picturization of Du Maurier's immortal novel, "Trilby," which, as a First National attraction, is to be shown at the Arcade Theatre, commencing Wednesday.
 Mr. Tully spent several months in Europe, during which time he took a great many scenes in the very locations described by the distinguished author, a task made difficult through Du Maurier's habit of altering the names of places he described.
 "For instance," says Mr. Tully, "the block on which the three chums of the story dwell in the Montmartre was called 'Anstole des Arts' by the author, whereas I found it to be in reality 'Andree des Arts' and 'Cirque Basha-zooka,' which figures prominently in the drama, was in reality 'Cirque Boon Boon,' now called 'Cirque Medrano' and still used as a theatre."
 "Having made our identifications positive," continued the noted producer, "we used four thousand performers in these theatre sequences, all of them in costume, and the result more than justified the effort in authenticity of atmosphere. In addition to the artists engaged in France; Andree Lafayette for the title role; Maurice Cannon for the part of Zouzou; and Max Constant for Dodo; Mr. Tully had with him in Paris other principals who figure in these scenes, and his technical staff, which includes James Young, director; George Benoit, cameraman; Wilfred Buckland, art director—all of whom, from first-hand knowledge of the locale of the story, were enabled, in completing the production in Hollywood, to assist the producer in achieving sincerity in what, it is felt, will come to be known as Richard Walton Tully's masterpiece.

GERMAN COLLEGE STUDENTS DEMAND REDUCED TUITION

HERLIN (AP)—The students of state institutions in Prussia have threatened to boycott lectures and classes unless the fees for attending colleges and universities are cut to one-third of the present amounts. The threat was made at a meeting recently of representatives of the student unions of all Prussian higher institutions of learning.
 The student representatives declared that the students economically are not in a position to afford the fees fixed by the Prussian ministry of culture and education. They denied that the students have gone on strike, but said that the pecuniary distress of the students compels many of them not to pay their fees and to remain away from the lectures.
 It is said that a bill will be introduced in the Prussian diet to provide public funds to make up the difference between the fee now asked and those suggested by the students.
