"The Old Fool" At Sherrys Today And Tomorrow.
"Gentle Julia" Shows Tarkington at His Best. Now at Arcade.

There is probably no more stirring sight than the G. A. R. parade on Decoration Day. What events are recalled when the old veterans—all that is left of the Grand Army—march once more to the strains of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic"? "Marching Through Georgia" and the other songs that warmed their blood in the good old days. This is the same music to which they marched into battle with swiftness and high courage. Even now, their step grows firmer and a new light comes into their faded eyes, under the influence of that music.

To those watching the parade, these veterans make the Civil War more real than do all the history books. There are the men who braved shot and shell under Grant. Here are the frayed and bullet-pierced flags that were borne into battle. Sixty years ago, these men were heroes. On Decoration day, they are heroes once more—but what of all the other days?

How are these men treated in their homes, by the next generation and the generation after that? Are the heroic deeds of their youth remembered or are they men just considered old people who don't matter any more?

The home life of the Civil War veteran is strikingly portrayed in "The Old Fool," the picture which comes to the Sherry theater today. Probably no more sympathetic characterization of the old soldier has been given than the portrayal of James Harrows in Granddaddy. The supporting cast is equally as capable. It includes Lloyd Hughes, Betty Francisco, Louise Fazenda, Henry Hunt, Jimmy Mason, O. V. Harrison, Ben Hendricks Jr., Monte Collins, Barbara Tennant and Tom Meigh.

"The Old Fool" will warm every veteran's heart and give his children and his children's children a better understanding of him. Comedy showing "Help One Another."

It's an awful thing to say, but it may be that she is called the village belle because she has the most rings.

the sadness in her face by telling them their love is hopeless. She keeps young Bill dangling between hope and despair, the final outcome, however, brings peace of mind to the infatuated young man. Hattie Love heads the cast. Her wonderfully appealing performance of the unfortunate girl in "Human Wreckage" can readily be recalled. As Julia, the dainty and demure little heroine of the Tarkington story, she scores heavily in a sharply contrasting role. The picture was directed by Howard V. Lee.
