

MANY men buy a shirt because the color looks good. And many a shirt has color that does look good until it is laundered. Arrow labels on shirts mean fast colors—colors that retain the brilliancy and tone that you liked when you bought them. The label means much to you and to us. Producing shirts in large quantities means lower cost per garment, but never lower quality in an Arrow. Preserving quality while making in quantity is the result of over sixty years shirt shop experience in one family.

ALL OREGON TABLES GIVEN

Distribution and Acre-Value of Cereals in the State Are Announced.

In bulletin 284 are given the average 5-year yields in Oregon by counties of winter wheat, spring wheat, barley and oats together with comparative yields of these crops and acre values based on pre-war prices, 1905-1914. These prices were as follows: wheat 80 cents, oats 44 cents and barley 55 cents per bushel.

Several items of interest and of importance to Oregon farmers are brought out in the figures showing average yields and values of these leading crops. The two outstanding features are the apparent superiority of winter wheat and barley in acre yields and acre values over spring wheat and oats. For the state as a whole barley exceeded the average yields in pounds per acre of winter wheat, spring wheat or oats, although winter wheat, because of the slightly higher average price per pound, ranked first in value. The average yields, values and the average acreage devoted to these crops for the past five years were as follows:

First column, No. acres; second column, pounds per acre; third column, value per acre.	W. wheat	374,405	1262	$18.16
Barley	74,311	1435 <td>17.24</td>	17.24
Oats	283,913	1037	14.26
S. Wheat	265,171	912	12.16

The above figures strongly suggest the desirability of a considerable readjustment in our farm crops program. Why do Oregon farmers plant so much spring wheat and oats when both these crops are less productive and bring less returns in dollars and cents than winter wheat and barley? In average winter wheat ranks first, as it should, but barley ranks last, though in yield per acre it exceeds winter wheat and ranks next to winter wheat in value per acre. In Oregon there are four times as many acres in oats as in barley, although the 5-year average yield of barley exceeds that of oats nearly 400 pounds per acre and was worth $3.93 more per acre, as actually determined by the yields obtained by Oregon farmers during the past five years and based on pre-war prices. If the average farm price for the past five years or for the past ten years were used as a basis for comparison instead of the ten-year average pre-war price, barley would exceed oats more than $5 per acre in value.

Make this TEST with NEW MIX TOOTH PASTE

A simple but scientific way to determine the best dentifrice for teeth and gums.
Make the test in your own home without delay --- for every minute may be hastening teeth and gum troubles, and undermining your health.

The TEST

is easily made by just squeezing the double tube and watch the contents combine into activity! These visible oxygen bubbles go where the brush cannot reach—into every recess of the teeth and gums, purifying, sweetening, cleansing.

After years of baffling experiments with many ingredients which make a highly desirable dentifrice when combined but which quickly lose their effectiveness when contained in a single tube, a happy solution was obtained in a new, exclusive double tube—a tube within a tube.

Hundreds of dentists and doctors have endorsed this combination of 22 really effective ingredients that produces such amazing results.

When you have made this test, you, too, will endorse New Mix Tooth Paste as being an absolutely effective and sure way of guarding against the deterioration of teeth, foul breath, infected gums, loss of teeth, and, possibly, the loss of health.

Then you will use New Mix Tooth Paste faithfully—every day!
