TOKYO, (AP)—That the three empires of the world, Japan, Germany and Russia, must unite for their common protection against Anglo-Saxon domination is the gist of an editorial appearing in the Yomiuri Shimbun, formerly a liberal journal but now one of the organs of the nationalistic elements.

"In international politics," said the Yomiuri, "there are three empires in the world, Japan, Germany and Russia. Now they are isolated from each other, but the time may come when changing political conditions will require them to unite. It is likely that at some time an alliance or relations approximating an alliance, will be entered between Japan and Russia. When the empires are united it will strike a death blow to the soul of Anglo-Saxons."

Fruit Juice with Kick Declared to Be Illegal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A warlike agent using the current fruit boom to make intoxicating beverages in the home has been issued by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, the case pending against Representative John Phillip Hill, of Maryland, for alleged manufacture of illegal fruit juices at home is cited. Mr. Wheeler set forth his views on fruit juices to correct a possible misinterpretation of his recent statements on the subject before the house judiciary committee, when the 2.75 percent beer bills were being aired.

The fruit crop now coming on the market may be used in making non-intoxicating fruit juices for exclusive home use," Mr. Wheeler explained. "If the juices become intoxicating in fact, then they are forbidden for beverage use by the constitution and the Volstead act, which excepts only non-intoxicating fruit juices and cider for exclusive use in the home."

"Congressman Hill tested this law when he made fruit juices containing as high as 19 percent of alcohol, last year, claiming that the law permitted this. The government challenged his right to make fruit juice that was in fact intoxicating wine. A temporary injunction issued by United States District Judge Cooper prevents Mr. Hill from further violations of the law. The date of final hearing has not yet been set, although the case was filed October 11, 1923. If Mr. Hill makes more beverage intoxicants under the name of fruit juices, he is liable for contempt of court. Intoxicating fruit juices are under the ban even when made in the home to drink. Mr. Hill is in Europe, where fruit juices may be obtained with an high on alcoholic content as desired."
