

NEWS of SOCIETY

Social news must be in the hands of the society editor by 3:30 o'clock. Due to the fact that the social page is made up before noon, it is practically impossible to insert stories after that hour. Hereafter, items, no matter how important they are, that are delayed beyond that hour, will not be printed until the following day.—News Editor's Note.

Both Miss Lottes and Mr. Denny have been employed by N. K. West and Co., Miss Lottes in the capacity of cashier and Mr. Denny as shoe salesman. The happy pair returned to their home here last evening, after several days spent in Washington. They are wished every happiness by their many friends.

Miss Edna Halley entertained a number of friends with a swimming party yesterday afternoon at the Cove swimming pool. The guests were Misses Ann Stange, Dorothy Ann Warnick, Betty Cochran, Marjorie Reynolds and Gertrude Seranton.

Joseph. (Special) — Miss Mae Stearns of La Grande is enjoying an outing at Wallowa Lake, Oregon. Miss Stearns was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Richards Wednesday, helping to dispose of a chicken dinner. The Richards and Miss Stearns formerly resided at Cove where their friendship materialized.

Ida Morgan has just returned from Portland, where she has been studying under Grover Barron, who is expert cutter at the Bobbe Shoppe, in the Ugan building. Mrs. Morgan is employed at the Marinello Shop in the Sommer building.

Adl. and Mrs. Peterson and family returned yesterday from a trip to Seaside, where they have been engaged in special work for the past month. They are very glad to get back to La Grande again. Meetings will be conducted as usual with a special welcome Home Service Saturday evening, to which the public is invited.

Fashion Notes

Like a Sampler.
Paris.—A very large, plaqued square of embroidery, framing a bouquet of embroidered roses, is placed across the front of some of the Jersey frocks showing here today. The effect is not unlike that of a sampler.

Chinese Umbrellas.
London.—Chinese umbrellas of varnished silk or waterproof paper are the fashionable things in parasols today. They are often embellished with quaint little carved ivory figures, both animals and men, hung around the brim.

Follows French Idea.
New York.—Some unusual lingerie shown here at present captures the French idea of appending a ruffle which in material and color has no relation to the rest of the garment. Thus, lingerie in pale green crepe de chine is untrimmed except for an organdie ruffle of bright orange at neck and hems.

Deep Red Hose.
New York.—A splendidly deep shade of red, with a touch of ecru to it, is among the popular tints in hosiery for evening wear at present. It looks well with a gown of black or white, or with shoes in black, gold or silver.

BOOKS GIVEN COLLEGE.
O. A. C. Corvallis. (Special) — Nearly 300 volumes from the private library of Dr. Robert L. Paddock, Episcopal bishop of eastern Oregon from 1907 to 1922, have been presented to the O. A. C. library. Bishop Paddock is giving his books to various institutions of the northwest, where both he and his father spent many years of service. The collection includes works on agriculture and home economics among other subjects.

Silk Fall Frock

THIS silk frock is just the thing for early fall days before it becomes necessary to wear a coat. It is of fine silk with a self-pattern and a particularly soft finish. The distinctive feature is a label of the silk that may be adjusted by means of buttons to be worn open as in the photograph revealing a vest of embroidered organdie, or closed over to form a perfectly plain blouse with a Jenny neckline. A strap trimmed with buttons trims the tailored sleeves.

Jane Jackson Wonder Reducing Step-ins--

AN AID TO CHARM AND BEAUTY.

It is the pleasant duty of every woman to set herself the task of attaining the utmost in beauty that is possible for her.

No woman has the right to allow herself through carelessness or neglect, to lose the charm that is hers by natural birthright. Therefore the more the Jane Jackson Wonder Reducing Step-in is worn the more quickly will it reduce the figure.

the annual joint picnic of Canby post, Grand Army of the Republic and Relief corps in an oak grove on the west side ranch place of Glen H. Marsh. Athletic events formed a feature. Interest centered chiefly in the veterans' 50-yard dash, which was won by Sanford Smith, Simpson Copple, veteran of the battle of Shiloh, was a close second.

Theresa Stampher, for many years in charge of the institution when it was operated by an association of pioneer physicians, again superintendent, the Cottage hospital will be re-opened this week as a community institution. The hospital was closed by the old association in May.

Cash and pledges of more than $3000 have been obtained by the board of trustees of the community organization, which plans to raise sufficient to purchase the old hospital building through sale of individual memberships.

Asparagus Crop Shows Increase.
PARCO, Wash.—Leo Lampton, manager of the Three Rivers Growers' association reports that sales of asparagus show an increase of $500 crates over last year's crop. There were marketed through the association this year 23,500 crates at an average net price of $1.44 a crate, while the price last year was $1.35. Lampton states that the demand for asparagus has shown a steady growth and even with the inferior quality of this year's crop, due to early frost, the price averaged higher than last year.

Eastern competition is not active until after the first of May, when the local crop is practically disposed of, he states.

interest in the sleeping-car business, he also inherited a considerable part of Shaver's animosity.

Shaver's job of running a national campaign is complicated by the fact that he simply cannot sleep on trains. No matter how sleepy he may be, as soon as he is shut in behind the awning green curtains of a Pullman boulevard he loses all ability to slumber.

The best he ever gets out of it is a fitful, night-mare dose, which leaves him more wearied than before.

As a result, Shaver will stick rather close to Washington and national Democratic headquarters during the campaign. Where impersonal messages won't do, he'll send out a lieutenant.

To such an extent as he can use a radio or airplane in long-distance managing, he may utilize them. But the few overnight trips via Pullman, the better Shaver will like it.

By contrast, William Butler, who tried to have Lowden picked as running mate for Coolidge and who is running the Coolidge-Dawson landwagon, dearly loves Pullman travel.

He jumps about the country with the same abandon exhibited by Will Hays, the boy prodigy from Indiana, four years ago.

Butler makes overnight jumps at least once or twice a week between Chicago and New York, Washington and Chicago and Chicago and Boston. And he says he doesn't expect to much sitting still between now and the first of November.

And sleep? Why, on a train is about the only chance he gets to sleep!

The one party without a candidate in the campaign this fall is the National Woman's Party. To decide what is to be done about this situation, an "election conference" of Woman's Party leaders has been called for Westport, N. Y., Aug. 15-17.

Alice Paul of Washington, who issued the call for the conference, says the old parties are not nominating enough women for Congress.

The Westport meeting will undertake to determine what is to be done about this. Women candidates for Congress on a Woman's Party ticket may result.
