GRANT BEAN, Mgr.

around to offer everything from brand dogs to antiques for sale.

Three country music have offered to forsake the milk stool to become his bride. All day the curious looked him for just a glimpse, a word or a signature in a name album.

The way he regards his problem is illustrated by an incident at the People's Drug store. Two girls were slipping sodas when one said: "I'd love to see this man Thaw."

The other answered: "I wouldn't I'd be scared to death. He might kill me."

Thaw stepped up, and touching the frightened one on the arm said:

"In Harry Thaw, I killed a man in a just cause and I have no regret. But I'll never harm any one else—especially a little girl."

Everywhere he goes, the town goes follows. He walks erect, with quick, nervous steps, his unusual height, gray hair, deep-lined face and athletic figure marking him apart.

Mother Often With Him

Reeking him is the ever-faithful A. J. Connolly, four years his personal attendant and bodyguard. Usually his secretary accompanies him on one side, while his mother walks on the other.

It is she who will win the town. Though 82 years old, she still looks after her boy. Big, broad, white-haired, maternal woman, slightly bent by years and tribulation, she is the grande dame of a great family.

Harry to her is still the spoiled child she's done so much to rear. He still flies into tantrums and she still rebukes and mollifies him.

At the hotel he demands instant services. If it is delayed he curses like a trooper, stamps his feet or pounds his hands on table or desk. He's never still, but speaks nervously, his eyes roving and seldom resting long on any object.

Mrs. Thaw saves trouble by her generosity. In one day at the George Washington hotel she distributed $100 in $5 bills to servants who had suffered from her boy's tongue-lashings and temper.

Thaw makes no apology for killing Whitey. He is proud of having taken the law into his own hands. In this he has the sympathy of the valley where unwritten law is strong.

Peace To Be Found In World Brotherhood

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP) — The Father and Son Movement, developed in America where it has become a recognized institution, is spreading over the whole world. This was indicated today in a speech by Walter W. Hood, of Omaha, chairman of the National Father and Son Committee of the United States and also president of the American Bankers Association, before the World's Committee of the Y. M. C. A. "More than 26 nations," he said, "observe Father and Son Week. In the United States alone upwards of 2,000,000 of fathers and sons joined in events during the past year."

The Father and Son Movement originated at a Y. M. C. A. banquet of fathers and sons at Providence, R. I., in 1907. Mr. Hood stated. He said further:

"Only as the fundamental principles of world brotherhood are recognized and accepted by the peoples of the world, can we ever hope for the world peace. The men who are to direct the destiny of the nations of the world—our ing the next generation are now the young boys who are in our homes today. What greater privilege has a man than to give of himself as a companion, teacher, advisor, and as an inspiration to his son who tomorrow steps into responsibilities the significance of which we cannot conceive.

"Every man, whether or not he gains the physical relation of father and son, should give serious consideration to his own life, the ideal for which he stands, that his example will always be an inspiration to the boy life of today in encouraging the spirit of world brotherhood.

"In the United States we believe it most appropriate to observe National Father and Son Week at that period of the year when American Day comes. This has proven to be an opportune time not only to pay honor and respect to the millions of fathers and sons who give their lives for the ideal of world brotherhood, but a time for the fathers and sons who strive to regenerate themselves to life for that same great objective.

FEAST HELD BY MANY OF THE FAITHFUL

Powder and Joseph Baird of Union were named as the finance committee conducting the business section of the program.

Several musical selections were rendered by the Pratt-Evans Minstrel followed by a vocal solo by Katherine Campbell. Mrs. Campbell received such vigorous applause that she was compelled to respond with two more numbers.

A letter from Governor Walter M. Pierce expressing his regret at being unable to attend was read. Floyd W. Dick, substituting for William Peterson who followed with an address on the subject of "Our Standard Bearer."

Joe. S. Hoeligh, introduced as "the democratic war horse of Union county" spoke on the subject of "Principles of Democracy," most of which was devoted to criticizing opposing parties. As Milton A. Miller was unable to attend Judge William Smith of Baker substituted, giving the main address of the evening. Mr. Smith dealt principally upon the alleged dishonesty of the present government incumbents and the dishonesty of the Democrats from such temptations.

Addresses were given by James Harvey Graham, Charles G. Blyeu and Floyd W. Dick who delivered a memorial address eulogizing Woodrow Wilson. The meeting closed with the singing of "America" led by Mrs. Henry McGooldrick.

Low Death Rate Prevails In the Philippine Islands

MANILA, (AP) — The death rate in the Philippine Islands during the year 1923 was 17.5 per thousand which is the lowest ever recorded, according to a report of the Philippine Health Service. The 1923 death rate was eight per cent lower than that of 1922 and 14 per cent lower than in 1921.

"There has been a corresponding decrease in the infant mortality rate, toward which the insular government has exerted much effort."

Health officials attribute the decrease in the death rate to improved efficiency of the health organization, improved sanitation of populous centers and increased interest in health education of the masses.

Thaw Joins Church and Starts a "Social War"

Then inviting him to membership. MacFadden has left town for his vacation and the burden of settling the case has fallen on his assistants, the Rev. W. H. Woods.

"I don't always seem to tear up your flock by bringing in a disturbing element," Woods said, "but, sinners must be reached to the church."

When the millionaires put in a crisp new $20 bill in the collection plate on his first day, other sinners, not to be outdone, made large donations, many of them topping his offering.

Banker Pays a Call.

The trouble started when J. H. Russell, Union Bank president, church pillar and social leader, called on the Thaws. His visit opened the way for MacFadden and others and gave his enemies a chance to say he had allowed wealth to overcome family reverence.

Magistrate Dr. J. P. Ward has tried to bridge the gap among his townsmen. He served notice Thaw must be given a square deal, but at the same time too great familiarity must be discouraged. He believes that "the prayers of the righteous availeth much," but doesn't favor mixing them up with prayers of the unrepentant and untried.

That Kentworth may not become the scene of city folk's high life organ the Ka-Klix Klan paraded to let the community know it intended to check up.

The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, hearing that Thaw was going to stock his farm with pigs, rabbits, chickens and other domestic beasts, took alarm. Mrs. Robert Wood, R. D. 15, A. president, recalled that Thaw was accused of hitting rabbits, and so the society's members are on watch.

Miss Augusta Conrad made a visit to Kentworth and saw a cat running about without a tail. Her excitement abated when it proved to be one of a bob-tailed variety. She has promised to have Thaw arrested if animals on his place come to grief.

Becomes a Fireman.

This city of 1,000 souls which has never had even the excitement of seeing a street car nearly collapsed when directors of the Home Fire Company admitted the famous stranger. Every Virginia town prides itself on its fire companies. Says The Sarah Kane and "Friendship" newspapers are accusing the House of taking in the rich Philadelphia for the sake of his money. J. H. Dunn, engineer, says if the new member can't make the grade and become a good moneymaker, out he'll go, money or no.

But while Winchester's two parties are abuzz with gossip and the business men stand about debating the problem, Thaw himself is having no picnic.

He keeps a secretary at the George Washington hotel to act as a buffer between him and the country folk who look upon him as a booby. They come from miles
