

GIVE SUMMARY OF BUSINESS

Business Digest Reviews Conditions Existing in Several Oregon Points at Present.

The summer issue of Business Digest gives the following summary of conditions existing, according to its researchers, in various Oregon points:

(Wm. Pollock, President First National Bank, Baker)

"Business conditions, generally speaking, in Baker county are not quite as good as they were a year ago for the reason that we have had a most unduly dry season. Our crops will probably average a good 50 per cent of normal. This includes hay and grains of all kinds.

"Strange conditions have been very unsatisfactory on account of the water shortage in many places. The outlook for fall pasture is not nearly as good as we would like to see it.

"The sheep men are getting along very well, having received good prices for their lambs and wool and the lambs weighed exceedingly well considering the condition of the range.

"The cattle men have had a very hard season on account of feed conditions and the drying up of the range. Many cattle have been sold and shipped that would otherwise have been kept over, which has had a tendency to keep the prices of beef lower than they should be.

"Lumber mills are running full time but prices have been such that it is practically a break-even proposition with them.

"Merchants report that business is about an average of the summer business and expect to have the usual fall business.

"Prices for the stuff that the farmer has to sell with distribute about as much money as usual."

(A. A. Hagedorn, Cashier, The First National Bank)

"Conditions in Eugene have been exceptionally good during the past year, and our building permits for the first six months of this year show a large increase over the same period in 1923. Our merchants report a satisfactory volume of business with very few exceptions. Crops in general are much better than looked for thirty days ago. Reports are coming to us to the effect that fall wheat is showing a yield of better than 20 bushels per acre, and the yield from barley and oats is reported satisfactory. The hay crop was short, but the prices satisfactory and most of the farmers are expecting to realize from $18 to $25 per ton. The berry crops were in better condition this fall."

(W. R. Holmes, President, Walla Walla National Bank)

"Our principal farming average is irrigated and the crop of hay and grain on nearly all of this land is very good. On high mountains and Wallawa Lake storage reservoir have provided ample water for irrigation and it is not believed that there will be a shortage. The first crop of alfalfa was fair and the second promised to be good. In the hill section the drought has caused more or less damage. Some fall wheat is fair to good and some is pretty light. There is some spring grain that, on account of the recent rains, promises to make a fair crop. Some of this fall grain will make but little. Cattle and sheep so far are in good condition. The pastures are getting pretty dry but if we get our usual fall rains they should be in fair condition for winter. The mountain ranges are holding well and the irrigated lands will furnish much pasture after the crops are harvested. We note particular change in business conditions. The dairy business provides a steady income for a large percentage of our farmers. The prices of milk, which we produce a large number, is getting better. On the whole, while there will be a number of short crops, the increase in price will offset much of this and we think that many of our farmers will show more profit for their year's work than they did last year."

(H. B. Cook, Cashier, First National Bank)

"This has been one of the driest seasons which this section has ever experienced. Range conditions were exceptionally favorable during the fall of 1923, and sheep and cattle wintered exceedingly well at a comparatively small expense. The April lamb crop was one of the best that we ever had and lambs of 100 per cent wool were the rule and not the exception with the April lambs during the spring of 1924. In ordinary years an 80 per cent April lambing is considered average. We have had no rains of any consequence since February, 1924, and the ranges have dried up rapidly, and livestock men have been compelled to purchase additional range at an extra expense. Sheep sheared unusually heavy; one of our customers having a clip averaging over 12 pounds per head, and several of them averaging over 11 pounds per head. Malheur county wools sold for from 32 to 35 cents per pound, but approximately half of the Malheur county wools were not sold and were consigned; the growers obtaining advances of 20 cents per pound. February lambs fattened well and those which went to market the forepart of June brought excellent prices. Many of the April lambs have been contracted for fall delivery at 10 cents per pound, but the dry season will probably result in the April lambs weighing five or seven pounds less than they usually do in the fall. There is an abundance of dry feed in the hills, but there is an actual shortage of water for livestock. Cattle are in unusually good condition this year in view of the unsatisfactory range conditions. The Malheur valley will have plenty of water for irrigation purposes this season, due to the Warm Springs reservoir. The Warm Springs district has a surplus of water, and at the present time is selling 1000 inches of water per day to other districts. The alfalfa hay crop was better this year than for several years, due to the fact that the alfalfa weevil did not bother the alfalfa to any great extent. Corn is looking unusually good in this valley, and there is a greater acreage than for several years. Grain and potato crops are good and the outlook for better prices for our farm products is causing much better feeling among the farmers. Our merchants report their business conditions about the same as for 1923, but most of them look for better conditions this fall."

PORTLAND

Business here held up well considering the somewhat unfavorable condition of the lumber industry. Bank resources and bank deposits in Portland, June 29th, were greater than in the same period in 1923, deposits June 20th this year being $14,000,981, as against $13,739,871 in 1923. Retail business for the first six months of this year was greater than for the first six months of 1923 although during May and June there was a decline in comparison to the same two months of 1923, reflecting the dullness of lumber and logging industries where unemployment was noted. Cargo moving in and out of the Port of Portland for the first six months of 1924 exceeded that moving in the same period of 1923.

IT'S mighty poor economy to postpone painting or varnishing, whether it be the inside floors and woodwork or the outside exposed surfaces. What wear and tear are doing on the inside, rot and rust are doing on the outside - slowly pulling down the value of your property through surface neglect.

To put paint and varnish on before it is needed, and not after, is true economy. Damage is under way just as soon as the surface is broken down, which is often before you realize it.

Buy good paint - it's cheapest

Cheapest because it protects the surface better, lasts longer and goes further.

Rasmussen PURE PAINT

Paint that lasts

No paint will last forever. But good paint—the right proportions of white lead, white zinc and linseed oil, properly compounded, lasts longest and gives greatest coverage. If it's Rasmussen Pure Paint it's GOOD paint, and the least costly in the long run. We recommend and sell it.
