where you exchange the number you want for the one you get.

There was a time when men stopped to look at a stocking display in a store window.

Well, anyway, advertising by radio doesn't mar the landscape nor take up your time at the movie.

Bavarian Castle Fully Lighted

For Second Time in Its History MUNICH, (AP)—Mirror hall in the castle Herrenchiemsee recently was illuminated by its 8500 candles for the second time since the castle was built. The occasion was a gathering of Bavaria's first citizens, including members of the former royal family, invited by the government.
 The first complete illumination of mirror hall and its adjacent rooms was in 1856, ordered by Prince Regent Luitpold to honor the Shah of Persia, then visiting the Bavarian Court.

SMOKER IS BOUND OVER

EUGENE, Ore.—Charles Pen-field, charged with smoking in a prohibited area on Salt creek in the Cascade national forest, waited examination before E. O. Im-mel, United States commissioner, here and was bound over to the federal grand jury.
 A warrant has been issued for the arrest of T. G. McEllen, charged with the same offense. McEllen and another man will be cited to appear, according to Nelson P.
 Macduff, supervisor of the Cascade national forest.
 The order prohibiting smoking in this area has been in effect nearly all summer.

Tom Sims Says

This is the age of miracles, but then all ages have been that way.
 A man seldom turns over a new leaf until the old one is about worn out.

What we need is an auto that will stop and count 10 before it tries to pass another on a narrow road.

If love is blind, all the world loves a blind man.
 Everything comes to he who waits unless he does his waiting sitting.

Movies are classed as great educators, but too much talking is going on in this class.

Dollar bills just naturally seem to be afraid of collection plates.

Marry for money and you earn much more than you ever get.

Swatting flies is better exercise than cursing the government and helps things along more.

People who say nothing is impossible have never tried having a good time broke.

Some men curse the weather as if they had a perfect right to expect winter this summer.

Wish we could train moths to eat the same holes every year.

The way of the depresser is hard.

A loafer usually wishes he was doing something else.

Some people's ideas of clean movies is having the girls in bathing.

A house without fly screens doesn't need an alarm clock.

Very few are satisfied with their lot unless it is a lot of luck.

OIL MEN FROM ABROAD TO MEET IN OKLAHOMA

TELESA, Okla., (AP)—Leading oil operators of Germany, France, Rumania, Mexico, Venezuela, Chile, Uruguay and England will participate in the second annual International Petroleum exhibition, to be held here commencing October 2.
 Exposition grounds are already covered with structures resembling a miniature city. There will be 15 exhibition buildings. "Queen of Petroleum" will be chosen at the exhibition from among the winners of the various oil state beauty contests.
 All the latest type implements of the industry will be shown, including American and foreign made machinery and tools. Ex-

When the Circus Comes to Town

We may advance along lines with great rapidity, we may bid farewell to old means of transportation, to the former system of lighting, to the old styles of dress, but there is one thing we always cherish and never want to change our attitude toward—that is the circus.

It is the one institution that has stood the peck of progress without falling, for today we love the glamor on the tented lot just as much as we did when the circus traveled by teams and drove in early in the morning from a neighboring town.

Al Barnes, the old veteran showman, is here today with his aggregation and Al has a good show. He has worked a lot of features which are new, but they do not count for much. The main idea, the thing that attracts and holds one is just the circus. Features such as "Alice in Wonderland," and other spectacular things pale into mere significance when the darkey band with red jackets toots its lively toot; when the big, good natured elephants begin the "hoohey-coohey" dance; when the clowns hit it off with some old John Robinson joke; when the high school horses take the rings. And all of those features mentioned are as old as P. T. Barnum, but they constitute that great American institution called a circus and they never grow tiresome.

Give us a circus occasionally with its jazz and tumult, with its painted indies and sideshow barkers, for it drives away all other thoughts and one can sit high in the crowd, munch peanuts and be supremely happy.

Stop Look Listen

Thousands of lives are sacrificed, billions of dollars in property is lost and untold suffering is caused annually by carelessness and negligence. In spite of "safety first," "cross crossings cautiously," "watch your step," "stop, look and listen" and traffic signs and campaigns the toll increases year after year.

To be careless seems to be instinctive and to be careful is manifestly unnatural for mankind. Sometimes it is thoughtlessness or absentmindedness, but more often it is pure carelessness. Too often man learns after it is too late. It is another case where the sin is not in the sinning but in being caught. Perhaps it is because man is a natural-born gambler that he continues to "take a chance."

Some of the more "popular" chances people take during the course of a day are stepping off the curb without first looking for traffic, crossing the street in the middle of the block or behind street cars, speeding across highway intersections, throwing matches and cigarets into waste baskets, corners and leaves, driving over grade crossings without stopping to look and listen and leaving ignition keys in parked automobiles and house doors unlocked.

Another less serious demonstration of the human trait of carelessness is that of littering the streets, parks and other public property with debris. Even where waste receptacles are supplied persons habitually drop their cast-off papers and other odds and ends upon the sidewalks, pavements, parkways and greens. The public spends millions annually for public buildings for the public to mutilate. The taxpayer forgets that he pays for his own vandalism and carelessness.

Legislation has proven itself quack medicine for the epidemic carelessness and education thus far has wrought relatively few cures among the army of the chance-takers and thoughtless.

An ocean steamer bartender says American passengers avoid the hard stuff. Can it be that they are weaned away from it?

Suggestion that building of more houses will result in reducing rents appears to overlook the present cost of building.

Police say that bathing suits worn at the beaches are modest. "Free from excess" is one definition of modest.
 May be that's it.
