Cooling Off in City Cooler—
 A man, blessed with the name of Burns, is cooling off in the city cooler today from the effects of canned heat never meant to be taken internally but disposed of that way, nevertheless. Canned heat, or "Sterno," whichever one wishes to call it, cannot him good and plenty and Chief Haynes predicts he will not recover fully for a few days yet. Four cans of the stuff were confiscated when Burns was arrested.

La Grande People Mentioned—
 In the current issue of the Union Pacific Magazine La Grande entered into its columns by photograph and the printed word. In a full page feature a local man and two youngsters, Billy Whallon, James H. Sullivan and Jeana MacSullivan, were featured and in another section, A. W. Perley, was given a "write-up." The article on Mr. Perley, embellished with a photograph of the personage whom La Grande people know and like so well, follows: "A. W. Perley, fuel manager at Portland, has been elected a member of the executive committee of the International Railway Fuel association. Mr. Perley began his railroad career on the Intercolonial Railway in Monrovia, New Brunswick, in 1878. Later he became roundhouse foreman and division master mechanic of the Canadian Pacific. He ran an engine on the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company and served as road foreman of engines for nearly 24 years. Later he served five years as inspector for the Railroad Commission of Washington. After resigning from that position he became special representative of the mechanical department and later fuel supervisor."
 The rich may visit the jail at times, but only the poor can be classed as guests.
 In a village, however, a young Romeo can be "perfectly darling" on $15 the week.

Cool to Vote on Road Bonds

MAIRSHFIELD, Ore.—Cool county electors go to the polls to vote on the good roads bond issue, in which $250,000 is being asked of the county to match state money which is being expended this summer. It is particularly certain that the bonds will be approved by the voters, as all public bodies have endorsed it and the obligation is overdue.
 At a recent conference of the potato growers and buyers with the state market agent, this actual transaction was reported as illustrating the value of standard grades. Two barrels of potatoes were packed and shipped to the same buyer. Both were graded under the U. S. standards but in one was added a peck of smaller potatoes. The barrel having all standard potatoes brought a better price, although the other had the same quantity of No. 1 stock and a peck of smaller stuff added.

No man can enjoy a grouse if company is present so that he must call his wife "dear."

PREPARING FOR SCHOOL TERM BEAUTIFUL NEW HOME OCCUPIED

COVE, (Special)—Preparations are under way for the opening of school. The work has been in operation for several days getting ready, the janitors are busy putting a few last touches to the already well cleaned school buildings and hall, but not least, the small boys are making the most of the few days remaining of the summer vacation.

New Tennis Star Was Winner Over Frenchman

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (By the Associated Press)—Another young American tennis star arose to heroic heights of international triumph Thursday when John Hennessey of Indianapolis accomplished the downfall of Jean Borotra, champion of Europe and captain of the French Davis forces, in a spectacular battle featuring the third day of the international singles championship play.
 Hennessey eliminated his famous opponent, winner of this year's Wimbledon championship, in decisive fashion. The 19-year-old American played a dashing, aggressive game and conquered the Frenchman in four sets, 8-6, 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.
 Hennessey's brilliant victory, scored in the third round of the tournament, was the climax of another day of setbacks for foreign forces. At the end of the day's play, nine American and four foreign stars remained in the running for the title held by William T. Tilden of Philadelphia. Of these 12 three had reached the fifth round, the bracket before the semifinals while the others were in the fourth round.
 Tilden, who advanced to the fourth round by overwhelming Landon Williams of Chicago, former intercollegiate champion, with the loss of only three games, headed the ranks of surviving Americans, which also included William M. (Little Bill) Johnston, Tilden's Davis cup partner, and Vincent Richards, young Olympic champion.

From the Blue-Grass Region

There certainly is a lot of beauty in the Kentucky blue grass country. And here is a sample of it. Meet Kathleen McElroy, who will be "Miss Paducah" in the Atlantic City Pigeon National Beauty Tournament, opening Sept. 2.

one knows just exactly what he is to do. The seven or eight darters who drive the stakes for the tent have their sledge strokes marvelously synchronized and the heavy iron stakes go into the ground as if pushed down by continuous pressure.
 All the while the tents go up under the labors of the work gangs the "talent" or perhaps "artists" arrive from the cars in order to get ready for the day's performance.

Cupid Involved.
 An interesting angle to "circus day" is furnished at the county clerk's office. Kenneth McCorkin, county clerk said this morning that circus day always is responsible for the issuance of several marriage licenses.

It seems that folks outside the city come to town in order to see the "circus" and combine "business with pleasure" by getting married while here.
 "Every year the A. G. Barnes circus grows larger and more gorgeous," stated Mr. Roswell, of the circus, to a reporter this morning, continuing: "And this year it is larger than ever with hundreds more animals and birds, including more gorgeous trappings and many more ladies' wagons and forgetting the most sensational circus of the age, 'Peachontas at the Court of Queen Anne,' the great American historical extravaganza that opens the big program at each performance."

In this gorgeous pageant is entered the adventures of Captain John Smith, the intrepid English explorer, his rescue from death by the Indian princess, Peachontas, after he had been sentenced to die by her father, the subsequent marriage of Peachontas to John Rolfe and her presentation later to the English queen amid surround-ings of splendor.

FARMERS NOT SELLING GRAIN

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—Practically no wheat has been sold or contracted in this section of the county. Many farmers are of the opinion that a considerable shortage of wheat will be evident when threshing operations are completed and that the shortage will be a factor in bringing the price up to a higher level later in the season.

FARM OUTLOOK IS OPTIMISTIC

"This year," the review said, "weather conditions have cut the prospective crop considerably under 1923 production, and should there be an early frost, a serious shortage of corn will result. A short corn crop means high corn prices and manure as approximately 85 per cent of the corn crop is fed to livestock, mainly to hogs, high cost of hog production will result."
 "The swine industry is said to be well along in its periodic liquidation, with prices beginning to rise and any further liquidation of breeding stock because of expense.

It is expected to send hog prices to materially higher points during the coming year.
 "Cotton looks like the biggest crop, with the biggest income in five years. Potatoes and fruit are reported on the 'way to good crops, and apparently fairly good prices. There is plenty of hay, and oats are turning out a splendid yield practically everywhere. Land is now being fitted for sowing of fall wheat with some sentiment reported in favor of a larger acreage than last year."
