YOKEL WINNER OF FIRST TILT

PENDLETON, Ore. (Special to the Observer)—Ira Dern, of Salt Lake City, won the second match of the light-heavyweight wrestling tournament here yesterday afternoon when he threw Ralph Hand of Cottage Grove, two falls out of three. Dern will meet Yokel today to determine which man will meet Ted Tully, champion, tomorrow morning in the final match.

PENDLETON, Ore. (Special to the Observer)—Mike Yokel, Wyoming sheriff, and the veteran of hundreds of mat engagements proved conclusively that he is still one of the best matmen in the game today in his match with Ray Carroll of Pendleton, the first go of the world championship wrestling tournament. Mike captured two falls of the match while the local boy annexed the second tumble. Yokel came through with the first in 22 minutes using a reverse body hold. Carroll dropped Mike for the second with his famous pivot toe hold and body scissors in five minutes and 50 seconds. Then came strategy and the end of the match. Carroll had Yokel in a head lock with a reverse toe hold that looked like a sure fall when the two men worked off the mat. Yokel came back imp-ing and fell in the center of the canvas apparently badly hurt and nearly out but as Carroll went toward him he suddenly sprang into action and threw the sturdy bulldogger in less time than it takes to tell it with a forward leg split and a body pin. The time for the full entire was nine minutes and 25 seconds.

England's Roof of Lead Occasionally Need Repair

LONDON, (AP)—The leaden roofs of some of England's old churches, a heritage from medieval times, occasionally have to be patched down, rolled over and then replaced. The lead itself is indistinguishable, but it has been found that at the end of every 200 years the metal should be reset to give the best results as a roofing material. The lead on the famous dome of St. Paul's, however, has not been moved down since it was placed in position in 1719.

TUNNEY, GREB FIGHT A DRAW

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Cleveland, Ohio, (AP)—Gene Tunney, American light-heavyweight champion, and Harry Greb, world's middle weight champion, fought 10 rounds on fairly even terms here Wednesday night, according to a majority of the newspaper experts at the ring-side.

Greb started out to carry the fight to Tunney, but was wild with fight and left swings for head, missing frequently. Tunney countered his attack on Greb's body. Tunney had a clear advantage in the second. He waited for Greb to come in and punched him around the body with jolting right and left hooks.

Greb threw punches from every angle in the third, forcing Tunney to the ropes a couple of times to escape. The middle weight champion won the round by his aggressiveness.

Tunney took some of the speed out of Greb in the fourth, winning the round by a heavy body assault. Tunney forced the Pittsburgher to break ground after he received a savage right under the heart.

Greb was the aggressor in the fifth. He reached Tunney with sweeping rights and lefts to the head, while Tunney continued his body attack at close range.

Tunney had the shade in the sixth, which was tame. He continued to pound Greb's body in the clinches and caused Harry to miss frequently with right and left swings to the head.

The seventh was fairly even and was filled with lively exchanges. They set such a furious pace that neither heard the bell and continued to exchange punches until the referee separated them. Tunney's punches were more accurate, many of Greb's swings going around Greb's head and shoulders.

Greb opened up the eighth with a wild fury and almost fell over the top rope when he missed a wild swing. Tunney carried the fight to him, winning the round as the result of effective body punches. Gene complained to the referee that Greb was guilty of hitting him with his head.

Greb reached Tunney with rights to the body and long lefts to the head in the ninth, whipping over a solid right to the chin as the bell sounded.

Greb flew into Tunney at the start of the tenth, searing offensively, but Gene drove him to the ropes later and evaded it up. They exchanged punches in the center of the ring on even terms, Tunney driving both fists to the body whenever they tangled up.

COACH WIELDS AN 'IRON HAND'

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore. (Special)—Rigorous discipline and emphasis on fundamentals were in evidence from the start of football practice when 35 Aggie athletes reported to Coach Paul J. Behrmer Monday morning for the first workout of the season.

The men were out on field bright and early, eager to start work under their new master. A brief lecture on fundamentals of the forward pass, which promises to be much in evidence in Aggie play this year, was followed by the stiffest kind of "mound drill" under the personal direction of the six assistants now on the coaching staff.

With a short time remains in which to prepare a team to meet Whitman October 2 at Pendleton that scheduled has pressed into service H. H. "Hob" Hager, basketball coach and Ralph Coleman, baseball coach, for the beginning of the season at least. These with H. H. Turner and C. W. King, freshman coaches, and C. W. Hubbard and R. S. Keene, assistant varsity coaches, are out in uniform to help direct the training.

Varsity letter men who reported the first day were Ray Price, quarter, Dick Garber, "Bully" Boykin, Ray McCann, and Clarence "Bull" Halvey; Erik Tello, end; "Moss" Laman, guard; "Cub" Johnson and Dean "Stiek-twit," last year's freshman tackle. In addition a host of last year's freshman players, including Wes Schulmerick, former Columbia university star fullback, were on the job.

PENDLETON, Ore. (Special)—The O. A. C. cadet band under the direction of Captain Harry L. Beard will be in Pendleton for the O. A. C. Whitman football game October 2. Following the game the band members of the O. A. C. team and coaching staff will be guests at a reunion dinner given by the Eastern Oregon alumni and former students at the college. After the dinner the band will furnish music for a big college dance at Happy Canyon pavilion for the Whitman and O. A. C. rooters. Much interest centers in the O. A. C. Whitman game, from the fact that Whitman will have an unusually strong team this year and the battle Oct. 2 will be the first by the O. A. C. team under the guidance of Paul J. Behrmer, new coach.

FEW VETERANS AT UNIVERSITY

EUGENE, Ore. (Special)—Thirty men turned out for the first football practice of the 1924 season at the university this afternoon. Coaches Maddock and Spellman were not very well pleased with the showing made by the veteran lettermen of last year, in only two of them, Maitz, end, and Tolson, halfback, reported for the first workout, which consisted of light exercises, passing and kicking, to get the athletes' muscles hardened for the strenuous training period later on.

More veterans are expected before the week is over. Oregon plays the Whitman university team at Salem, September 27, just 12 days after the opening of the pre-season workout.

U. of O. Shed Heavy. The Oregon schedule is already one this year, starting with Willamette and ending with the contest with the Multnomah club of Portland, November 27. Sandwiched in between are games with Pacific university, Stanford, Dillman, Washington, Idaho, Washington State college and Oregon Agricultural college.

Graduation Crippling

Couch Maddock will have to rebuild a team badly crippled by graduation and failure to return to school. The line has a number of veterans whereas the backfield has but two and it is around these that the new Oregon mentor will have to build a scoring machine. The freshman material of a year ago was excellent and it is this that Maddock is depending upon to fill the gap in the varsity ranks. Oregon will be without the services of a first class kicker to fill that vacancy left by Latham and Chapman, who have played their last for the varsity. A quarterback is also in demand for the place of Chapman, who was named on the all-coast by several cities last fall.

YANKEES AGAIN TIE SENATORS

NEW YORK (AP)—While rain kept all National League clubs idle Wednesday, the Yankees again went into the field for first place in the American with Washington by taking two games from St. Louis while the Senators won two from Cleveland. Detroit lost to Philadelphia and in six games behind.

Odds are even in the battle down the stretch between the two leaders in the American. Each has 11 contests to play, all away from home.

The Giants continue to lead the league by one and one-half games and Pittsburgh by two and one-half. Double headers will be played by the three contesting teams Thursday but Pittsburgh, whose postponed battle with Philadelphia Wednesday cannot be played off, lost the opportunity to pick up a half game on its rivals.
